Golf Capes

Saturday we will close out a line of handsome all over plaid golf capes, at $5 each, worth $10. These garments are made of imported rugs—and are very desirable for misses or young ladies. Come early, as there are only a few of them.

Fine Furs

Our complete stock of fine furs, such as black and brown Marten, Otter, Beaver and other fine furs, are ready for the holiday trade. It is wise to make your selection from those goods early—as we now have a magnificent stock to select from, all choice furs, at our usual low price for fine goods.

Jackets

The coats which we sell are all man-tailored and made by the finest manufacturers—besides the styles which we show are very exclusive—Our garments have the appearance and refinement of fine tail—We believe we sell jackets at lower prices than most houses can possibly afford to—as our trade is constantly increasing and we sell on a close margin. We are always in a position to take advantage of a break in the prices. Saturday will be a big jacket selling day.

REPORT OF GENERAL LAWTON

Gives Details of Expedition to Santa Cruz, Province of La Laguna.

GENERAL KING TOO ILL TO LEAD FORCES

Major Weisenberg Takes Command of Provisional Brigade—North Dakota Private Recommended for Medal of Honor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The War department has made public the report from Major General Lawton, giving the details of his expedition in April last to Santa Cruz, province of La Laguna. The report is dated August 1. General Lawton says the object of the expedition was the capture of Santa Cruz, destruction of telegraph lines; to cut off the enemy's retreat if possible and to distribute the proclamation of the United States commissioners.

This expedition went by water from a point opposite Manila on Laguna de Bay to Santa Cruz. The command consisted of 1,500 men and, in the order for the expedition, Brigadier General Charles King was placed in immediate command of the provisional brigade, with directions to report to General Lawton.

General Lawton then describes the movement of his command, the difficult landing, the advance under Major Weisenberg and the rout of the enemy near the city. The report then continues: "During a personal examination of the condition of the command, made after night-fall, it was ascertained that General King was so ill that he had been unable to land with his command and would probably not be able to participate in any part of the expedition."

"The immediate command of the line was assumed by myself, General King was authorized to return to his headquarters and the next officer in rank, Major Weisenberg, was verbally appointed to the command of the provisional brigade. "At daybreak next morning, the 10th inst., the troops were at once put into position, three companies on the right of the road leading north toward the town, the remainder extending to the left, until the flank rested on the beach."

"The artillery moved along the road, supported by Company I, First Idaho volunteer infantry. The advance toward the city was immediately taken up. "The illness of General King caused much embarrassment, some confusion and delay, but, thanks to the efficiency of my staff officers, this was soon overcome. To Major Clarence A. Edwards, assistant adjutant general, was entrusted the center of our advance line, and Major Charles G. Starns, inspector general, commanded the left flank. These gallant officers, fully alive to the responsibilities resting upon them, were equal to the occasion and no line of battle could have been more courageously or intelligently led, as the results of the action amply commend these officers in the highest terms for the gallant work done by them on this occasion. I especially commend these officers for conspicuous gallantry on this occasion."

"Major Weisenberg I wish to express my appreciation of his valuable services. The report gives the casualties heretofore published and also gives details of the occupation of the city. Plans were formulated for the capture of the small gunboats which the insurgents had in the Pagsanjan river. In this the gunboats on the lake participated. The movement was not retarded by the insurgents. General Otis mentions in terms of praise the services of Second Lieutenant Thomas Franklin, who commanded the gunboat Napidan. General Lawton thus describes a gallant action: "With a view to securing a good place to re-embark the troops for a movement on Calaba, the North Dakota battalion was sent from Longos shortly after noon on the 14th inst., to reconnoiter the town of Paos, located about four miles further north on the lake shore, where it was reported a good landing place could be found. After advancing about one mile the enemy was discovered entrenched across the road and immediately opened fire from almost impenetrable undergrowth on the mountain side. Major Fraime promptly disposed his command to execute a flank movement on the enemy, who were pointing a heavy fire into the advance guard, four of whom were killed and three wounded, one mortally. Of these the latter and three killed belonged to a party of five flankers who had been sent up the hillside. Their surviving comrade, Private Thomas Stetteland, Company C, First North Dakota, remained with them and by his cool and unerring aim successfully held the enemy back until reinforcements came. Then, after carrying his wounded comrades to the rear, he assisted in recovering the bodies of the killed. He has been recommended for a medal of honor."

