CLINTON, Ia., March 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gillis, an aged couple living here, were badly burned Tuesday evening by a lamp explosion. They were sitting near a table reading when the accident occurred. The burning oil splattered about the room, lighting the clothes of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis, terribly burning the latter. Her arms, neck, face and back suffered most. Mr. Gillis escaped with severe burns on the hands and arms. The flames spread so rapidly that Mrs. Gillis was almost entirely smothered.
