CULTURE OF THE SUGAR BEET

Industry Develops to Quite Considerable Proportions in Nebraska.

SOIL AND CLIMATE ADAPTED TO IT

Enrollment at the State University Approaches Closely to Two Thousand—Batch of Supreme Court Opinions.

LINCOLN, Nov. 10.—(Special.)—For the last ten years all sugar beet experiments conducted by the University of Nebraska experiment station have been carried on at Ames. The original experiments date back to a time when there were no sugar factories in the state when it was generally supposed that the sugar industry would never be a factor in Nebraska agriculture.

It was only after the experiment station had called attention to the fact that sugar beets could be successfully raised here that a sugar factory was finally erected at Grand Island. The interest imparted then has constantly increased and at present Nebraska ranks next to California, the greatest sugar beet producing state in the union.

After considering a number of places best representing the average soil of the state the experiment field was located in the Platte valley at Ames. Largely through the kindness of R. V. Allen, president of the American Sugar Beet Growers' association, experiments have since been conducted here on an extensive scale and the development of the industry in the state shows the results. Mr. Allen has defrayed all the expenses for labor and also erected a laboratory building in which the chemical work of investigation is conducted. These experiments have been conducted without any cost to the state.

The investigations not only show the soil and climate most capable of producing sugar beets of a superior quality and excellence, but also the peculiar climatic conditions which make sugar beet raising impossible in a region of large rainfall and moist atmosphere, where the soil is highly charged with water during a great portion of the year. One of the greatest difficulties with which he has to deal is to obtain a proper aeration of the soil, for such a soil is naturally difficult permeable by air. As a consequence, from the time of plowing until all things cease there is a constant effort put forth to stir the soil as deeply and as frequently as possible, in order to allow the air to penetrate.

In a region of lesser rainfall and greater rate of evaporation there is not the same opportunity for the soil to become saturated with water, and consequently not the same necessity for artificially promoting aeration.

Big University Attendance. A half century ago, almost to a day, Dr. Charles E. Bessey, then as now acting chancellor of the University of Nebraska, announced in the chapel with a great deal of pride that the total enrollment of the university had reached the unprecedented figure of 500. This includes those students who are commonly known as "preps," medical students, art students and all. It was a proud day for the university and the little body of students that were gathered in the chapel felt loose the university yell with wild enthusiasm. Yesterday the acting chancellor announced that the new students admitted this fall numbered 600. This indicates the rapid growth of the university and predicts an attendance close to 1,000.

The language department of the State university has an exceedingly large enrollment this year. Prof. Edgren, head of romance languages, has about 300 students, more than ever before. Prof. Fossler, head of Germanic languages, has 229 enrollees, which is also larger than in the past year. The new law library of the university is a great advantage to the law students.

Harvey E. Heath of Omaha, for a long time a resident of Lincoln, has been appointed as delegate to represent the industrial college and the experiment station in the meeting of the National Farmers' congress to be held in Boston, Mass. In giving his instructions, Acting Chancellor Bessey said: "A conservative radicalism will about describe the attitude which we desire our delegate to take. We want him to stand up for Nebraska."

Adjutant General Barry gave notice today that hereafter commanding officers of companies of the Nebraska National Guard would be held personally responsible for the equipment lost or stolen. It has been the custom to issue new equipment on the presentation of a sworn statement that it is to take the place of equipment lost or stolen. The bonds given by company commanders are to cover all property committed to the care of the captain, and it is their duty to follow up the criminal if any of it is stolen. Ex-Chancellor Benton of the State university, but now of Butler college, Irving, Ind., has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual charter day address for the university, February 15, 1900. Charter day at the State university was first celebrated during Chancellor Benton's administration.

Supreme Court Opinions. Opinions in about twenty cases were handed down by the supreme court last night. None of the cases were more than ordinarily important. In the case of P. J. Karbach against Kate Clark, an action of law to begin in the district court of Douglas county to recover possession of personal property, and which later developed into a damage suit, was reversed and remanded, the court holding that the amount of damages assessed and for which judgment was rendered was excessive and not warranted by the evidence.

In the case of the Lincoln Land Company against Phelps County the court decided that in counties under the township system of government an individual assessment of property must bear just relation to the assessed value of all other property in the town and that if it does so it will not be disturbed. The county board is authorized to correct individual assessments only, where the town board having jurisdiction has, upon proper application to it, refused to grant the relief demanded.

In a damage suit against a railroad company the court decides that where contributory negligence was the proximate cause of personal injury there can be no recovery of damages. When there is no conflict in the evidence and but one reasonable inference can be drawn from the facts, the question of negligence is for the court.

A decision of interest to county commissioners and county boards was handed down in the case of Henry L. Libbey against Louis M. Davis, appealed from Johnson county. In this decision it is held that the power conferred on the Board of County Commissioners to levy a road tax is limited to the levy of such tax for county purposes. The money raised by the levy of such tax for county purposes is to be applied to the county road fund, to be expended under the direction of the county authorities, unless otherwise provided by statute.

The following cases were reversed and remanded: Henry Oliver against James F. Lansing; Sophia L. Bennett, administratrix, against Charles C. McDonald; William J. Swenick against the State of Nebraska; Henry M. Libbey against Louis M. Davis; John C. Drexel against Andrew Murphy; F. M. Herman against Frank P. Knapp; First National Bank against Omaha National Bank; P. J. Karbach against Kate Clark; Omaha Bottling Company against Michael Theller, Jr.; Chamberlain Banking House against Reliance Bank; Chamberlain Banking House against Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

The following cases were affirmed: Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Holstein against German National Bank of Omaha; J. P. Seal, executor, against Farmers' and Merchants' Insurance Company; Lucinda Brady, administratrix, against Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad Company; Oak Creek Valley Bank against Louis Helmers; L. H. Lawton against Lizzie Fournier; Philip Dunn against Harriet Bohartz. The cases of Ida L. Snyder against Peter Lapp and B. F. Morris were dismissed.

