

OPEN AMES SUGAR FACTORY

Plant and Equipment Reopened as the Finest in the United States.

BET GROWERS INSPECT THE INSTITUTION

Formal Opening Participated in by Omaha Railroad Officials—Expert Opinion on Raising Beets in Douglas County.

General Manager George F. Bidwell, General Superintendent C. C. Hughes, General Freight Agent K. C. Monahan and General Passenger Agent J. R. Buchanan of the Elkhorn railroad went to Ames, Neb., Saturday to witness the formal opening of the Standard Beet Sugar company's immense factory. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wadsworth, Mr. F. Bidwell, Mrs. E. Warren, Mrs. Z. T. Lindsay and Mrs. W. R. Steele of Deadwood.

At Fremont the party was joined by about 100 sugar beet growers of Dodge county, the city officials of Fremont and the county officials of Dodge county. A special train conveyed the party to the new factory, and from the time of arrival the visitors were the guests of Heyward G. Leavitt, president and general manager of the Standard Beet Sugar company.

In 1894, shortly after the completion of the immense feeding barns of the Standard factory, experiments were made in the culture of beets and the attendant success showed the admirable adaptability of the land for the raising of beets. Then came the plan to build a factory for the conversion of sugar from the beet. The culmination of this plan was witnessed Saturday when the factory was formally opened. The inspection of the men whose cultivation of beets made possible the location of such an establishment.

Inauguration of the work of constructing the factory began May 10, 1899. July 1 the first machinery was placed in position and January 1 the factory was completed and ready for operation. The initial run was made January 8 and the plant has been in operation since that time. The beets already purchased from the last year's crop will keep the factory running until about March 1.

Among the Largest in the World. The Ames factory at present has a capacity of 500 tons per day. It is constructed, however, with the view of doubling its capacity at the earliest possible moment warranted by the increased production of beets. The building is one of the largest and most substantial beet factories in the world. The main building is 100 by 300 feet in size and adjoining it is a beet shed 100 by 400, a boiler house 100 by 120 and a lime house 80 by 150. Each structure rests upon piling driven into the ground to a depth of twenty-five feet, upon which are solid concrete foundations. The frame work of the buildings is steel, the walls of brick, the roof of iron and the floors of concrete, rendering the structure absolutely fire proof. The completed plant, with the proposed capacity of 1,000 tons daily, represents an estimated investment of $1,000,000.

"Our factory," said President Leavitt, "represents in every particular the perfection of the process for extracting sugar from the sugar beet. The machinery is the best obtainable in the world. The factory is the economic use of steam. We are enabled to make use of every particle of steam, utilizing the exhaust for boiling and the vapors for heating purposes, no heat goes to waste.

Nothing Allowed to Go to Waste. "We extract sugar from all of the juice that is leached out from the beets. No molasses, syrups or wash waters are allowed to go to waste, whereas in most factories the molasses, representing 2 per cent of the sugar in the beets, goes to waste. This is accomplished by means of the Steffens patent, which is perhaps the most interesting piece of machinery in our equipment. It is regarded as the perfection in beet sugar, and but one other factory in the United States possesses one.

"Another notable feature is that for the size of the factory comparatively small amount of labor will be required. This results from the convenient arrangement of machinery, rendering easy supervision of the operation by the men in charge."

S. W. Sinsheimer, a practical beet sugar man who has made the cultivation of beets and the manufacture of sugar, stated that the farmers of Douglas county could probably raise beets as well as those living in Dodge county closer to the factory. "Sugar beets," he said, "can be raised to advantage on any land that is capable of producing corn. The beets in this vicinity average 12 and 14 per cent in sugar, and for this quality 14 per ton is paid. An average acre's production is eighteen tons, and a farmer's possession of an ordinary family of children and with a reasonable outlay for labor can cultivate twenty acres. Out of the proceeds for the beets comes the freight, which averages 1 cent per ton per mile. It is easy

STATUS OF NEBRASKA BANKS

Secretary Hall of the State Banking Board Issues a Statement of Their Condition.

LINCOLN, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Secretary Hall of the State Banking Board today issued a statement of the condition of the state banks of Nebraska at the close of business December 31, 1899, showing an increase during the quarter of loans, overdrafts, bills discounted and bills payable, and a decrease in capital stock and deposits.

"These changes are to be expected at this time of the year," said Secretary Hall in commenting upon the condition of the banks as shown in the report. "In an agricultural state like Nebraska the winter season is the active season for money. During the winter season there is always a decrease of deposits and an increase of loans. The changes this year are less marked than usual, however, and our banks, as a rule, are running strong. The legal reserve carried is 33 per cent. The items, bills discounted and bills payable, when compared with the total liabilities, show that the banks are pursuing a conservative course in the matter of borrowing. Prior to the past three items were usually around or above the million-dollar mark at this season of the year.

