

DOINGS OF THE POLITICIANS

Fusionists Still Weighted Down with Tw Nominations for County Judge.

CERTIFICATES NOW ON FILE FOR BOTH

Strange Complication Not Covered by the Election Law Record of a Fusion Candidate for Assessor—Political Drift.

Just as stated in The Bee for several days past and contrary to the assertions of the professional harmonizers of the fusion committees that all difficulties connected with the county judgeship nomination had been settled satisfactorily, two certificates have been filed with the county clerk for that office. Both are from the populist party, the one bearing Langdon's name being from the convention, and the other, certifying to Carr's nomination, being from the committee. The former is accompanied by a sworn statement from Chairman Yeager setting forth the facts as to the resolution adopted by the conventions to the effect that no nomination should be considered binding until ratified by two of the conventions.

An examination of the returns made by Thomas Harrington, democratic assessor of the Third ward and candidate for re-election on the fusion ticket, sheds a little helpful light on the reasons why he wants his office for another term, and why some people are willing he should have it. A peculiar habit of dropping a cipher or a figure of the valuation of certain pieces of property is a distinguishing feature of his labors as an official. Two cases in point are those of the Hillman property, consisting of the east two-thirds of lot 1, block 137, and the personal property of the Altman-Taylor company. The former was returned by Harrington at $1,200, whereas it was valued by Harrington's predecessor at $12,000, something like an equitable assessment. The Altman-Taylor property was valued at $1,000 at the last assessment, but at $11,000 the year before. This habit of dropping out figures may be the result of absent-mindedness, as the assessor's friends will doubtless insist, but it can scarcely be urged as a qualification for the office the candidate is seeking.

The absolute falsehood printed by the local fusion organ regarding the reception of F. B. Bryant at the republican meeting at the Millard Thursday night might be considered an affront to him were it not so thoroughly in keeping with the methods of the fakery as to be meaningless. Mr. Bryant was called for early in the evening and the call was repeated several times. He was one of the hall, the mention of his name being greeted with handclapping. Mr. Bryant, not being a man who gives much time or attention to public speaking, excused himself from making a speech.

The strength of the republican candidate for treasurer is recognized and admitted by his opponents and was before the fusion nominations were made. At the silver republican county convention, when a handful of the misguided were trying to decide what office they should ask for, one mentioned the treasurership.

"No," was the reply, "we don't want that, because we can't help but want Bryant. He's been there in the treasurer's office so long that every taxpayer in Douglas county knows him and likes him and has confidence in him. And it's the same way with the business men in town. Bryant wouldn't have a bit of trouble getting a personal bond if he wanted to give one when he's elected. No, we want to ask for something else."

And so they asked for county judge and nominated Burnam for that. And now that Langdon and Carr are struggling for that place on the ticket they have nothing.

GERMAN REPUBLICAN CLUB

It Elects Officers for the Coming Year and Meets Out Its Work for the Campaign.

At the meeting of the German Republican club of Douglas county at Germania hall the following officers were elected for the coming year: George Heiser, president; Dr. H. G. Wieser, vice president; Otto Kinder, secretary; Henry Rhode, treasurer; August Specht, assistant secretary. The following executive committee was appointed, which has charge of the rallies of the club during the campaign: George Anthes, chairman; Charles W. Haller, Peter Schwenk. Speeches were made advocating a vigorous campaign in the interest of republican principles and in order to accomplish this two large meetings to be held under the auspices of this club during this campaign, were planned. The first meeting will be held at Millard, Sunday, October 29, at which time the entire club and his friends will invade the town of Millard for the purpose of propounding republican doctrine. Special efforts will be made to make this one of the notable meetings during this campaign and the farmers of Millard and surrounding pre-

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR PARTY

Interesting Meeting of the Union Veteran Republican Club in the Continental Block.

