

ONE HUNDRED DAYS IN JAIL

Innocent Man Made to Suffer for Another.

HE WAS WANTED AS A WITNESS

Accused Party Has Left Town and Mr. Miller Has Been Released at Last.

A striking example of the queer situations that sometimes arise in the law is found in the case of Frank Hulzmann, who was arrested last December on the charge of assault.

This is an instance where the principal witness for the prosecution suffered punishment while the alleged violator of the law is free. George Miller played the part of victim in this turning of the tables.

Miller, a transient laborer, was the chief dependence of the prosecution for the conviction of Hulzmann. Realizing that he could not furnish surety and was sent to jail, Hulzmann gave a bond immediately after his arrest to permit to go his way.

Miller remained in jail patiently, more or less, for 100 days. Then he appeared at Judge Baker of the criminal court and was released. He had grown weary of waiting for an opportunity to give testimony against Hulzmann and he so stated in language so plain as to admit of no ambiguous construction.

Yesterday it was rumored that Hulzmann had left the city. At least he had not thus far appeared before Judge Baker to renew bond for the next term of court as required by the rules and the special messenger on the staff of the county attorney reports that he is unable to locate Hulzmann. Unless he makes appearance before next Saturday his bond will be declared forfeited. The charge against Hulzmann is only common assault—a trivial offense in comparison with the aggregate of the criminal docket and there is no authority to warrant an extended search.

Had Hulzmann remained for trial, and had he been convicted, his sentence would probably not have exceeded sixty days in jail. Thus it appears that Miller, against whom was expiated the offense alleged against the missing Hulzmann, Miller is a brawny fellow—unlettered and unkempt—but he received a compliment from the court of which many a more pretentious citizen might feel proud.

When he appeared before Judge Baker a few days ago to plead for release from jail, the court asked him if he would promise to appear in court to give testimony in connection as Hulzmann might be arraigned for trial.

"No, your honor, I'll make no such promise," said Miller, "for I have to work for a living and if I can't find a job here I must leave town in search of one."

"You may go," said Judge Baker, "and I would rather take your word than to rely upon the bond of many a man."

Miller mumbled thanks and hurried from the court house. So far as is known in court circles, both Hulzmann and Miller are now absent.

BEVINS' ANSWER IS FILED.

Denies the Charges of Cruelty Made by His Wife.

Andrew Bevins has filed answer to the divorce action brought against him a few weeks ago by his wife, Alice. Tears came to the eyes of the old man as he handed the document over to the clerk. For nearly thirty years he has been a resident of Omaha and for a quarter of a century a practicing attorney. He married the wife who now seeks separation in 1876 and they have reared a large family.

Mrs. Bevins, in her petition, alleged extreme cruelty. Judge Fawcett issued a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from going to the family residence during pendency of the suit. This was subsequently modified so that he was permitted to sleep there. The answer upholds the honor of Mrs. Bevins, but charges that the defendant is a cruel and unfeeling man. The answer is lengthy and a large proportion of space is devoted to acknowledgment of the moral character of the plaintiff.

RECEIVER HAS BEEN ASKED FOR.

Partners in a Jewelry Firm Can't Get Along Amicably.

George Bloom, of the firm of Bloom & Zilke, manufacturing jewelers, has filed application in the district court for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the affairs of the partnership. The junior member of the firm is said to be a minor, and the petitioner relates that he has repudiated his contract by which the partnership was to be governed. On account of his being under legal age the courts are asked to adjudicate the differences.

Thompson Wants His Children.

Willet Thompson has begun proceedings in the district court to have the order set aside by which his two minor children have been delivered into the care of guardians. On a showing made by the Child Saving Institute some time ago the courts decided that the father and mother were not properly situated for the care of their children.

Doings in the United States Court.

In the United States court this morning Judge Munster granted the order of the Manufacturers National bank defendant, in the case of the National Bank of the American National bank and others. By this decision the case is out of court so far as the Manufacturer's National bank is concerned.

Millions for Base Ball.

A million of dollars are spent every year upon the game of base ball, but large as this sum is, it cannot begin to equal the amount spent by people in search of health. There is a sure method of obtaining strength, and it is not a costly one. We urge those who have spent much and lost hope to try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It strengthens the stomach, makes digestion easy and natural, and cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and weak kidneys.

Announcements.

