He Stands Close to Roberts-Convinced that Fifteen Thousand Foreign Troops Have Landed.

LONDON, March 29.-The latest news from Bloemfontein, contained in a dispatch published in the second edition Times and dated Wednesday, March 28, again dwells upon the necessity for not making a premature advance. This correspondent, who on several occasions seemed to have been chosen as the mouthpiece of Lord Roberts, cables:

TRYING TO STIR UP GERMANY

Russian Press Arguing that Fatherland's Interests Lie with France Against England.

BERLIN, March 29.- The efforts of influential Russian newspapers to show that Germany's interests lie with Russia and France against England are attracting some attention here. The Kreuze Zeitung quotes an article by Prince Trubetzky, showing that the Franco-Russian alliance does not now have a threatening character, but England is threatening the peace of the world and that Germany, seeking a new weapon in its augumented fleet, needs an ally in order to enable it to withstand British pressure.

ON THE SITUATION Eminent Novelist Says that France Has No Destre to Go to War with England.

(Copyright, 1900, by Press Publishing Co.) Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-In an interview with the Paris correspondent of the Hawadenbrock, president of the Dutch Red Morning Leader Zola ridiculed the likelihood of a war between England and France. He said:

used to produce a change of ministry, but, believe me, no French government will! not you see the true state of affairs? The French people must have some subject of excitement and England at present seems a little inflated and perhaps a little overbearing, but such effervescence in France is not the good sense of the country.'

Zola criticised the Boer war, saying that the sight of a great and splendid power turning all its forces against a little people who were not doing much harm must move not only France but the whole world.

Expects No Assistance. President Kruger said that the Boers looked for no assistance from any nation. He declared that the Boers would not destroy the mines in any event. He said that States would offer to act as arbitrator of the differences between the two countries and that he was perfectly content to accept the decision that would have been made, but

Great Britain refused to arbitrate. Mr. Kruger explained at length the efforts which the British authorities made to seal up Delagoa bay and then told of the message he sent to Lord Salisbury concerning it. He said he refused to have any more correspondence with Mr. Chamberlain, but frequently cabled to Lord Salisbury. In one cablegram he asked Lord Salisbury to allow foodstuffs to enter through Delagoa Kitchener's appointment. bay or they would be compelled to feed the 3,000 British prisoners in Pretoria on maize

LONDON, March 29 .- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-The interview with Kruger, published in New York, is the leading news feature in all the London evening papers today. It arrived too late for editorial comment, but it is given prominence, which testifies to the importance attached to it among politicians. The sentiment is that Kruger's declaration is held to express faithfully the resolution of the Boers to fight to the end, though his confidence in ultimate victory is regarded as a bluff.

> "It is a war steadily and stealthily planned by the queen's Dutch subjects and the Dutch republics for fully twenty years. For between four and six years they have been equipped for it. They began purchasing arms and planning defenses before the Jameson raid. Let no one fool you with the falsehood about that. Finally, President Kruger begged President Steyn to declare war three years before Steyn consented. Next rid your mind of the notion that you are crushing two farmer republics. There not a farmer in the two countries and only one, the Free State, was a republic in any way except misnaming. These people are herders of cattle, sheep and goats, like the Israelites of old and the Afridis, Turks and Balkan peoples of today. His (the Boer's) so-called farms are as nature made them, merely reaches of veldt whereon his cattle graze. Here they armed many blacks to fight us, showing all the world how scandalously fraudulent idea of our employing native Indian troops, "There has hardly been a battle in which the Boers have not abused either the white flag or the Geneva cross or both. At Spion-

This we saw them do at Modder river also, and Kimberley is where the Boers shelled the funeral cortege of George I. Abram, an American. At many places they fired on our ambulances. I saw them do it at the Modder river and saw them fire on our stretcher bearers in that battle time and time again. When we entered Jacobsdal it looked like a city of doctors. Every man in the streets wore the Red Cross bandage on his arm. These were the men who had just been shooting us from behind garden walls. INDIANAPOLIS, March 29.-A special from Washington to an afternoon paper today says that General Harrison has expressed some pretty blunt views on the Boer question and has written a friendly personal letter to Secretary Hay on the subject. Either in this letter or in some communication he is accredited with having said he "hoped the Boers would find some place on the green earth where they would have a right to live unmolested by the British. They have more than once sacrificed their land and their homes and moved on to avoid the British aggression."

General Harrison was asked about the matter tonight and said: "I have nothing to say upon the matter nor do I want to be drawn into any newsparent compoversy by confirming or denying the port."

Pettus of Alabama moved to strike out the amendment, which motion involved the question whether a tax could be imposed on products imported into Porto Rico which was not imposed on the same products imported into other ports of the United States.

Gallinger defended the amendment of the committee. During the Spanish regime, he said, a tariff had been imposed on coffee imported into Porto Rico because the coffee raised there is regarded the best in the world and it was desired to prevent it from "If you have a free hand to mutilate the

The next committee amendment was tha which provided that the Spanish or native Inhabitanta of Porto Rico and their children should be citizens of Porto Rico and as such entitled to the protection of the United States. Morgan maintained that the people of Porto Rico were citizens of the United States and as such were entitled to the right and immunities prescribed by the constitution. The amendment, he said, was a "valu and empty declaration." It became evident that the amendmen could not be disposed of today and it was passed over until tomorrow. Morgan offered an amendment to the section of the bill which proposes to redeem the Porto Rican silver coins in United States money, giving 60 cents of American meney for the Porto Rican peso. The amendment proposed to pay 100 cents for the peso.
