Some Unfair Discriminations.

For example, when we found we could not secure space to accommodate all intending exhibitors, permission was asked to slevate the facades of the American buildnge. The request was denied. France asserting that the eleven-feet regulation applied to all. Later, however, when it was too late to change to the United States' plans it was found that France itself and certain privileged nations were building many feet higher. This discrepancy has done incalcutable injury.
