Wheat Continues to Lose Headway, Owing to the Added Supply.

LOSS AMOUNTS TO MORE THAN HALF CENT

Wenkness Starts on Realizing After Vigor at Opening and Put Price is Reached Without Checking Decline-Other Cerents Yield.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.-Wheat fell again today under the influence of accumulating stocks and December closed with a loss of hirs. Corn declined harke and oats he. Provisions were strong and closed unchanged to 1001214c higher.

Small Argentine shipments and higher ca-bles, notwithstanding the decline here yesterday, started wheat at a fractional advance over last night's close. Shorts were apprehensive for the moment because of ome excitement in England over the Transvaal situation and some covering resulted. Liquidation on the bulge became so excessive, however, that the demand was withdrawn and the market turned suddenly weak. From that point until the end the course was downward. Put figures were without meeting any opposition and this fact alone added impetus to the selling movement. The main factor of PEARS-Western varieties, $2.2562.50. weakness was the rapid increase in the domestic visible, the indications being that an addition of over 1,000,000 would be made during the week. Light clearances, slow an addition of over 1,000,000 would be made during the week. Light clearances, slow cash demand and the reported improved condition of winter wheat also had a depressing effect. December opened \( \frac{1}{2} \) \( \frac{1}{2} \

Provisions were slow but firm. Liberal shipments and a steady decrease in stocks encouraged buying of ribs and pork and substantial gains were scored. Packers sold freely of lard, however. January pork closed 100/12½c higher at $9.7009.72½. January lard unchanged at $5.25 and January ribs 2½65c higher at $4.95. Estimated receipts for Saturday: Wheat, 145 cars; corn, 310 cars; oats, 290 cars; hogs, 18.000 head.

MOVEMENTS OF STOCKS AND BONDS.

Promise of Opening is Not Realized nnd Close is at the Bottom. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The opening dealngs in the stock market were very animated and the course of prices was upward. Continued activity by the various pools was apparent in the stocks, which have advanced within the last few days. Heavy realizing was in evidence at a very early period in the trading and the snap was soon taken out of the upward movement. The volume of the selling was much reduced below the best prices, but the demand also fell off and support seemed to be withdrawn from the manipulated specialities. The course of prices was generally downward for the rest of the day. One or two efforts were made to cheek the decline, but without great effect. The bears made to great demonstration until the final hour, when prices touched the low point of the day. Covering by the shorts railled prices, but they were not well held, and the closing was rather heavy and dult. The general level of prices is lower on the day, but there are a few exceptions. United States Leather continued a conspicuous figure in the speculation and was rushed up an extreme 5½ points to 3½ and closed ½ below that. The preferred stock parted company with its junior after a rise of nearly a point and was decidedly weak for the rest of the day, declining an extreme 3½, with a final raily of 5½. Dealings in Southern Pacific continued on a very large scale, but the stock at no time reached more than 3 above last right's level. Sugar dropped a point, railled 1 and fell again to 111 and railled but feebly. Standard Rope opened up 3½ and then turned downward an extreme 24. Brooklyn Transit also developed weakness early in the day and went below 39 at one time. In the first five minutes of trading over 11.000 shares of Chesapeake & Ohio came on the market with only a slight impression on the price. These examples indicate the prevalent disposition to take profits for the long account. The migority of railroad stocks was singularly neglected with the exception of some early demand for the southwesterns, which gave way in the late weakness. During apprehension of an unfavorable bank statement was firm at 60% per receipts of $1.000,000 in gold and government in ontinued activity by the various pools was apparent in the stocks, which have advanced within the last few days. Heavy realizing was in cylinger at a very carrie

ONE BEGGAR'S RECEIPTS. Ten Dollars an Hour the Estimated Charity is not dead in New York. Any one with doubts on the subject would have been convinced had he seen a richly dressed woman drop a quarter into a beggar's box the other afternoon and noted the things which followed on Twenty-third street. relates the New York Sun. The beggar was in the middle of the block, moving slowly toward Sixth avenue. He moved on stumps only about eight inches long. There was something plaintive in the short steps he took and in the way he rested a moment after each, like a tragedian crossing the stage.

A second woman stopped and threw a dime into the wooden receptacle for coins. I third instantly followed suit. The beggar was stout and burly. His neck was thick and powerful looking. seemed piteous that so strong a man should be so crippled. A poorly dressed woman and a little girl paused long enough to pity him and add their mites to his assets. The beggar was inboriously pushing a lit tle four-wheeled cart. In it was a band organ, which he ground unccasingly.

A shabbily dressed man paused to pay a cash tribute to the beggar's misery. Sentimental strains poured from the handorgan. The time was very slow. There was nothing gay about that music. drew tears from the eyes of the pedestrians It also drew their dimes.

Three prosperous-looking women opened of the hogs were at $1.00% or under. For a little time the market was quite active for the best loads, until the more urgent to talk $1.00 for pretty decent loads. From that time on until the close the market was slow and the close the market was slow and the close was easier. The cause for the weakness appeared to be the fact that the market at this point is too high as compared with Chicago and buyers foel that they are paying too much money for the hogs. The hogs were finally disposed of, the late sales being very largely at $1.00\text{min}(2)\text{s}, or not very far from yesterday's market prices. Representative sales:

rolled his head from side to side, as if life were indeed a burden. And the rain of money continued. The thirty-eighth contributer within eighteen minutes was a welldressed youth. Above the organ was a banner upon which was inscribed: "Ladice and gentlemen, having lost both my legs and being unable to obtain employment. I have taken this means to gain support for myself and my family, and to raise money to buy a pair of artificial feet." This appeal fairly magnetized the dimes. A cabman standing by the curb ran forward and dropped something in the box.

"Poor chap," he said, "it's a hard thing to be like that."

"My friend," said a bystander, "that man will make more money in half an hour than you will in a whole day."

The beggar and his organ had reached Sixth avenus. He had gone 180 yards from the point at which he was first discovered. It had taken him twenty-five minutes. During that time no fewer than fifty-nine people had dropped money into his box. Mose of the contributors were handsomely dressed women. Doubtless some of them contributed quarters. It is likely that the contributions averaged 10 cents each, and if that was the case the beggar cleared up $5.90 while going half a block; but in case some of the women put in only pennies it might be well to call it $5 for twenty-five minutes, or say $10 an hour.

"That one box you see," said a special officer, "is only one of his boxes. He has three like it, one under the other. When the money partly fills one it drops into the others."

But the beggar was out of sight. He had gene to conquer another world west of Sixth avenue.

Geo. Noland, Rockland, O., says: "My wife had piles forty years. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her. It is the best salve in America." It heals everything and cures all skin diseases.
