PRIMARIES OCCUR TONIGHT

Republicans Will Hold Caucuses for the Nomination of City Officers.

WILL CHOOSE TWO SETS OF DELEGATES PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

School and City Conventions Will Both Re Taken Into Consideration -Gossip of the Municipal Campaign.

The republicans will hold primaries tonight in each precinct in the city for the usual grist of bills, the first business transpurpose of selecting one set of delegates to acted was the appointment of judges, clerks attend both the school and city conventions, and police for the coming election. The For the first time in the history of Council Traveling Auditor Kingsley of the Omaha & St. Louis railway was in the city yeaterday checking up the local office.

Ara. Hancock has returned to his home in Minnesota after a visit of two months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hancock, 66 Eighth street.

Arthur Southwell had a best of the caucuses will be conducted under the primary system and every elector will be afforded a fair opportunity to cast his vote. The caucuses in each precinct will open at 8 o'clock and will be kept open until every elector present has had the opportunity to cast his bellet. holding the primaries and the number of delegates to which each precinct is entitled as follows:

First Ward-First precinct, at Wheeler & Hereld's office, six delegates; Second pre-duct, at Merriam building, Upper Broadway, seven delegates.
Second Ward-First precinct, at council chamber, seven delegates; Second precinct, at 74 Broadway, seven delegates.
Third Ward-First precinct, at Masonic Temple, seven delegates; Second precinct, at hose house, South Main street, six delegates.

Fourth Ward-First precinct, at Farmers' hall, six delegates; Second precinct, at Smith's hall, Sixteenth avenue, five delegates.

Fifth Ward—First precinct, at county building, Twelfth street and Fifth avenue, seven delegates; Second precinct, county building, Thirteenth street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues, five dele-

Sixth Ward-First precinct, at 2020 Broad-way, six delegates; Second precinct, at M. P. Nelson's place, one delegate. Dates of the Conventions.

The republican school convention will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the superior court room, when two candidates for members of the Board of Education and candidate for treasurer of the school district will be placed in nomination. The city convention for placing in nomination a city ticket will be held Wednesday of next week at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at the same place.

The primaries tonight are expected to draw out a large percentage of the voters, as each candidate for the different offices will seek to secure a delegation favorable to his candidacy. The business men, it is said, will for the first time, turn out in force and take an active part in the proceedings. Principal interest lies in the head of the ticket and the makeup of the delegations elected tonight will practically settle this. There are four avowed candidates in the field for the nomination for mayor, Charles W. McDonald, the selection of the business men's committee, appointed by C. M. Harl; W. J. Jameson, Alexander Wood and Colonel W. F. Baker. During the last few days the name of Dr. H. B. Jennings has been prominently mentioned.

City Attorneyship.

rable interest is being taken the nomination for city attorney and the ker (rep.) candidacy of John M. Galvin has during the last day or so taken on a large sized boom.

He is regarded as a strong candidate and one who would lend considerable strength to the republican ticket. O. D. Wheeler and George H. Scott are both out for the nomination and each undenbreally will have nomination and each undoubtedly will have selected tonight. About the only other contest on the books is for city treasurer, Frank T. True, city finance clerk, and W. M. Shepard being both out for the nomination. Present indications are that the nomination will go to True.

The democrats will hold their city convention tonight at 8 o'clock in the superior court room, when they will put in nomination both a school and city ticket. The gathering promises to be tame, as there is now practically no contest over any of the nominations and the naming of the ticket will be a cut and dried affair,

MINERS DEMAND A RAISE

Fifteen cents was to all appearances the slogan, which means 20 per cent increase on the 1899 scale of 75 cents the year round. The 221/2 per cent has been demanded right along, and though the difference of 21/2 per cent is apparent the raise the miners demand will equal that on some scales paid in various districts.

