

ESTABLISHED JUNE 19, 1871.

GALLANT NEBRASKAN

Lieutenant John Ashton Boyle of Kearney Distinguishes Himself.

WINS LAURELS IN THE PHILIPPINES

With a Squad of Ten Men He Routa Large Body of Filipinos.

HE FACES A DEADLY RAIN OF BULLETS

Charges a Hundred Insurgents and Easily Puts Them to Flight.

FIVE OF THE INSURGENTS ARE KILLED

Hero of the Battle of Santiago Makes a Fine Record for Himself in the Islands of the Far East.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(Special Telegram.)—The War department has received an interesting account of the gallant conduct of one officer in the United States army in the Philippines, one being a Nebraskan, the other a Virginian. The story goes on to say that the Twenty-first infantry had driven the insurgents out of Calamba they occupied trenches some distance from the town so as to protect it from being attacked by the enemy. The insurgents, finding that the United States forces showed no disposition to follow them, established a post some little distance away in front of the Americans and would rally out at night and endeavor to surprise our men in the trenches. Altogether the fighting was very hot and nearby. Finally First Lieutenant Frank Key Meade, then in command of Company E of the Twenty-first, volunteered to capture or disperse the enemy by a plan of his own, or being revealed to the commanding officer, was heartily approved by him. Meade began to put his plan into execution.

Selecting twenty men, under cover of night he proceeded toward the enemy, intending to strike them from a certain point, while Lieutenant Juan Ashton Boyle of Kearney, Neb., also of the Twenty-first, with a squad of ten men, made a wide detour so as to approach the strike-point from another point. For some distance they had to crawl on their hands and knees. Boyle, in his eagerness, got considerable distance in advance of his men, and when within twenty-five yards of the enemy was discovered. Then they made a rush. One hundred men were leveled at Boyle just as he rose, and it is said it was a miracle he was not killed. Five of the insurgents were killed, a number wounded and the remainder driven to the jungle. With the exception of some slight scratches the Americans came off unscathed.

Lieutenant Boyle is the son of Juan Boyle of Kearney, where he has resided since he was 7 years old, having been born in Maryland. He is a grandson of the late Colonel John Boyle of the navy and of Colonel Henry Ashton of this city.

Both Meade and Boyle were in the Spanish-American war and participated in the battle of Santiago. Boyle captured the Spanish colors at Cagay, for which service President McKinley gave him a commission in the regular service.

To Settle with the Indians. Delegate Flynn of Oklahoma was instructed today by the house committee on Indian affairs to report favorably on Congressman Stark's bill to ratify the settlement between the Oke and Missouri Indians of Oklahoma and settlers in Kansas and Gage county, Nebraska. An amendment was agreed upon compelling those delinquent settlers who refuse to abide by the settlement concluded between the Indians and other delinquent settlers to pay up within thirty days.

Senator Thurston went to the front today for four Winnemago Indians, John Pouch, Robert Lincoln, Henry French and Thomas Decker, who have been in confinement for the last ten days on a wild goose chase affecting matters connected with the Winnemago agency. The Indians were here without authority of the Indian office, and they had no money they were in a fair way of becoming public charges. Thurston urged an abatement of the secretary of the Interior's order refusing to provide transportation for Indians in Washington without authority of the agent or the department, and Secretary Hitchcock finally recognized the justice of the cause by which that transportation be issued to the Indians and they will leave for Thurston county tomorrow.

South Dakota Matters. Senator Pettigrew's bill extending the time for the completion of the bridge across the Missouri river at Yankton until 1904 passed the senate today.

Congressman Gamble received a favorable report on his bill to treat with the Rosebud Indians for cession of their lands in Gregory county, but the bill was amended to provide that the agent of the Interior department negotiate the treaty instead of the commission, as provided in Gamble's bill.

Edgar B. Henderson, stenographer, of Omaha, has been tendered a position with the senate committee on Indian affairs by Senator Thurston.

LONDON HYSTERICAL

News from Ladysmith Sets the Stolid Cockney Wild with Joy.

CRAZY DEMONSTRATIONS IN THE STREETS

Thoroughfares Clogged with a Struggling Mass of Shouting Humanity.

INDESCRIBABLE CLAMOR ON ALL SIDES

All Thought of the Terrible Price of the Victory is Forgotten.

WORST OF THE WAR IS YET TO COME

Terrific Struggle Must Occur Before the British Forces Finally Defeat Brave Boer Patriots Fighting for Their Homes.

(Copyright, 1900, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, March 1.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—London celebrated the relief of Ladysmith by a riotous enthusiasm without parallel. The entire population went frantic with joy and the excitement, feeding upon itself, found vent as the hours sped in demonstrations of delight amounting to positive dementia. In the populous city and west end the most ardent admiration attained its most astonishing manifestation, but even in the quietest suburbs both collective and individual ebullitions of enthusiasm assumed an absolutely grotesque form. Business was suspended on the Stock exchange, while its members abandoned themselves utterly to the influence of the occasion, marching about in fours with linked arms, singing the national anthem and "Soldiers of the Queen." It was the reverse side of the medal from the black neck of Jagersfontein, Colonel and Stormberg, when the same individuals, their nerves shattered by successive disasters, displayed their feelings by equally puerile evidences of panic. In the suburbs it was no uncommon thing to see well-dressed women carrying the severed heads of the road in a species of spouting carnage, while omnibus conductors were shouting in childish frenzy: "To Pretoria. All the way, 2 pence!"