FIXING UP THE RAILROAD Soldiers Raise an Engine and Put it to Work—Two Commands in Touch.

MANILA, Nov. 17.—9:20 a.m.—General MacArthur's and General Lawton's commands are now near each other. General MacArthur is getting supplies into Talaric over the railroad from Bannam with an engine which was raised from the river by the Ninth infantry.

Intelligence was received at the police station Friday night by telephone from Fort Crook that John Deegan and Samuel Morgan, two brigands, had overpowered their guard, wrested his rifle from him and escaped. A later message was that Morgan had been shot and captured at La Plata. An ambulance was sent down to bring him back, as he was seriously wounded. Deegan is still at large. The men were held on general court-martial for desertion.

FLIRTS AS A GUN. A man who failed to give his name as a gun at the Park theatre Friday night and the proprietor took it away from him. Later he said that of the girls last week there has been a heavy downpour. The whole country is in as bad condition as at any time this season.

FOUR TRANSPORTS ARE TO SAIL. Scheduled to Leave for Manila Wednesday for the Philippines. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Four transports are scheduled to sail for Manila next Wednesday—the Hancock, Duke of Pife, Puebla and St. Paul. The headquarters and six companies of the Thirty-eighth infantry will go on the Duke of Pife, the field officers and the other six companies will go on the St. Paul; the headquarters and nine companies of the Forty-fourth will leave on the Hancock, and a field officer and the other three companies leaving on the Puebla. The two companies of the Forty-third will also go on the Puebla. One hundred recruits will go on the Duke of Pife and fifty on the St. Paul, Lieutenant Arrasmith and Holt accompanying them.

The departure of these troops will leave the Fourth, Forty-second and Forty-eighth in camp, and the Forty-ninth to come, if by that time it has not already arrived. These regiments will be away, however, inside of another two weeks. The Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth will probably be the last to go. Both are colored regiments and it seems to be the policy of the government to keep them together as long as possible.

Contracts for Six New Cruisers. WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Board of Naval Construction agreed upon a report recommending the Navy department award of contracts for the construction of the six new protected cruisers authorized by congress to the following concerns: Union Iron works of San Francisco, Lewis Nixon of the Crescent Shipbuilding works, Elizabethport, N. J.; the Bath Iron works of Bath, Me.; the Frig Shipbuilding company of Richmond, Va.; the Fore River company of Massachusetts; Neum & Levy of Philadelphia.

BETTER USE FOR THE MONEY

Cost of Philippine War Would Make the Arid West a Garden Spot.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—John D. Spreckels of San Francisco, member of the republican national committee, passed through Chicago last night on his way east. Mr. Spreckels will attend the meeting of the national committee at Washington, December 14, "an anti-expansionist," said he, "and if I came through the great prairies of the west on this trip I could not help but think of the great good that might have been done in our own country with the money which we are now spending to maintain the army in the Philippines.

"If that money had been spent in irrigation in the western countries, I believe the United States would have reaped greater benefits from it than it ever will by the retention of the Philippines." Mr. Spreckels said that he thought it was very probable that the national committee would select Chicago as the place for holding the next national convention.

LOGAN'S BODY IS TO BE EXHUMED.

Secretary Root Orders Otis to Send the Remains Home. YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 17.—Mrs. John A. Logan, jr., has received a telegram from Secretary Root notifying her that he had advised General Otis by cable to have the body of Major Logan exhumed and sent home. Major Webb C. Hayes, a personal friend of the late Major Logan, will reach Manila in a few days and orders have been issued for him to take charge of the body and arrange for its shipment.

MacArthur Meets Advance.

MANILA, Nov. 18.—8:25 a. m.—General MacArthur, with the Thirty-sixth infantry, a battery of the Fifteenth infantry, a troop of the Fourth cavalry, several Garlands and a detachment of the signal corps, has begun the northwest advance from Talaric, province of New Vizcaya.