The Union Veteran Republican club met Friday night in the continental block. The attendance was fairly good and the old comrades made some enthusiastic speeches. Captain H. E. Palmer talked at length on the issues of the present campaign and touched in a highly intelligent and somewhat vigorous manner upon national problems. He upheld the policy of the McKinley administration and produced convincing argument to show that the Philippine policy was not unjust.

Other good speeches along the same line were made by Jonathan Edwards, Thomas Leslie and others and several of the veterans related interesting war experiences.

GOOD NEWS FROM UP NORTH

Hon. Lane K. Alder Says Republican Success is Assured in Fifteenth Judicial District.

Hon. Lane K. Alder, republican candidate for one of the judgeships in the Fifteenth judicial district, is in the city from Alnsworth, accompanied by Mrs. Alder. Judge Alder came to Omaha to short a report, preparatory to entering actively in the campaign for now on until election. He declares the political situation in his part of the state to be the most satisfactory and says there is every reason to confidently expect republican success. The Fifteenth judicial district is by far the largest in the state and within its borders the many cattlemen and farmers, who largely constitute the population, have enjoyed an unparalleled degree of prosperity during the past year and more. They intend to assert their satisfaction with present conditions by voting a straight republican ticket, and the biggest vote ever given the ticket in that district is anticipated. Judge Alder is an old resident in northern Nebraska and has been eminently successful in his profession. He is a candidate for the judicial position which will be vacated by Judge M. P. Klinkaid, after an incumbency of more than a decade. His opponent is a young populist who is known outside his own town at O'Neill only as "Mike Harrington's brother."

CITY COMMITTEE ORGANIZES

Republicans Select John C. Wharton for Chairman and W. B. Whitehorn for Secretary.

The republican city central committee met Friday afternoon at 220 South Seventh street and organized by electing John C. Wharton chairman and W. B. Whitehorn secretary. There was but one nomination for chairman and the election was made unanimous by acclamation. The committee adjourned until Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at which time the executive committee will be appointed and such other business transacted as may come up. Speaking of the city campaign after he had been notified of the action of the committee, Chairman Wharton said: "The city central committee has taken its time about organizing and beginning active work for there is really not a great deal to do. Except among the strong partisans of the fusion parties it is already well understood that the republican city ticket is by far the best before the people and one of the best that has ever been nominated in Omaha. In the little time remaining before election there will be a short, sharp and effective fight for our candidates, which will simply make their election doubly sure."

Facts or Fiction.

Experiences of Omaha Citizens Are Easily Proven to be Facts—Out-Side Testimony is Apt to Flavor of Romance.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Omaha is true. Read it and compare evidence from Omaha along with testimony from outside places, published side by side with this in the columns of this paper. Investigate still further, and you will be surprised at the number of people in Omaha who re-echo what this citizen says: Mr. E. G. Glenn, school teacher of 624 North 20th street, says: "I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Kuhn & Co.'s drug store, corner of 15th and Douglas streets, for my wife. She suffered terribly from attacks of kidney complaint for years. At the time her back was aching severely, and although she used many preparations and to be sure cured for kidney complaint, the benefits received from Doan's Kidney Pills were so pronounced that we have no hesitation in endorsing the representations made for them. JUDGE NEVILLE'S POSITION

Charles E. Winter Shows that He Has Changed His Mind on the Colonial Proposition.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—To the Editor of The Bee: Under the heading, "Where Judge Neville Stands," the World-Herald printed today a letter signed by William Neville, fusion candidate for congress in the Sixth district. Judge Neville states in this letter, "I am opposed to a colonial or imperial policy. I had the honor to address the people of Gibson, Neb., on the Fourth of July, 1899, from the same platform with Judge Neville. In his address he asserted that, though opposed to militarism, he was in favor of supporting the administration in its purpose to suppress the insurrection in the Philippines. After the exercises were finished, during a general discussion upon the colonial policy, which was participated in by a number of gentlemen, Judge Neville stated that he thought it was wise to make Porto Rico and that he believed in time Cuba would be annexed to the United States. One of his own party supporters took issue with him upon the position I stepped back, remarking that it was not necessary for me to continue the discussion on the side of the administration as my common political opponents seemed to be

WORKMEN TO HAVE A DAY

Members of Popular Order Will Reign at Exposition Today—Other Special Attractions.

