COLD CHILLED THEIR ARDOR

Two Youthful Runaways from Burlinton Seek Shelter at Union Depot

terday two lads, so young that their presence in the depot without guardians attracted Fleming's attention, hugged the stove in the waiting room for a considerable time. They seemed utterly disconsolate and tears occasionally trickled down the cheeks of the younger one, a lad of about 9 years. The older one, 12 years of age, tried to comfort his companion in a sort of a swagger and braggadocio manner, but the little fellow was inconsolable. Fleming decided that they were runaways. He approached them and asked why they were not at school. His question rather staggered the older, but the little fellow, appreciating the friendly interest of the blue-coated officer, said that they were too far from home to go to school, and finally confessed that they had run away from their homes in Burlington, Ia. Three days were consumed in the trip from that place to Omaha, and they had "beaten" their way for the entire journey. Both were perfeetly willing to bring their wanderings to an end and Fleming turned them over to the police station. Their names are Harry Anderson, 1804 Ripley street, and Karl Mazena, 1515 South Twelfth street, in Burlington.

BREAKS TWO LARGE WINDOWS

Roscoe Rowley is Arrested for Ma licious Destruction of Property in a Saloon.

Roscoe Rowley, who gave the name of W. F. Cody at the police station, was captured at Fifteenth and Farnam streets Thursday evening, where he was establishing a claim of being ruler of all he surveyed. He considered the saloon of Hugo Bilz, 1415 Farnam, as part of his kingdom, and in an attempt to destroy the inside furniture of the place he was promptly thrown out into the street. He naturally resented this interference with his rights and, gathering ammu nition from the piles of cobblestones thrown up by the street car company, he bombarded the saloon front with telling effect on the huge plate glass windows. The officer on the beat appeared on the scene about this time and, ducking a rapid fire of cobblestones, he grappled with Rowley and the two rolled about in a lively tussle for a few minutes. Employes of the saloon came to the officer's aid and the disturber of the peace was handcuffed and taken to jail. He was charged with being drunk, resisting an officer and malicious destruction of property. Hugo Bilz says he will prosecute the man to Public Night Schools.

The night schools in charge of the Board of Education will be opened Monday, October 30, in three buildings—the Leavenworth school, Seventeenth and Leavenworth streets; the Kellom school, Twenty-third and Paul streets, and the Comenius school, Fifteenth street, near William.

The sessions will be from 7:30 to 3 o'clock. Text books and other necessary articles for school use will be supplied to the pupils attending, the same as in the day schools. Pupils who attend the day schools will not be received in the night schools. It is desired that pupils attending be present promptly at the time for opening. It is also expected that after entering the attendance of each pupil will be regular.

DON'T DRINKSLOPS:::

There's a difference between the slops shipped in here as a substitute for beer and the genuine, good, old-time German lager beer made in Omaha. People, as a rule, are not acquainted with the difference between pure, wholesome beer, made of Bohemian (imported) hops and the finest selected malt such as are used in the manufacture of ager beer and the numerous adulterated socalled beers brewed of questionable ingredients. It's better to use the p-u-r-e kind, but of course everyone cannot size up the adulterated kind. ### TARGET PRACTICE.

No man, after missing a target, can heartily con gratulate another who hits it. A customer of ours, who was out getting pointers in regard to her children's winter wraps, accidentally made the remark: "As yet I fail to find anything I like as well as those I saw at the Nebraska," and the remark was handed back to her: "Well, you know where the Nebraska is; there's no string tied to any one who is out getting pointers." That's target practice with bad aiming. You're welcome to come to this store to get pointers or get information. If you're not pleased, you'll be treated with courtesy just the same.
