

A FORCIBLE DEMONSTRATION

of our Triumphant Superiority of Style and Worth.

At our grand opening we proved again beyond the shadow of a doubt the superiority of Boston Store's styles and if you will remember we fully demonstrated by our grand showing of the largest and most complete assortment of exquisite and exclusive individual garments and rare rich novelties, that WE are Omaha's only representative cloak and suit headquarters and depot for all kinds of women's ready-to-wear garments

Today all the beautiful costumes, wraps, cloaks, suits and capes for walking, coaching, driving, street and evening wear, exhibited at the opening, will be placed on sale at prices never before attempted and seldom to be repeated. Remember these garments cannot be duplicated, not one can be reproduced for double the price at which you now may purchase them. This is the opportunity you long have waited for, to purchase a stunning garment at one-half its value.

It has become a by-word that Boston Store is Omaha's first and only fashion headquarters.

We are ever alive to the fact that we practically control the high priced man tailored suit trade of Omaha, but we are thoroughly awake to your better interests, and therefore permit a passing remark as to the medium priced garments, this is our strongest point and brands of garments are to be met with the world over.

POPOCRAT FAKE FALLS FLAT

Futile Attempt of the Fusion Organ to Give Currency to Falsehood.

IMAGINARY "OVERTHROW OF THE BOSSES"

The cruelest campaign attempt yet perpetrated by the local fusion organ, arising partly from ignorance, but inspired mostly by the dishonest political motives of those who run it, was the half-column account printed yesterday concerning a so-called "overthrow of the bosses."

The idea of a chairman of the republican state executive committee calling a meeting in the interests of bolters and actually taking a hand in working up a movement against the ticket was too absurd even to cause the momentary sensation hoped for by those who fathered it. So far from being the organization of a club to "offer inducements to vote for anti-Republican republicanism," the invitations sent out by Captain H. E. Palmer, chairman of the state executive committee, was of which was sent to The Bee, read as follows:

"You are invited to attend a republican conference to be held at the Millard hotel Thursday evening, October 5, to confer with Captain H. E. Palmer, chairman of the republican executive committee."

The real and only object of the meeting was to plan the organization of republican campaign clubs and further the interests of the republican nominees in the city of Omaha. Organization was effected an address was made on the subject of campaign work, as a matter of course, but the idea that there was any attempt to "throw over" anybody or to work in any particular out of sympathy with the ticket and the regular party organization was a mushroom growth of the fake organ's unhealthy hot-house. The chairman of the executive committee, the chairman of the county executive committee and the chairman of the judicial committee, who were all present and participating, do not make up a list of bolters.

The list which the same fake organ tries to give its candidate for sheriff is another campaign measure that needs but little analysis to prove it a combination of falsehoods and half-truths put together in a misleading way. After a number of interviews in which fusionists simply puff their candidate, is printed the leading "Republicans for Him" under which caption are given interviews with men who never were and never will be republicans, and who could not be expected to do anything else but endorse their party nominee. The entire South Omaha representation in these interviews is composed of democrats. Men like Dr. A. Hugh Hippie, a former president of the Jacksonian club, are lugged into the republican column by the ears, where they are as much out of place as a stray bit of truth would be in the columns of the Fakey. Frank Burkley, democratic councilman, is one of the "republicans for him," so are Ed Cassidy, T. J. Mahoney, W. S. Shoemaker, Henry W. Yates and James E. Boyd, all simoo-pure democrats. The article tries to create the impression that such men as Lee Heisley, deputy under the fusion county attorney, James P. Connolly, democratic county commissioner, and Dr. Mercer, a free silver republican, are among the "republicans for him."

As to those real republicans who express an opinion on Power, only a mere handful, and those mostly classified as soreheads, really endorse him as a candidate. The others, at best, say they know nothing against him, so that in effect he is "damned with faint praise." One well known republican, for instance, says:

"Yes, he is all right in his business. I do not know what kind of a sheriff he would make, but think he is pretty hot-headed."

Yet such a qualified endorsement is placed by the senseless author of the article beneath the statement "Republicans for Him," and in the headlines it is stated that "all declare he would make a capable and popular sheriff for Douglas." Hereafter when a self-respecting citizen is asked for an interview for the fusion organ he will be inclined to ask first what misconstruction the writer intends to put upon it.

E. J. Cornish and N. C. Pratt will address the republicans of the sixth ward this evening at Idlewild hall, Twenty-fourth and Grant streets. A number of good meetings are being arranged in the different wards for next week, at which the candidates in the city campaign will probably address their voices to those of the others.

The county democracy has come to the rescue in the Langdon-Burnam mix-up and the result promises to be that both of the contestants for the place on the ticket will be out in the cold. At its last meeting the club adopted resolutions urging the central committee to place the name of J. W. Carr in the vacancy. They base their request on the supposition that there is a vacancy, and lunched. After this a committee of Omaha women will take the female contingent of the party in charge and will show them everything worth seeing. They will make their headquarters at the Public Comfort building on the bluff tract, where during the afternoon a reception will be held. On the grounds everything will be wide open to the visitors. For their amusement there will be an Indian battle, aquatic sports on the lagoon and half a dozen other extra features.

Passes to the grounds will be furnished, so that the visitors may come down town and then pass through the gates without being compelled to pay their fare. There will be a program at the Auditorium, but as yet it is not complete.

Ranchman Boxes a Boy's Ears. John Budd, a ranchman who has been camping at the Arcade hotel, was arrested Thursday night on the charge of assaulting a boy named Abe Waxenberg. When the case was called in police court the judge dismissed it at young Waxenberg's request. Waxenberg's story of the assault was that Budd, having been annoyed by a crowd of boys, of which he was one, strove to pay him a quarter to chase the offenders away. The lad undertook the task and effected a compromise with the other boys by promising a "divvy." When Waxenberg tried to collect the quarter Budd refused to pay, so the gang was mustered out again and pestered Budd till he lost his temper and cuffed young Waxenberg's ears.

The "Flow Boy Preacher." Rev. J. Kirkman, Belle Reve, Ill., says, "After suffering from bronchial or lung trouble for ten years, I was cured by One Minute Cough Cure. It is all that is claimed for it and more." It cures coughs, colds, grippe and all throat and lung troubles.

Sentenced for Thumping a Rival. William Meyers, proprietor of the Klondike hotel barber shop, has been sentenced to thirty days in the county jail for having assaulted Sidney Anderson. Judge Gordon suspended the sentence pending Meyers' good behavior, warning him not to molest Anderson again. The two men, it is said, are in love with the same woman, and they came to blows nearly every time they meet. Last winter Meyers was arrested for sealing a fire escape, unexpectedly getting a stop to a conversation between Anderson and the woman by his own assault and beating his rival with a chair. The incident took place in front of the barber shop. Meyers attacked Anderson, who defended himself with a switch, switched from a grapple passing Anderson's sidewalk. Judge Gordon decided Meyers was the offender, but thought the offense not serious enough to warrant a severe sentence.

It gives universal satisfaction. Dent's Toothache Gum. All drugstores. 25 cents.