KEEPING MUNICIPAL BOOKS

Problems of Accounting Discussed at Closing Session of the League. COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17.—The executive committee of the National Municipal league selected Milwaukee as the place of the next meeting. The meeting of the league today opened with an address by Prof. L. S. Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania on "Public Accounting Under the Proposed Municipal Program."

The discussion of the topic was opened by Dr. E. R. Hartwell, secretary of the Boston Municipal Statistical commission, who spoke on "The Financial Reports of Municipalities, With Special Reference to the Requirement of Uniformity." Dr. Samuel E. Sparling, secretary of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities, discussed the same phase of the subject. "The Financial Control Over Receipts and Expenditures" was the theme of A. L. Crosby, former deputy auditor of the city of Cleveland.

Henderson on Hand Early. WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Congressman David B. Henderson of Iowa, who is slated to be speaker of the next house of representatives, arrived in Washington this evening and has established himself at the Normandie hotel. Colonel Henderson is accompanied by his wife and daughter. He looks the picture of health and says he is ready for the work of the coming session of congress. Concerning public customs and the formation of committees the prospective speaker has nothing to say for publication.

Deserters Make Trouble. Intelligence was received at the police station Friday night by telephone from Fort Crook that John Deegan and Samuel Morgan, two brigands, had overpowered their guard, wrested his rifle from him and escaped. A later message was that Morgan had been shot and captured at La Plata. An ambulance was sent down to bring him back, as he was seriously wounded. Deegan is still at large. The men were held on general court-martial for desertion.

WE MUST REPEAT When Everybody in Omaha Tells the Same Story. It is hard to say new things about Doan's Kidney Pills. They cure the lame and aching back, the sufferer from kidney disorders and the troubles of those whose urinary organism is wrong in its action. That they do this is so easy to prove that not a vestige of doubt remains. Public endorsement of local citizens is easily proved. Read this case: Mr. Wm. Cooper, No. 518 South 17th St., employed at the Waterloo Creamery, says: "In February, 1899, I was taken with a severe case of the grip and it left me with a lame and aching back—especially bad mornings, when I could scarcely drag myself about, and it was a hard task to get dressed. My work requires me to stand in wet places at times and this had a tendency to make my back worse. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured them at Kuhn & Co's drug store. They completely cured me and did it quickly." Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50c per box by all dealers, or mailed on receipt of price by Foster-McClellan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

TO HEAR CARNEGIE ON TRUSTS Promises to Appear Before the Industrial Commission to Testify. WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Industrial Commission has received from Andrew Carnegie a promise to appear before the commission in December and give his testimony upon the subject of trusts.

Wanamaker on Combination Stores His Evidence Will Be Given Next Week—Whisky Trust's President Says Price Cutting Has Been Abandoned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Industrial Commission has received from Andrew Carnegie a promise to appear before the commission in December and give his testimony upon the subject of trusts. Mr. Carnegie's testimony will be the last taken upon this subject preparatory to the preliminary report upon trusts, which will be made to congress early in January. John Wanamaker is expected to testify before the commission next week upon the question of combination stores. Samuel M. Rice, president of the Distilling Company of America, commonly designated as the Whisky trust, was before the commission today. He said that his company controlled about 90 per cent of the spirits distilled in the United States, but that the company had abandoned the policy of cutting prices.

There was no intention of driving competitors out of the business, he said, the intention being to sell at a fair and sure profit, letting others do as they might please in fixing prices. Mr. Rice gave the details of the organization of the trust, saying it was formed from the Distilling and Cattle Feeders' association, the American Spirits Manufacturing company, the Standard Distilling and Distributing company, all of which were controlled by the principal company by the ownership of the stock. It had merely become a clearing house for the other companies. All the stockholders of these several concerns, with the exception of a very small minority, had entered into the combination with zeal. The parent company also owns a rye whisky distillery at Minneapolis and the Hannis distillery. It makes about 90 per cent of the spirits produced and controls an equal percentage of the brands of Kentucky whisky. Of the capital stock of the company there had been issued $31,250,000 in preferred, and $46,250,000 in common.

Mr. Rice said he could not say what amount had been paid to the organizer of the trust, but it was a very delicate and important undertaking he thought and he should have been well paid. He was unable to state what had been paid for the C. H. Hannis rye distillery, but he considered it worth not less than $5,000,000. The
