Royal Proclamation Summoning Parliament to Meet October 17.

AUTHORIZES CALLING OUT RESERVES

British and Boers Are So Close Together Along the Western Frontier that Their Patrols Meet Nightly.

LONDON, Oct. 7 .- A royal proclamation Summoning Parliament to meet on October 17 and authorizing the calling out of the reserves was signed this morning. Her majesty, in privy council at Balmoral, assented to the calling of Parliament, mobilization of the reserves and the continuance in the discharge or transfer to the reserve.

The War office announces that, under the proclamation calling out the reserves, 25,000 men will be summoned.

It is rumored at Portsmouth that the admirafty will organize a flying squadron for the Cape.

The field force for service in South Africa, the war office announces, will commence mobilizing next Monday.

The Gazette announces that summons will be issued today for the number of reserves necessary to bring every battalian ordered to South Africa to its full strength of 1,000 men and the men must present themselves before October 17. This forward movement here is fully counterbalanced by stories of military preparations in the Transvaal and the Orange Free State.

So far as the facts go the commencement of actual hostilities between Great Britain and the Transvaal seems no nearer, although it must be admitted that a new element of danger has arisen in the exasperation caused throughout the British colonies in South Africa by the stories of brutal treatment of refugees by the Boers. Whether those reports are correct or not the reports of outages upon women and childen are having their effect and are being accepted in many quarters hitherto incredulous as confirming the anticipations of the savagery that will mark the progress of the war.

Boers are Restless.

The dispatches from the front are mostly concerned with the movements of troops. There are several reports that the Boers are increasingly restless under restraint and because of the imperfect provision made for their welfare. It is said that they have threatened either to raid or to return to their homes. President Kruger, however, appears to have reiterated his orders commanding the exercise of restraint. The British and Boers are so close together along the western frontier that their patrols meet nightly.

From Capetown comes the curious state ment that many officials of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State have sent their families into British territory for protection. W. F. Reitz, the Transvaal secretary of state, has sent his family to Natal and the family of Pesident Steyn of Orange

Board of Education Will Be Asked to Abandon Upper Floor of High School Building.

That the pupils who study and recite in the rooms on the top floor of the High school building run a daily risk of life and limb is the conclusion of the joint committee of the Board of Education, the chief of the fire department, the city building inspector and other citizens appointed to investigate the matter. The committee made a careful examination of the entire High school building and deliberately discussed the matter As a result it has adopted resolutions strongly recommending to the board that is discontinue the use of the upper rooms and take several other precautions against loss of life through fire, every one of which is considered absolutely necessary.

The committee was composed of Members Burgess, Moore, Cowie Hess and Black, Fire Chief Redell, Building Inspector Butler and the following citizens: C. C. Belden, Dr. Spalding, O. A. Jobst and Lewis S. Reed. The editors of the papers had also been asked to join them. After going over the building carefully they met yesterday afternoon to formulate a report to the board.

G. M. Hitchcock had prepared a report which he submitted to the committee. It recommended the abandonment of the upper floors, several measures against fire in the schools. In addition, it contemplated the appearance of many of the sufferers is said committee did not want to take up a matter outside its pprovince and already a sub-The exodus of Cape Dutchmen toward the Transvasi continues. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The last test match between Prince Ranjitshhji's English cricketers and the Gentlemen of Philadelphia began today on the Germantown Cricket club grounds at Manheim, a suburb of this city. The wicket was good for the batters, being softened by yesterday's rain, and when stumps were drawn for the day the Englishmen had made 22 runs for a loss of six wickets. The fielding of the Americans was for the most part brilliant and the runs came slow. Of the five bowlers used by the Philadelphias King was the most effective. But one run was made during his first six overs for one wicket. Stoddart and Ranjitshhii did the best batting, the former's total being 74 and the prince's 68. Stoddard Outbats the Prince.