"The total assets of the banks, as shown in the statement issued today, amount to $11,721,465.47, while last year they amounted to only $10,123,057.32. This shows an increase in the volume of business transacted. A year ago the loans and discounts were $17,609,214.57, as against $11,000,000.00 this year, showing an increase in deposits during the year of nearly $3,500,000.00.

The report shows that during the quarter there was an increase in the following items: Loans and discounts, $2,349,382.63; Overdrafts, $24,500.07; Bills discounted, $18,238.25; Bills payable, $103,761.00; Deposits, $1,212,899.67.

The following statement shows the resources and liabilities of the Nebraska banks, not including national banks:

RESOURCES. Loans and discounts, $21,202,752.67; Overdrafts, 24,500.07; Stocks, securities, 278,479.96; Due from national, state and private banks and bankers, 5,211,559.90; Banking house furniture and fixtures, 1,183,872.23; Cash on hand, 1,069,971.70; Current expenses and taxes paid, 460,875.88; Premiums on bonds, etc., 2,456.49; Assets not otherwise enumerated, 124,185.61; Cash items, 1,569,449.99; United States bonds on hand, 28,700.00; Total, $31,571,465.47.

LIABILITIES. Capital stock paid in, $7,130,485.00; Surplus fund, 1,341,825.90; Undivided profits, 10,319,613.63; General reserves, 21,666,111.12; Other liabilities, 1,855.54; Notes and bills rediscounted, 3,283,243.34; Bills payable, 288,769.04; Total, $31,571,465.47.

DIVIDING UP THE PASTRY

Democrats and Populists May Not Agree on the Partition of Offices.

FORMER ARE SAID TO WANT FOUR PLACES

Populists Will Not Submit to that Proposition and Bryan May Be Called In to Settle the Wrangle.

LINCOLN, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Those who stand high in the councils of the three fusion parties are predicting that there will be serious trouble when it comes to nominate candidates for state offices. The democrats are assuming a most belligerent attitude and any attempt on the part of the populists to freeze them out in the conventions will be a signal for an immediate outbreak of hostilities. The appointment of William V. Allen as United States senator and other populists to the best positions in the state has intensified the feeling of independence that has been growing among the democrats during the last few years, who have resolved to insist on a fair division of the honors. The populists feel that they hold the key to the situation and can defy the democrats to withdraw from the fusion agreement. The democrats do not deny that there are excellent talents and misguided populists who would refuse to vote for a state ticket having three or more democratic nominees to preclude all possibility of fusion success, but they assert with emphasis that it would be just as easy for their own party to pull a party ticket as the election of the populist ticket an utter impossibility. Bryan will probably be called in to straighten out the impending crisis, but several of the leaders on both sides have already publicly asserted that his interference would render more difficult the solution of the problem.

Constantine J. Smyth, the only democratic state official, and Senator Hale of Madison, a prominent democratic leader in his section of the state, met at the Lincoln hotel yesterday and discussed the political outlook, both agreeing that the democrats should have at least three places on the ticket. This is to be the battle cry of the democrats and there is little prospect of it being forgotten. The populist attitude of the democrats is well expressed in the following conversation between Attorney General Smyth, Senator Hale and a populist:

Mr. Smyth—I suppose you attended the Jacksonian club banquet at Senator Hale's.

Senator Hale—Yes, and a glorious affair it was, too. I think it opened the eyes of some of those populists. They are all expecting a big fight over the division of the spoils at the convention this year.

Smyth—The democrats, certainly, will not be satisfied with one state office as they have been heretofore.

Hale—We ought to have at least four places on the ticket.

Smyth—That's right; the pops can't let us down with an office like the superintendent of public instruction, which has no political significance at all. We ought to have the treasurer, auditor and attorney general.

Hale—Yes, that's my opinion, but if the pops are stubborn and insist on all the best places we ought to have the land commissioner and the superintendent for the one we give up.

The Populist Voice—The state ticket will be made in that new auditorium over there, where the populists meet. No man can tell what that convention will do, but I'm sure it won't concede that much.

Smyth—The pops tell us it won't do for us to insist on that many offices as the rank and file of the populist party won't vote for so many democrats on the ticket.

Want a Fair Deal. Hale—They must remember that there are a great many democrats, also, that will not vote for a populist ticket unless we are given a good representation. There must be a fair deal for every one. It was the northeast part of the state is democratic and not populist. That section will expect a place on the ticket—a democrat of course.

Smyth—Senator, I've heard that you were a candidate for auditor.

Hale—Oh, friends have insisted that I become a candidate, but as yet I haven't given my consent.

Smyth—You have always been elected in your district. You would undoubtedly bring strength to the ticket.

Hale—No, I never had much trouble in being elected, but I much prefer an outdoor life to one of confinement and besides I have increased my cattle interests recently so that my business requires all my time.

Smyth—That's Edgar Howard. He's been spoken of for auditor. He's a democrat and would make a strong candidate.

Hale—And Nick Fritz is also a straight democrat. I understand that he has some support for land commissioner.

Smyth—Aren't you well? You'll have to be satisfied.
