"Particulars as the Goods Come In."

Letting Down the Prices for Holiday Sales HAY

In our last Tuesday night's cloak advertisement we said we would give you "particulars as Books and Stationery the goods came in." These are the particulars in plain simple facts:

Our Mr. James Hayden, a member of the firm, permanently located in New York, watching for a break or a change in the market, wired our Cloak buyer the "Weather is warm, Manufacturers more than anxious to unload. Come immediately." JAMES HAYDEN.

Our cloak buyer's expectations were more than realized. Owing to the warm weather and backward season in that section he found that manufacturers were willing to unload at any price within reason and he bought hundreds and hundreds of garments for less money than we ever dreamed of. All and every one of them are high class, artistic garments, the creations of the very best manufacturers who have made New York City Here is a partial list of the manufacturers whose entire productions were closed out to him.

Promotions for Sampson and Schley.

NEW YORK. Dec. 8.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: President McKinley, during an interview with Senator Wellington, expressed himself in favor of reviving the grade of vice admiral language of both Rear Admiral Sampson and Rear Admiral Schley. He believes that this is the simplest solution of the whole Sampson-Schley controversy, and it is expected that Senator Wellington will introduce a bill in a few days providing for the appointment of two vice admirals without specifying names. The president very frankly said that if such a bill became a law he would probably nominate both Sampson and Schley in the order named. Fail to Convict Bookmakers.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—In the cases against Sol Stein and W. F. Hogaman, bookmakers, charged with violating the breeders law, Judge Clark of the court of criminal correction teday ruled that the state failed to make a case by proving that the bets were registered in a real book with leaver and binding. The information pleaded that the bets were made by means of a "book" and the court held that this was not sufficient. The state attempted to show that a "book" could be made without a sheet of paper or a cover, but the court said he could not take judicial cognizance of a cant expression, or gamblers' phrases, and be would have to hold that the word "book" peant a book.