The employes claim a wage in proportion to the prices paid to the men in competitive states, not alone because of themselves individually, but for the benefit of miners in other states, who, if the lows men worked for less than they, the miners claim, would be eventually shut out of work because of the advantage the Iowa operators would have in the market.

An amendment to strike out the provision by which it was provided that nothing in the measure should interfere with the use of the Industrial Home for the Blind as the parsley and serve at once, location of the school, if such a plan were deemed wise, brought forth a strong opposition. It was argued during the entire morning session and defeated this afternoon. Another amendment to make an appropriation of $50,000 for the establishment of the school, instead of one-tenth of 1 mill tax, proposed in the bill, was also defeated, and the measure passed in its original form. Its passage by the house is taken as an indication that it may go through the upper body, though none of the bills pertaining to the Normal schools have yet gotten out of committees in that body.

SOLVING A GRAVE QUESTION.

When is an Old Maid Not an Old Maid? -No Prizes Offered. That sounds like a conundrum, but as the answer is to be given by the combined women's societies of Plymouth church it is safer to guess that it is a problem in sociology. The question belongs, indeed, to comparative sociology, for the answer varies widely in different times and places, observes the sedate Brooklyn Eagle. In Turkey, no doubt, the girl of 17 begins to feel conscious of the contumely which, in unprogressive countries, waits upon the woman who is unable to "catch" a husband. In Germany and continental Europe the obloquy is postponed to a later age, but it has not been abolished. In one of Rose Terry Cooke's early New England stories an energetic woman married and supported a shiftless ne-er-do-well, because she understood perfectly "That it was more honorable to be anybody's wife than nobody's." The notion that a woman may prefer not to marry, unless she can get just the particular man she wants, is extremely modern and almost distinctively American, although we get a flavor of it in the recent London novels. That idea carried into practice is responsible for the bachelor girls, who have had such a hard time making landlords and landladies understand the blameless nature of their solitariness. They have, for the most part, won their fight and it is probably in celebration of the victory that the "old maids' convention' is to be held in Plymouth next Wednesday night.

When Napoleon wished to stop the dangerous practice of women driving their own carriages on the boulevards he issued an edict granting permission to all women over ous practice of women driving their own 30. Not a woman in Paris would be seen driving after that. Times have changed will fail to quickly, completely and permasince then, or not a handful could be gathered for an "old maids" convention." The phrase allowing the town constable to sell one o their cows for taxes every spring, because they would not pay voluntary tribute to government for which they could not vote they were known not only in Glactonburg but throughout New England as "thou spunky Smith girls." It was a convenient and kindly phrase, and it slipped more readily from the tongue than do the modern substitutes, "bachelor girl" and "bachelo maid." These last still sound new and raw and are only kept alive by the impossibility under modern conditions, of the phrase which the Plymouth women are reviving If a woman is as old as she looks, wher

Mrs. S. M. Idol, Winston, N. O., writes: "Cancer is hereditary in our family, my father, sister, and aunt having died from this dreadful disease. I was thoroughly alarmed, therefore, when a malignant Cancer appeared on my side, and at once sought the treatment of the best physicians. They were unable to do any good, however, as the Cancer continued to grow worse and spread. I then tried S. S. S., which forced the disease out, and cured me permanently Varicocele Cured Painlessly and Without Cutting.

POSITIVE PROOF:

Mr. A. McSweeney, 1808 Corbett St., Omaha, Neb., writes to Dr. Bennett:
Some few weeks ago I purchased one of your belts and after wearing same for 10 weeks i find that my varicocele of three years' standing has been entirely cured, and will say that I am a much stronger man in every respect than I was before I commenced to use the Dr. Bennett Electric Belt. To all who are skeptical in regard to the merits of your Belt I will cheerfully recommend it as to what it claims to cure.

At least one man out of every ten has Varicocele (no matter what produced it), and its constant, insidious interference with nature's normal process is the direct cause of nine-tenths of the nervous, mental weaknesses with which mankind is afflicted.

There is not a case of Varicovele that
