QUEER WORK OF THE JURORS

Interesting Disclosures in Case of John Shannahan, Charged with Murder.

It is Alleged that the Foreman Exercised Undue Influence Over Certain Members of the Jury-Motion for New Trial.

Affidavits of a sensational nature have been filed by S. B. Knapp and P. N. Grant, members of the jury that convicted John Shannahan of manslaughter in Judge Baker's court last week. They allege that they were unduly influenced by Foreman tions on all other goods accordingly. Special The affidavits are filed in connection with a motion for new trial. It was generally expected that Shannahar would be acquitted on the charge of killing Ed Callahan, because he was found no guilty when tried a few months ago for the murder of Ed Joyce. Both killings took place at the same time, and the circumstances were identical. On the first trial Shannahar made a showing of self defense and established that the men he killed had entered a South Omaha saloon operated by him for the purpose of robbery.

The jurors who make affidavit say that there was a most exciting argument in the jury room and that Foreman Kirk asserted the authority of his position to influencethe other jurors to return a verdict for manslaughter. It is said that he declared it would be for the best interests of Shannahan to find him guilty of manslaughter. rather than to have the jury disagree, this that on such trial the defendant might be convicted in a higher degree. It is said that the foreman argued that no matter if a manslaughter verdict were found Shannahan would be pardoned immediately. After a long wrangle this verdict was agreed upon, but the complaining jurors were not satisfied and have filed their protest. It is expected that a new trial will be granted on the showing made. Since being found guilty Shannahan has been in jail. Previous to the trial he was out on bond.

of the Burchards. The divorce case of Mrs. Dollie Burchard against Foster Burchard was on trial yesterday before Judge Dickinson in equity court. A cross-bill has been filed by the defendant and both parties to the suit appeared in court. Mrs. Burchard alleges cruel treat-On the witness stand she declared ber husband to be cranky and unpleasant in his domestic relations. Mr. Burchard makes substantially the same allegations against his wife and in his cross-bill he tells a story of how she once threw a knife Several witnesses are being examined and the case is occupying more time than is usually given to divorce trials.

MATT GARNER IS FOUND GUILTY. Jury in Criminal Court Finds Verdiet

Against the Defendant. A jury in Judge Baker's court brought in a verdict yesterday finding Matt Garner guilty of assault with intent to rob. Sentence has not yet been pronounced. Garner was accused of being with William Cummings in his attempt to hold up Harry Trumble in South Omaha last December. Trumble shot and killed Cummings. The attempted robbery was not successful. Trumble was immediately acquitted of the to take charge of the remains.

ADJUSTMENT OF BANK SUIT.

Depositor Seeks to Recover Money Which is Claimed to Be Due. Judge Keysor is hearing a case wherein Annette C. Davis is suing John G. Cortelyou, who was cashier of the defunct Dime Sav ings bank, for the recovery of $6,000. This case was first tried in the federal court, where a receiver was appointed for the bank. Cortelyou turned the money over to the receiver, and it is on this point that Mrs. Davis brings suit, her plea being that she should have had returned to her the amount of her deposit in the bank, instead of it being given to the receiver.

WILLIAM JONES IS IN COURT.

Trial Before Judge Baker Wherein Defendant is Accused of Assault. Mrs. Muchneck keeps a grocery store at Twelfth and Capi tol avenue. The information charges that Jones entered the store and attempted to take away with him the contents of the cash drawer. Several witnesses are to be examined and the case promises to be some what lengthy.

Saloon Keeper Sued.

Emma Walker, for herself and infant daughter, Irene, has instituted suit in the United States circuit court against John Moser, a saloon keeper of Ashland, and his bondsmen and Edward Swanson of the same place for damages in the sum of $15,-000, because of the death of her husband, Charles Walker.

The petition alleges that the defendant and Edward Swanson, contrary to the provisions of the law of the state of Nebraska, at the saloon of the former, in the city of Ashland, on the night of February 6, or the morning of February 7, 1900, sold Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. March 8. liquor to Charles Walker, the husband of one plaintiff and the father of the other, and to William Bradsby, while the said Walker and Bradsby were intoxicated, and that while under the influence of the liquor so illegally sold Walker and Bradsby started to drive home in a buggy, but that by reason of their intoxicated condition they caused the horses to run away and Walker was thrown from the buggy, being instantly killed.

Governor Poynter Himself Promises Them a Polics Commission.

COURT DECISION PLEDGED IN ADVANCE

Campaign Contributions in Sum of $1.500 Exacted from Representatives of Three Omaha Breweries Friday Last.

The secret of the sudden replenishment of the democratic machine exchequer Friday The shoes are all new, stylish goods, direct has come to light, disclosing a deal which is typical of the tactics of the gang in control of the fusion campaign. According to good authority the story is as follows:

last Thursday to attend a meeting gotten up by Boer sympathizers, addressed by Miss Maud Gonne, he was persuaded to stay over until the next day, when a conference was arrranged between him and the managers of this meeting, at which several spokesmen for Mr. Poppleton were also present, it was asserted to the brewers that the case brought in the supreme court by Attorney General Smyth to oust the present police board and restore to the governor the power to appoint police commissioners for Omahe was already practically decided in advance and that the governor would within thirty days be authorized to appoint new police ommisseioners.

Under these representations the demand was made outright that the three Omaha breweries contribute $500 apiece to the democratic city campaign and in return Governor Poynter is said to have promised that of the conference of New Orleans exchanges he would appoint no one as police commisto be made out the names favored by the them to protest. The word of the governor The speakers were Messrs. Sanders, Fish, was pledged that their protest should be Bigelow and Redman, the latter being a heeded, so that the new police board apveteran pilot of the Mississippi. > Business Men's Meeting a Blind. After receiving this addition to their resources democratic stock naturally took rise Friday and the campaign managers who had the day before been complaining that they did not have a cent in hand or a dollar in sight suddenly became flush and started out to make bets and hire men and carriage: without stint.

For fear they could not give explanation of the manner in which they became possessed of this windfall that would pass muster with their church friends, whom they were working under assurance that Mr. Poppleton was opposed to the saloons meeting of business men Sunday, interested in Mr. Poppleton's campaign, and gave it. out through their organ that at this meeting a large sum of money was subscribed by his business men admirers. The fact is, however, that the business men's meeting was a fake and that no considerable sums were contributed for Mr. Poppleton by the business men.

Outside of the heavy assessments levied olders in the county court house and under appointment of the state authorities, the $1,500 of the brewers noney constituted the saving clause of their campaign fund. Whether they will deliver the consideration agreed upon in the shape of the promised supreme court decision and the appointment of police commissioners "O. K.'d" by the brewers is yet to transpire.

"I Told You So!"

Don't crow, and don't be a sore-head. That's our advice to the victorious, and to the vanquished. Both were good men, but only one could obtain the office. Now let's drop politics and go back to business. Let's all put our shoulder to the wheel and talk for Omaha, talk for "The Nebraska," talk for Good Clothing. Today we are ready with our unmatchable spring display of ready-to-wear clothing for Men, Youths and Boys. It stands unique because every suit and top coat is absolutely new to our stock and to Omaha; not a last season's garment in all the great array, and each garment was made under our close supervision, while the fabrics and trimmings were selected with that intelligent conception of Nebraska tastes, which only comes through long and intimate association with Nebraska folks.

To make a long story short just ask the Clothing man to show you that
