Small Chance of Catching Them.

It is now apparent that the chances of Lord Robert's catching the retreating Boers | field. is very slender. The Boers have everywhere retired at the first pressure of the British advance and the hope that General Rundle would be able to induce them to remain at De Wet's dorp until they had been forced to fight has been disappointed.

No attempt was made to pursue the commandos rotiring from Wepener. Everything now depends upon the progress of General French's cavalry brigades, but they are entering a very difficult, hilly and practically unknown country. The cavalry has already had a long march over heavy and sandy roads and nothing is known regarding the condition of the horses. In any case it is a race between the federals and the forces of General French and General Hamilton. The slowness of the British infantry and previous ability of the Boers to move rapidly, with guns and baggage. and that J. X. Merriman, treasurer, is It is also learned the British government over their own country, lead to a belief that Lord Roberta' enveloping operations will fall and will have to be repeated further north. At the most he will perhaps capture some Boor guns and baggage and barry the retreating burghers.

Considerable results have been attained United States consul general, James G. In the relief of Wepener and the clearing of Stowe, in his speech at the banquet of the the southeast corner of the Free State, but the Boer army, whatever its strength, has still to be dealt with. It is asserted that the Boers are collecting enormous quantities of provisions in the Leydenburg district with a view to a final stand in the mountains.

"The districts around Johannesburg and Begsbie's foundry at Johannesburg is turning out 700 shells a day."

Fighting About Warrenton.

WARRENTON, Wednesday night, April 25.—The Boers, having become emboldened, shelled the village and the British trenches and it became necessary to give them a lesson and to ascertain their strength. Monday night Colonel Paget placed several guns on the river bank under cover of the darkness within 1,000 yards of the Boer trenches across the river. The horses and carriages were withdrawn beyond range and at daybreak the British opened a heavy bombardment with shrapnel and lyddite,

The Boers were taken completely by surprise, but they replied with five guns, including a forty-pounder, and a heavy rifle fire was opened at the came time. The duel continued many hours, the Boers very quietly. Though she drove out this disturbing the peace of Europe by resorting finally evacuating the position, with, it is believed, considerable loss. .....JOHN R. HAYS

NORFOLK, Neb., April 25,-(Special Teles ssions by those of the delegates who gram.)-In the convention of the Third Neof the Thurston-Schneider schemers received a pronounced setback today. By a convention to vote for R. B. Schneider for a roll call, and got to the tune of eightytwo for and 134 against endorsing Schneider Senator Thurston was present, accomeloquence were insufficient to secure for the Fremont man the coveted endorsement or his home district. Schneider's preferred candidates for delegates failed to connect, but were put in as alternate. This action of the Third district in practically trepudiating the sugar and oil firm is very significant when taken in connection with the efforts they have made in other parts NEW YORK, April 25,-Oberlin M. Routine of the Session.

The convention organized by electing N D. Jackson of Neligh temporary chairman and E. E. Lundburg of Wayne temporary secretary. On motion the list of delegates prepared by the secretary and committee was adopted and the temporary organization made permanent. On the first formal ballot for congressman Fremont Everett received 78 13-15 votes; John R. Hays, 66 4-15; were then taken. In the first four Everett lost. On the fifth ballot there was a break from Jenal to Hays and before the ballot was declared the unanimous nominee. Have was called for and expressed thanks for the honor in a few well chosen words.
