The 308th anniversary of the birth of John Amos Comenius, the great Bohemian educator, was celebrated Wednesday night in Bohemian turner hall, on South Thirteenth street, near Dorcas. The character and life of Comenius were park, as drafted by the engineer of the John Pipal of Weston and in English by portrayed in the Bohemian tongue by Rev. G. Pearse, superintendent of public schools. Among other interesting points in his career these were touched upon:

Proud Equine Refuses to Be Led Be kind a Pony-Owner Takes the Crowd's Advice.

People who happened to be abroad Wednes day shortly after I o'clock in the vicinity of Fifteenth and Farnam streets were afforded much amusement by the spectacle of a young man riding a pony and attempting to lead by a rope halter another and much larger horse.

The horse refused to be led. It objected to the indignity of being taken through the principal streets of Omaha behind an undersized nag of uncertain pedigree, so in front of Browning, King & Co.'s store it braced itself for a determined stand and held its own for several minutes, to the delight of the assembled crowd. Finally a good Samaritan stepped out with a barrel stave and began lambasting the stubborn animal in the rear. This produced little or no effect. A person who resembled Rattlesnake Pete came to the rescue with an enormous whip and applied it with vigor. The horse concluded that part of the street was getting too warm and allowed itself to be trotted along to the corner of Fifteenth Rabbi Simon of this city will attend the and Farnam, where it again braced itself uneral of the late Rabbi Wise in Cincin- at an angle of forty-five degrees and made another attempt to hold its ground.

Here another volunteer came forward with a buggy whip and applied the lash vigorously, which resulted in another forward movement of a few yards. Progress was made in this manner, in the course of half an hour, of a block or more.

The balky horse by this time seemed to have become accustomed to the whipping. prior to In front of the Ramge block it again come to a standstill. The crowd seemed to enjoy the struggle between horse and man. Every movement was watched with interest, Finally some of the leaders of the crowd got together and held a consultation. Advice was given the young man on the pony, which he accepted and with good result. He transferred the saddle to the horse, mounted the latter, took the pony in tow and rode triumphantly away.

Republican Victory Predicted.

"The situation is growing better every day," said Manager Carpenter at repub-"We are lican headquarters last night. constantly in receipt of advices which show us that the republican ticket with Kelly us that the republican ticket with Kelly at its head will win at the coming election. Section 2. Section 3. Secti ond ward, which is spreading to all of the wards and the same may be said of the rest of the candidates."

Every candidate is making a house to house canvass and this is the kind of work that tells. For members of the school board Colonel Lott, A. V. Miller and Theodore Schroeder are gaining friends every day and it is predicted that they will be elected. In connection with the campaign Mr. Carpenter said that most of the meetings were in the various halls in the different wards and were attended by local speakers only, It is the intention, however, to have one or two big rallies the latter part of the week at which a number of well known speakers will deliver addresses.

It is stated that according to republican eyes the situation could not look more hopeful. Kelly is gaining ground every day and so is Koutsky. What is said of these two may be said of all of the candidates on the republican ticket. One well known democrat said yesterday, in talking to a party of friends in a bank in South Omaha. that it would not surprise him if the entire republican ticket was elected. As for himself he declared that he would vote for Kelly. Koutsky and the entire councilmanic ticket.