"A. O. U. W." "Degree of Honor." "Mills County" will be the subject of the 4th day of last July are certainly not in harmony with his published statement of principles above referred to. The public may judge. Was he "opposed to the colonial policy" July 4, 1899? Will he change his mind? CHARLES E. WINTER.

There was but a small attendance at the Exposition Friday. The visitors were chiefly Modern Woodmen who had remained over to see the sights. The usual attractions were given with the ordinary successful results.

Four special events are booked for today, made possible by the attendance of the Ancient Order of United Workmen Degree of Honor members and the delegations from Mills county and St. Joseph. A big crowd of visitors is anticipated. The program assures a feast of musical and otherwise, for those who attend. The feast will be cared for by special committees appointed for the purpose. The meeting of the board of directors which was due Friday failed to materialize and another one was decided upon for next Tuesday, at which time a quorum is expected. The board of directors has a few surprises in store for the people. Several special days will be arranged for in the near future.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Hon. Guy C. Barton has returned from the east. Mrs. Charles Squires has returned from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haskell have returned from a two-weeks vacation, which was spent in Michigan and Wisconsin. United States Attorney Morrow arrived in the city yesterday from the east and will spend a few days here visiting his brother. Dr. Alexander Glehrst, late pastor of Central church, is in the city today. His headquarters are in the columns of his paper. He has been attending a meeting at College Springs, Ia. He hopes to meet quite a number of his old friends at a missionary meeting to be held at the home of A. G. Charlton this evening.

SIGNIFICANCE OF NAME JEW

Rabbi Simon at Temple Israel Discourses on the Name by Which Jews Shall Be Known.

Rabbi A. Simon preached an entertaining sermon in Temple Israel Friday evening, taking as his subject, "The Name by Which Jews Shall Be Known." In his introductory remarks it was stated that the theme was suggested at a recent meeting held to discuss the hospital project. The question that perplexed those interested in the undertaking was a suitable name for the institution. There was a division of opinion, the rabbi said, some favoring the name Hebrew, some preferring Israelite and others advocating the old name Jew. Finally one arose, addressing to the presiding officer an inquiry, "What are we anyhow—Hebrews, Israelites or Jews?" Rabbi Simon said he desired to answer that question, telling why he believed as he did. He said he supposed that when people wished to favor the Jews and use an euphemistic term they choose the word Hebrew.

When they spoke frankly or pointedly, they used the name Jew, and most of the Jews, he said, seem to make just this same distinction, preferring to be called Hebrews. Since the confusion arises in the minds of Jews and Christians alike, Rabbi Simon thought it fitting to consider the question and determine which is the most significant name. Beginning with the name Hebrew, Rabbi Simon gave its derivation and original meaning, explaining that it first signified a language and afterwards came to be applied to those who spoke the language. Its significance was then racial, the rabbi affirmed, and is unsuited for the people of the present day. The children of Jacob were known as the Israelites. In the years following the name was used descriptive of those under the leadership of Moses. It signified nationality, and the Jews of the present day, having neither laws nor government nor common abode, are without a nation. The rabbi then told how the tribe of Judah, which originally dwelt in one of the geographical divisions of Solomon's kingdom, survived the other eleven tribes and bequeathed its teachings to succeeding generations. The race and nation were destroyed, Rabbi Simon said, but the religious doctrines and the social customs have endured through all time. The name Jew signified religion. It is applied to a large racial society whose roots stretch far into the distant past and overpreads all nationalities and races. Because the Jews are without race and nationality, but united by the bonds of a common religion, the name Jew, Rabbi Simon said, best suited them.
