Elaborate Floral Offerings and Sincere Expressions of Sorrow.

NOTABLE PROCESSION TO THE DEPOT

Remains Shipped Last Night to the Former Home of the wead Chieftain-Touching Tributes from Home and Abroad.

The remains of Martin White, Omaha's dead police chief, were shipped to Chicago last night over the Milwaukee railroad. The train left the Union depot at 7:30 o'clock. Solemnity marked the footsteps of the procession that marched to the depot from the undertaking rooms of P. C. Heafey, in which the body was viewed as it lny encased in the handsome coffin during the afternoon by hundreds of sorrowing admirers of the man. Short religious services were held over the bler shortly before 5 o'clock by Father Stenson. Although no notice had been given of the funeral arrangements a large number of representative citizens and officials were in mourn their deceased associate included; Mayor Moores, Councilmen Burmester, Karr, Mount and Stuht, City Clerk Highy, Inspector McVittle, Police Judge Gordon, The police commissioners present were Comtastefully decorated in black and white, accompanied the cortege to the station.

From the undertaking rooms to the depoa body of Omaha police, joined by Chief Omaha, marched as an honorary escort. Those who accompanied the remains to Chicago were: Mayor Moores, Captain Her, Captain Donahue and Sergeant Hayes. Additional services will be held when the body in Chicago.

The floral offerings occupied so much space that Mayor Moores requested the trainmen to take charge of them. Many of the most highly appreciated tributes will not be unfolded until the mother of the dead chieftain stands by his bler. These offerings came from rich and poor; they came from all walks of life; they were one amalgamated token from the friends of Martin White.

One of the most touching and most fitting tributes ever paid a dead man was the gathering of soot-begrimed railroad men around the encased casket as it awaited shiptheir lanterns time and again and hurried

"Resolved, That this court now stands ada body."

The court adjourned until this morning at A telegram from Mayor Moores to Mayor Harrison of Chicago will bring to the railway station this morning a proper escort for the dead. Chicago will honor Martin White in death, as Omaha honored him in life. Words of praise by wire and by verbal message were coming all day. Words of Praise from a Veteran. The late chief of police of St. Louis, Laurence Harrigan, who after forty years' service in police and declective work died last January, remarked of Martin White: 'I am not in political sympathy with Mr. White, but as a policeman I must say that he is entitled to the highest esteem of officers all over the land. When I say policeman I mean detective, for every good policeman must have more or less of the detective instinct. I have been impressed with some of the work credited to this man of his career in Omaha." Chief Harrigan was not given to fulsome flattery. He was plain spoken to a fault. He kept close watch of detectives and police officers throughout the country and when a shoddy piece of work was performed he was quick to speak his opinion. Likewise he Mayor Ensor is building a new barn to said; "Omaha never had a better chief of police than Martin White, as far as I know. My relations with him have been mostly in that came up between his department and mine we worked together amicably. As a man Martin White was a man among men.

The mother of Thomas Glynn, killed at Hammond's by Frank Montague, is here from Chicago to secure evidence to be used against Montague in case a complaint is Like every honest man, he asked only a fair field and no favor."

M. H. Collins, member of the fire and police commission, said: "He was the best chief we ever had. I considered him a valuable man. I can only quote the words of Superintendent Deltsch of the Cincinnati police department, who said that Martin White was one of the brightest men in his profession in the United States."

Charles J. Karbach of the fire and police commission is seriously ill at his home and does not yet know of Chief White's death. Oscar Karbach, his son, said that his father had the highest opinion of Chief White. "You cannot say anything too good of Chief White to meet my father's ideas. He thought a great deal of him."

John A. Creighton said: "White was the best chief we ever had, and as a man he was a manly man. It was not the best portion of the people of this city who were hounding him to his death."

The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has been faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy industrial conditions and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the scourge of fever. The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitants, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were swift to respond with generous aid to the sufferers. Delay on Q Street Sewer.

The delay in taking some action on the Q street sewer is causing considerable complaint from those in the district who intend making sewer connections this winter. It will be remembered that the council let the contract to George Dare. Mayor Ensor has filed a veto, consequently the contract cannot be entered into until the council either sustains the veto or disapproves of it. Several attempts have been made to hold a special meeting for the purpose, but each time there has been no quorum. This sewer is to extend from Twenty-third street west on Q to Twenty-sixth. A regular meeting of the council is billed for November 6, but as this is the night before election it is safe as