IS CATARRH CURABLE?

Letters From Joe Wheeler, Governors, Senators and Congressmen.

PE-RU-NA THE STANDARD CATARRH CURE OF THE WORLD.

Catarrh has already become a national curse. Its ravages extend from ocean to ocean. More than one-half of the people are affected by it. It has become such a serious matter that it has passed the boundaries of the medical profession and become a national question. Senators are talking about it; congressmen are discussing it; governors are seriously considering the subject. In short, our nation is fully aroused to the importance of the subject. They are not only considering the extent and chronic nature of the disease, but the possibility of finding a national remedy to meet this national calamity.

The following letters from men of national reputation give their opinion of the value of Pe-ru-na in cases of catarrh: United States Senator Sullivan from Mississippi, writes from Washington:

"I desire to say that I have been taking Pe-ru-na for some time for catarrh, and have found it an excellent medicine, giving me more relief than anything I have ever taken."

United States Senator from Mississippi, Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, devised the remedy. Pe-ru-na, over forty years ago, and the remedy as a catarrh cure has been growing in favor steadily all these years. It stands today before the nation as a thoroughly tested, accurately scientific internal remedy for catarrh. There are practically no medicinal rivals in the field.

Hon. A. T. Goodwyn, congressman from Alabama, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, from Washington, D. C., says:

"I have now used one bottle of Pe-ru-na and am a well man today. I could feel the good effects of your medicine before I had used it a week, after suffering with catarrh for over a year."

Congressman from Alabama, Pe-ru-na is not a local application or temporary relief; it is a permanent cure. Pe-ru-na is a systemic remedy. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures are radical and lasting. Therefore, Pe-ru-na is receiving the endorsement of the leading statesmen and history-makers of the day.

Major General Joseph Wheeler, commanding the cavalry forces in front of Santiago, and the author of "The Santiago Campaign," in regard to the great catarrh remedy, Pe-ru-na, writes from Wheeler, Ala.:

"I join with Senators Sullivan, Roach and McEnery in their good opinion of Pe-ru-na. It is recommended to me by those who have used it as an excellent tonic and particularly effective as a cure for catarrh from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Pe-ru-na."

John W. Lyons, Register of U. S. Treasury, No man is better known in the financial world than Judson W. Lyons. His name on every piece of paper money of recent date makes his signature one of the most familiar ones in the United States. Hon. Lyons' address is Augusta, Ga. He is a member of the National Republican Committee, and is a prominent and influential politician.

Whatever form the catarrh may have assumed; whatever symptoms it may have produced; whatever damage it has accomplished, Pe-ru-na is the only hope, the only cure. Pe-ru-na cures all cases of chronic catarrh promptly and permanently. There need be no failures.

Hon. Judson W. Lyons, register of the United States Treasury, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says:

"I find Pe-ru-na to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Pe-ru-na."

Dr. Hartman is publishing a book containing several hundred testimonials with portraits. The testimonials in this book cover a variety of ailments and are all given in the words of the writer. This book, which is entitled "Facts and Figures," will be sent free to any address by The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

"I can bear testimony as to the merits of your remedy, Pe-ru-na. I have been taking the same for some time, and am enjoying better health than I have for some years. I attribute the change to Pe-ru-na, being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."

Deputy Auditor for War Department, Mrs. Arthur L. Hamilton, Wife of Colonel Hamilton, of the Seventh Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and whose residence is at 259 Goodale street, Columbus, O., writes the following about Pe-ru-na, Dr. Hartman's scientific remedy for catarrh:

"I can bear testimony as to the merits of your remedy, Pe-ru-na. I have been taking the same for some time, and am enjoying better health than I have for some years. I attribute the change to Pe-ru-na, being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."

No wonder the American soldier is a friend of Pe-ru-na, when such a renowned officer as General Wheeler gives Pe-ru-na his hearty endorsement. A man connected with the army and navy can have no reasonable doubt as to the merits of the remedy. No remedy ever yet devised has received such unstinted eulogy from so many renowned statesmen and military men as Pe-ru-na.

Hon. P. B. S. Pinchback, ex-governor of Louisiana, regarding the merits of Pe-ru-na, writes from Washington, D. C.:

"I heartily concur with Senator McEnery of my state, in recommending Pe-ru-na. It has been connected to me by persons who are especially good for the too common complaint of catarrh."

"I have used Pe-ru-na for some time for catarrh, and have found it an excellent medicine, giving me more relief than anything I have ever taken."

Pe-ru-na is a systemic catarrh remedy. It meets the enemy in its stronghold, within the system. Gently and persistently it eradicates the cause promptly and permanently. It is the only systemic catarrh remedy yet devised which cures catarrh. Up to date there has been no other remedy that will, in any degree, take the place of Pe-ru-na.

Hon. H. G. Worthington, congressman from Nevada, and ex-minister to Argentine Republic, says in a letter written to Dr. Hartman from Washington, D. C.:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your remedies. I have taken one bottle of Pe-ru-na and it has benefited immensely a case of catarrh of some months standing."

Hon. Dan A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"I can bear testimony as to the merits of your remedy, Pe-ru-na. I have been taking the same for some time, and am enjoying better health than I have for some years. I attribute the change to Pe-ru-na, being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."
