COUNCIL STOPS CITY ATTORNEY'S SALARY

Legal Department is Disciplined for Failure to Report on Walnut Grading Maddle Within Time Specified.

At a special meeting of the council yesterday morning, called primarily to provide for the January salary list, an ordinance was read for the third time and passed appropriating the property known as the Bluff tract for park purposes. The owners will be reimbursed according to an estimate of damages prepared by three appraisers and the property will be turned over to the vigorously pushed. It is proposed to increase Board of Park Commissioners. The tract the appropriation for the exploitation of the includes about twenty acres lying between Lothrop street and the north line of the lagoon, Sherman avenue and the Missouri ment club, which has promoted the action, hopes eventually to extend the park both north and south until it contains the whole of the old exposition grounds east of Sher-

Another ordinance was passed for the extension of the park system providing that Vinton street, from Twentieth to Twentyfourth, abould be declared a boulevard. The thoroughfare will be given into the charge of the park commissioners and the usual restrictions regarding heavy traffic will be imposed. The boulevard will probably be given a surface of cinders in the spring.

Connell's Salary Is Stopped. The city clerk reported that he had received the mayor's approval of the levy ordinance and that funds were now available for the January salary roll. The salary accordingly went through its final reading and was passed, with the exception of an item for the remuneration of City Attorney Connell. The latter's salary was held back in accordance with a resolution which recited that inaumuch as the city attorney had failed to make a report on the Walnut Hill grading problem his pay should stop until a state. ment was forthcoming. The city attorney was asked several weeks ago for an opinion as to whether an equitable plan of assessment could be drawn up, but made no reply within the time stipulated. The city engineer to whom the matter had been jointly referred replied in due course and the council was moved to adopt severe measures with his fellow authority. The resolution was passed, Mount not concurring, Mercer, Beehel and Karr being absent. Mr. Connell privately expressed indignation at the action of the council. He said that the situation was an intricate one and that he had been examining the records in the treasurer's office at some length in order to return a proper report. As soon as he can judge intelligently on the merits of the case. Mr. Connell says, he will give the council the benefit of his advice.

Claims for Personal Injury.

A. B. Elrod, 1109 South Sixth street, filed a claim for $5,000, which he alleged to be his due for injuries received while riding on a load of hay at Sixth and M . streets. Elrod says that while passing ... road bridge near that point he was caught by the timbers overhead and severely crushed. He says that he exercised all pos- paironage bureau of the club on Thursday sible care and asks the city to become responsible for the injuries received. The claim was placed on file.

A petition was also received in behalf of Naoma Ferguson, 7 years old, who fell through a defective sidewalk at Twentyninth and Farnam streets. It was set forth than the child would probably be crippled for life and that the council had been notified previously that the walk was in a dangerous condition. The claim was referred, Last Rites Are Observed Over the his saloon Sunday night, in which no amount being specified

The chief of police, who had been in structed to look after the safety of electric light globes throughout the city, reported that with the police force at its present size he would be unable to detail men for the purpose. Frame Buildings Left Intact. Resolutions were adopted allowing Frank

Paschal, 609 North Sixteenth street, and Mrs. Estabrook, 420 North Sixteenth street, to continue business at their present locations despite the previous determination of the council to demolish the structures. Ordinances were read for the first and second times prescribing the size of water mains and the direction of their extension, and providing for the grading of Boulevard street from Twentieth street west, and of Valley street from Twentieth street to Twenty-first avenue.
