judge of the supreme court. So far as I was able to observe," continued Mr. Jansen, "all this talk about the Germans and Russians being for Holcomb is without any foundation whatever. The populists, of course, try to make them believe that an alliance has been formed between Great Britain and the United States and that expansion in all directions will be the policy of the administration. I don't think such assertions as these have any effect whatever. The Germans are undoubtedly taking great interest in the election and in many of the counties I have visited republican clubs have been formed.

Satisfied with Present Conditions.

"The indications are that the republican vote among the German-Russians will be heavier than ever before, mainly on account of the prosperous condition of things all over the state. The cattlemen are all doing well. They are satisfied with the policy of the government and feel that the man who is elected judge of the supreme court should be in accord with its policy."

All students who regvote in Lincoln, but many preferred to decision of the supreme court gives university and college students considerable lati tude in this respect and makes it possible for them to vote either where the college is located or where their parents reside.

Populist Appeal. The populist state central committee has issued a personal appeal to the voters of Lancaster county to register tomorrow and attend the populist meetings in the evening, at which time W. J. Bryan, Aligeld and Governor Stone of Missouri will deliver addresses on the political issues. The result of the registration of the first two days shows an overwhelming majority of republicans. On the second registration day an effort was made to increase their showing, but the proportion fell even lower than on the first day. It is calculated to catch all wavering voters tomorrow evening. Meetings will be held in two ____s and the speakers will go from one to the other.

A story illustrating the popocratic method of newspaper reporting has reached here Secretary of War Meiklejohn and W. J. Bryan were advertised to speak in Ravenna on the same evening. Bryan's train stopped at Loup City and it was necessary for him to go overland from there to Rayenna to keep his appointment. FIGHT LASTS FULL NUMBER OF ROUNDS

9 p. m. 40 Champion Only Has Best of the Battle One-Fifth of the Tim .

NARROW ESCAPE OF WHITE During Twenty Rounds Sharkey Gives Jeffries Terrific Punishment.

AN UNFORTUNATE ENDING OF FIGHT

Californian Loses a Glove During the Twenty-Fifth and the Referee and Fighters Are in a Mixup Over it When the Gong Rings.

RINGSIDE, CONEY ISLAND SPORTING CLUB, NEW YORK, Nov. 3 .- James J. Jetfries retains the championship of the world Referee George Siler giving him the decision at the end of the twenty-fifth round over the sailer, Tom Sharkey, at the Coney Island

It was one of the most marvelous battles that has taken place and the greatest crowd that ever gathered in the Coney Island club-

In five rounds Jeffries had the better of the fight, in the first two and in the last three. twenty rounds Jeffries' great weight and brawn helped him to hold off the sailor and couple of vicious uppercuts that made Sharkey groggy. Tom came back again in the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth, but he was weakened greatly by Jeffries' vicious blows. One minute before the gong sounded to end the fight Jeffrles' left glove came off and practically the contest was over.

The referee motioned to Jeffries' corner, and an American flag was furled around the champion's shoulders and the crowd on that side and end of the arena cheered wildly. The crowd on the opposite side and end, in Sharkey's corner, yelled for Sharkey and the men were led back to their dressing rooms. The thousands of spectators were banked forty feet high in the building, the place being packed from ringside to rafters, and the aisles around the ring were lined. The tremendous crowd sweltered under the great heat of 400 arc lights. The fighters were almost exhausted; the spectators shricked themselves hoarse. It seemed at first as though it would be a short fight, for in the second round Jeffries put the sailor to the ropes with a left on the jaw and the referee began to call off the seconds as Sharkey kneeled on the floor. But from the third round on Sharkey, with his vicious swings to the ribs and the jaw, kept the crowd on its feet waiting for a knockout. Jeffries stood the terrific nunishment and with his eye, ear and nose split, came back just as viciously in the last three rounds and almost retrieved himself. An Unfortunate Ending.

Then came the unfortunate and unsatisfifth round, nearly one minute before the close, Jeffries' glove flew across the ring and Siler ran to help him on with it. Sharkey held back until his friends yelled at him not to stop and it was a three-cornered fight for glove and tried to draw it on. This was hand, and with the former uppercut Sharkey. Siler ran between them and made a second ORDER TO MOBILIZE MILITIA attempt to assist Jeffries. The sailor waited moment, but wildly excited by the shricks of the spectators he rushed again. Siler dragged Jeffries away and the gong rang.

The referee pointed to Jeffries' corner and his seconds and friends cheered wildly. LONDON, Nov. 3.-An army order issued. The majority of those at the ringside this evening instructs the proper authorities hardly thought Sharkey would get worse and outpointed the champion. On the other hand, Jeffries, who had the better, by large odds, of the last three rounds, did very little leading in the other twenty-two, and when he led he was either too high or too low, getting in few good punches.

It was noticeable that Jeffries used his weight to its best advantage, throwing himself all over the sailor, but the latter did his chare of the hugging, too, and both were warned repeatedly. The decision was not announced from the ring, or, if it was, few heard it, and a great mob surged around for several minutes yelling and shouting for the victor and vanquished. Ten thousand spectators gathered around the ringside. Though Coney island was swept by a gale, waded to the narrow entrances leading to the arena. Corbett and Sullivan Present.

At 8:30 there were 5,000 people in the building and later the boxes filled to overflowing. All manner of men were there and among those well known were: James J. Corbett and John L. Sullivan, former champions; Kid McCoy, Peter Maher, Tim Kearns, George Dixon, Senator Tim Sullivan and Assemblyman Timothy P. Sullivan and Jacob Schaefer of New York; George Slosson. Frank Hutchinson and Parson Davies of Chicago: Gus Ruhlin, Dave Gideon, Mike Donovan, Chief of Police O'Mara of Pittsburg, Police Commissioner Sexton and Ed

Delaney of Salt Lake. A preliminary event of ten rounds, at 128 pounds, preceded the big event and Kid deal like Jeffries on a small scale, was beaten by Tommy Moran of Brooklyn.

Then, after half an hour's delay, Tom Sharkey could be seen making his way through the crowds. He was well received, but Jeffries was cheered to the echo. Sharkey had on green trunks, with an American torially upon "this new departure in Amer- flag for a belt, and the champion wore black, Jeffries had behind him Billy Delaney, Ernest Roeber, Tommy Ryan and his brother, Sharkey was led to the southwest corner by Tom O'Rourke and was attended by George Dixon, Morris Kelly and Tim Me-Grath, O'Rourke superintending the entire proceedings. George Siler refereed. Jeffries weighed 212 pounds and Sharkey twentyfive pounds less, but the latter looked to be in better condition, the Californian being callow and having staring eyes, and giving other cyldences of not the best of condition. The betting at the start was 190 to 70 on Jeffries. They shook hands and shaped up well. Two of Sharkey's Ribs Broken. Sharkey was inconsolable and cried like a child when he went to his quarters, and re-