The Creighton-Orpheum offers an attractive program at today's matinee. The next amateur performance will be next Friday evening, in which the following persons will participate: Dan Morieta, fire king; Daisy and Alexander Elvira, juvenile singers and eccentric shouters; Riley and Buckley, comedians; Lulu McDonald, in a new specialty; Gertrude Donnoviz, character entertainer; La Petite Fannie Ward, the local Patti; Miss Dunn and Miss Bates, comedettes; Poodles and Patrick, contortionists and head balancers; Speed and Roth, imitators of Venetian gondoliers; Marie Fuller, high kicker and eccentric dancer, and ten others.

Miss Ada Rehan, who stands at the head of her profession as an exponent of legitimate comedy, will give her inimitable rendition of Katherine in "Taming of the Shrew" at Boyd's Friday night. There is nothing new that can be said of Miss Rehan in regard to the rendering of the part. It is her masterpiece and in it she stands without a peer, both in America and Europe. The play is given in its entirety instead of being cut, as has usually been done. Miss Rehan is strong enough in her acting to give her company some little chance to show their ability also, therefore she does not feel it necessary to omit all strong scenes but her own.

COLLECTING PERSONAL TAXES

City Treasurer Continues to Disturb Those Who Seek to Avoid Payment.

The city treasurer, armed with his official prod, the distress warrant, continues to disturb the dreams of the personal tax shirker. He believes that the tax has been evaded more through carelessness than design and that a large proportion of the $200,000 in arrears may be collected without the use of extreme measures. The seizure of Louis Slobodinsky's household goods two weeks ago has had an immense moral effect and many delinquents have since appeared at the treasurer's window. There are still a considerable number who ignore repeated warnings and upon these the treasurer promises to descend with an express wagon and corps of deputies. One such visitation was made yesterday, the victim being a well known jeweler, delinquent in the sum of $500. When the jeweler saw the hand of a deputy reaching into his showcase he weakened and promised to make payment at once, a portion of the amount being produced as an earnest of good intentions. There are a number of others, many of them prominent merchants, who may expect a similar call within the next few days.

In accordance with the printed advertisement the city treasurer will sell at auction on May 3 the goods seized at the Slobodinsky residence. Among the effects are three engraved and paintings and a quantity of parlor and bed room furniture. Slobodinsky is in arrears in the amount of $1,000 and the sale of his effects will bring about one-half that amount.

A Photographing Journey Through Our Island Possession.

We announce in another column of this paper an enterprise of great interest to the American people, and one which will certainly interest every voter who is to assist in determining governmental policy with reference to our island possessions. Our islands and their people have been photographed for this information. An exhaustive photographing tour covering the cities, towns, villages, the people in their business, their homes and their pastimes has been made, and the islands and their people have been described as well as pictured with a thoroughness that will make the publication a standard authority. It has the merit not only of desirability in statement, but of great artistic beauty. By the use of the camera our islands have been practically transferred to the printed page. The people will certainly want to see them. We have made especially liberal arrangements whereby our readers may thus have the opportunity at their friend's of systematically making a tour of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Isle of Pines—of the Hawaiian group, consisting of twelve islands, and finally the Philippine archipelago.

CITY WILL PAY THE CLAIM

Amount Due Contractor Hendrickson for Work Done Sixteen Years Ago Will Be Paid.

An instance of the city's upright dealing in its business transactions is shown in the case of Peter Hendrickson, a veteran contractor, who was well known in this city early in the 80's. Hendrickson did a job of grading for the city in 1884 on a bid of $630 and his bill was approved by the council and the Board of Public Works. He drew a warrant for the amount and kept it in his possession. Shortly afterward Hendrickson became insane and has never since been able to attend to his business. In the confusion of Hendrickson's illness the warrant was lost.

A few weeks ago the matter was accidentally brought to the attention of Hendrickson's relatives and a claim was filed with the comptroller. It was found that no effort had ever been made to collect the warrant and that the property owners affected had paid the grading tax, with interest, the whole amount being paid. The comptroller investigated the matter and found that a proper showing could be made that the warrant was really lost. A recommendation has been drawn up, therefore, advising the council to make good the amount of the missing warrant and accruing interest, with certain provisions indemnifying the city from a second payment. The contractor's family, therefore, will undoubtedly enjoy the fruits of Hendrickson's labor after a lapse of sixteen years, although no legal voucher exists and their sole reliance is upon the city's sense of honor.