In the west end a gang of students from the university collected in the squares, and freight vans and dragged them along through the principal streets, loaded with others of their number, waving flags, cheering and singing patriotic songs, which were taken up by the throngs. The pavement, until the streets partook of the aspect of a bell.

Business Suspended. From early afternoon all business in the city was at an end and many stores were closed altogether. Orders were given by their employees, who poured into the packed streets, where all wheeled traffic had become impracticable, while hordes, and in many cases coats, they paraded, shrieking their delight over Buller's belated success.

As night came on the throngs grew denser, the demonstration became wilder and more unrestrained, finally degenerating into a seemingly universal orgie. Saloons did a roaring trade everywhere and scenes of mad revelry ensued. Bands of men and women took possession of the streets, which were only proceeded at a walking pace with frequent stops, maintaining an indescribable clamor, waving union jacks, indulging in all manner of horseplay, which with the clangor of countless church bells created an incessant din and turmoil, showing that the usually stolid cockney had for once gone stark, staring mad. In the seething infection of excitement all thought of the terrible toll of dead and maimed, the bravest of their soldiers, which had been paid for this victory, was forgotten. It was, on the whole, a painful exhibition of jubilation, telling a significant tale of abysmal despondency and terror from which it was the unhealthy reaction.

In the House of Commons when Balfour read Buller's despatch, saying that he had been in Ladysmith all but writing the poignant horrors of the besieged, there was some cheering, but no moderate transport. Earlier William Reimond had indignantly protested against imprisoning Cronje on a flagship at Capetown, crying out: "You are sending the Boers to their homes." The members, too, had just had a soberizing reminder of the grim realities of the situation by the army estimates for the ensuing year, revealing an increase of $200,000,000 on the calculation that 200,000 soldiers will have to be maintained in South Africa until September 30.

Worst Yet to Come. Nowhere among politicians did the World correspondent find any confidence that the relief of Ladysmith would bring the Boers to their knees. On the contrary the general conviction is that the worst of the war is yet to come. The St. James Gazette, the typical organ of public opinion, confesses: "No one need imagine that the Boers are to the end without fighting more desperate than any there has yet been or without losses heavier than any yet reported."

What Balfour called the unhappy entanglement of Ladysmith has already cost, exclusive of heavy unestimated casualties of the last week, an aggregate of 4,812 officers and men killed, wounded and missing, which enables the full mounted of the St. James Gazette's prophecy to be appreciated. The Boers are now falling back on their second and more effective line of defense and nothing earthly can prevent their annihilation, except the mediation of the United States, when England, by the weight of numbers, has made solitude of the Transvaal, and not till then will the fullest aspirations of the party now running this government be realized. The Boers are in favor of peace and justice for the dauntless Boer patriots, but the aristocracy and mob are allied in perpetrating a national crime, one actuated by the sentiment of the dominant race, the other by a national running amuck.

CAPTURED OFFICIALS SULLEN

Do Not Raise Fing on Government Building Until the Crowd Compels Them.

(Copyright, 1900, by Press Publishing Co.) CAPETOWN, March 1.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—The first great burst of enthusiasm yet experienced in Ladysmith was when the official report that the city had been relieved was spread abroad about 10 o'clock. The British element was out thousands strong and the town was alive with flags of every description. There was an immediate rush for the government house, where Milner faced an enthusiastic throng of English and Dutch natives singing the national anthem and "Rule Britannia" in many keys. Never before was there such genuine British feeling, never before such striking evidence of

THE DISLOYALTY OF THE CAPE OFFICIALS.

It was a dramatic moment when the crowd, leaving the government house, passed along the street where the government offices concealed the minions of a bold few with sad faces looking out stolidly on the crowd who were too good-humored to utter more than perfunctory groans. But when the large throng reached the foot of the House of Parliament and found no flags flying things looked more serious. Amidst strains of the national anthem mingled cries for the officials to raise the flag. At last one small pennant, carried by a patriotic volunteer to the roof, was hoisted up. The speaker, the doorkeeper, with trembling hands, executed the oversight on the ground the flags could only be raised by order of the speaker for a special occasion. So, although the news was already two hours old, the Houses of Parliament were the only buildings in Capetown where the union jack was not seen. The temper of the throng was not to be trifled with and at last the flag was raised.

Army officers urge the great need of horses. Cape Colony is practically depleted, and more are required every day.

OPINIONS OF THE EXPERTS

London Military Writers Quite Uncertain as to What the Boers Will Do.

(Copyright, 1900, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, March 1.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—The London expert says: "Buller tells us all the enemy is cleared off except a small rear guard he suspects of the Bull mill north-west of the junction of the Newcastle and Harri-smith railways. Just as we anticipated. They had shown a bolder and ever bolder front to Buller until they had got their big guns safely away and then they vanished. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for the Free State. The Boers are not likely to have the power left to interfere with them. There is nothing to show which railway they have elected to use, probably both, for some of the guns would certainly be entrained for Pretoria and the lighter guns for