WRECKERS ARE AT WORK

No Delay is Experienced in Tearing Down the Greater America Exposition.

The north winds blew chilling blasts across the exposition grounds yesterday but this did not prevent the wreckers from commencing their work of destruction. Shortly after daylight scores of drays drew up at the wagon gates of the grounds and in half an hour the dismantling commenced. All day long teams were engaged in hauling the exhibits down town to the owners or to the warehouses, where they will be stored until they are to be re-erected, which they came. On the grounds it was a perfect bedlam and hundreds of men were engaged in tearing away booths, wrecking small buildings and starting the exodus which will continue until the last article is removed. The telephone people were the first to begin their work of destruction, and before noon they had all their instruments removed and most of their wires down. They were followed closely by the electric light people, who had a large force at work removing lamps, wires and switches.

Along the Midway, with the exception of a couple of shows, all the places of amusement were closed and men were engaged in hearing down and preparing the contents of the buildings for shipment to other points. The strange people and the freaks who have annoyed and amused the crowds during the last season were not in evidence, most of them having left the city at the end of the season.

Along the Grand court the owners of the brick pavement commenced tearing out their material and before noon a section more than a block long had been removed. Nothing was done with reference to tearing down the main building. Manager Phillips of the Chicago Wrecking company, the purchaser, has his office on the grounds and is engaging large numbers of men, who will be set at work as soon as the exhibits are out of the buildings, which he expects will be before the end of the week.

For a few days an admission fee will be charged to those who desire to enter the grounds. This is done for the purpose of keeping the crowds out that they may not interfere with the men engaged in removing the exhibits. After this has been accomplished the fences will be torn down and the people will be permitted to pass over the grounds as they please. About the only thing that will be done in this direction will be to open up Twentieth and Manderson streets.

The Indians are likely to leave for their homes within the next three or four days, or at least as soon as the matter of transportation can be arranged. An agent of the government is here now and has them in charge. He will accompany them to their agencies. For the present they are occupying their tepees on the bluff tract, entertaining visitors and trying to sell articles that they have manufactured during the summer.

DORAN RELEASED ON BOND

Young Man Charged with Complicity in Robbery of Stockman Sweeney of Wilbur.

Albert J. Doran of South Omaha, charged with complicity in the robbery of Joseph B. Sweeney, a young stockman from Wilbur, who on October 9 was robbed of $500, has been released on $1,000 bond, the surety, Michael Donovan, qualifying before Judge Baxter in the county court.

John Crystall was arrested on this charge almost immediately after the robbery, but two others who were said to have been implicated, made their escape. Doran was picked up a few days ago, and it is said that the officers have a tangible clue to the whereabouts of the third member of the party. Doran denies that he had anything to do with the affair. When the cases are called in the district court Sweeney will return to Omaha to assist in the prosecution.

If J. D. Bridges, Editor "Democrat," Lancaster, N. H., says, "One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy for croup I ever used." Immediately relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, asthma, pneumonia, bronchitis, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption.

Dr. Bridges' office, 315 McCague block; hours, 9 to 10, 1 to 3; telephone, 648; residence telephone, 401.

Another Big Building. One of Omaha's prominent jobbing firms—the Lee-Glass-Anderson company—having been favored by reason of its expanding business to enlarge the capacity of its plant, will soon begin the erection of a seven-story building, 125x125, at Ninth and Harney streets. Plans have not sufficiently matured so that officers of the company are willing to discuss the matter, but that the erection of the building will absolutely be accomplished within a very short time is an established fact.

HAYDEN BROS. CITY WILL PAY EMPLOYEES

Council Agrees to Turn Balances of Ward Allocations Back into General Fund.

At a special meeting held yesterday the council acceded to the request of Comptroller Westberg that the balances in the ward allocations be turned into the general fund for the benefit of the city laborers, who would otherwise have had to wait until next year for their October wages. The amount thus made available is $1,680. The members practically refused to do this Monday in committee meeting, but Mount introduced the resolution this morning and secured its passage.

The contracts for the Woolworth avenue paving and curbing were referred back to the committee on paving and sewerage.

At the suggestion of Mayor Moores a committee consisting of Lohbeck, Bumester and Mount was appointed to draw up resolutions regarding the death of ex-Governor Alvin Saunders. It was also ordered that city officers be closed during the progress of the funeral and that the flag over the city hall be hung at half-mast for a suitable time.

Mayor Moores transmitted the resolutions of respect to the memory of Martin White adopted by the fire and police commission and they were made a part of the proceedings of the council by being ordered spread upon the journal.

City Attorney Connell recommended that the city settle the claim of Frank Green for $225 on account of a team lost by driving into the Cuming street sewer ditch for $100. At the solicitation of City Engineer Rosewater, who attributed the accident to drunkenness on the part of the driver the matter was referred to the committee on claims.

A bazar for the benefit of St. James Orphanage, Benson will open in the roof garden, Sixteenth and Harney streets, Monday evening, November 6, and continue two weeks.

Announcements. For perfect detail as to scenic equipment of an elaborate character, with costumes of brilliant hue and splendid texture, Messrs. Primrose & Dockstader's Big American Minstrels are famous, and the entire program which they are presenting declares it to be an entertainment of superior quality as well as quantity. The Big American Minstrels will be seen here at Boyd's theater on Sunday and Monday, commencing with matinee.

The Trocadero Opera company is making many new friends with its presentation of Jakobowski's opera, "Robert Macaire," this week. Every member of the cast is credited with an individual hit, and Miss Marie Greenwood, who was specially engaged for this week, is already a favorite. Next week the company will present Flotow's opera, "Martha." Miss Greenwood will remain one more week, and will be heard in the title role, and, with Miss Annie Myers, now a prime favorite in this city, a performance of merit may be anticipated.

The most costly single attraction ever offered by the Creighton-Orpheum theater will be the famous Hungarian Boys' Military band, which will begin a week's engagement next Sunday at the matinee. This band is composed of fifty boys who have received a musical education almost from their infancy. It is claimed that it is the most handsomely uniformed band in the world. This week's program at the Orpheum is an excellent one, and is drawing crowded houses at every performance. There will be a matinee for the women and the children on Saturday, and Little Arnold Grazer and La Petite Hazel, the dancers, have invited all the women and children who attend to come on the stage and have a chat with them.

Against the Exposition. Jesse Lawrence, who conducted the Boston luncheon on the east Midway at the exposition, has filed injunction proceedings against the exposition management to prevent confiscation of fixtures and cash drawer. The petitioner alleges that the management took charge of her cash register, dishes, tables, etc., and she prays the court to issue an order restraining the defendant from further interference and for restoration of what she sets forth to be her rights by contract. The petitioner was the lessee of luncheon privileges on the grounds.
