TREASURER IS LIVING EASY

City Has Money to Pay All Bills and is Enjoying Prosperity.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS ALL PAID UP

First Time in Fifteen Years that the Public Has Not Been Called Upon to Carry the Debts of Individuals.

For the first time in fifteen years payments on the special paving and grading assessment bonds are paid to date, a fact which is very gratifying to the city officials. This satisfactory state of affairs was brought about yesterday by City Treasurer True taking up something over $5,000 worth of these bonds from the banks of the city. The money paid in by the Water company in redemption of its lots on West Broadway which had been foreclosed by the city for nonpayment of special taxes, materially assisted in enabling the city treasurer to take up these outstanding bonds.

With the city now on a cash basis and with ample funds in its treasury to meet all current expenses, and with the special assessment bonds all paid up to date, the municipality is in the best financial condition it has been in for many long years. Private individuals or some of the local banks have heretofore always been obliged to carry some of the special assessment bonds, as there was never sufficient funds in the city treasury to meet them when they became due.

In speaking of the matter yesterday City Treasurer True said: "It is most gratifying to be able to announce that payments on the special assessment bonds are all up to date, more especially as it is the first time in fifteen years that they have been so. As I can remember when there was as much as $2,000 of these bonds past due on which the city was compelled to continue paying interest, the city, as it is now, on a cash basis and with plenty of money to pay all warrants for current expenses our financial condition is better than at any time since my residence in Council Bluffs."

The city council met yesterday afternoon at the board of review for the equalization of city taxes. Assessor Hardin was present with his books, but no changes were made, the board postponing any action until this evening, when it will meet again. The assessor reported that the total value of about $200,000 actual value or $50,000 assessable value. This increase is due to the number of new buildings and the new elevator at the transfer. While this is the year in which only personal property is assessed, the law providing that all new buildings shall be assessed. Heretofore new buildings were only assessed every two years when the assessment of real estate is made.

REFORMERS HOLD A MASS MEETING.

Gathering at the First Presbyterian Church to Discuss the Situation.

If the attendance at the mass meeting at the First Presbyterian church last night counts for anything it is evident that, while many of the church people may be, the professional and business men of the city are not interested in the reform movement. It is the attendance at the mass meeting at the First Presbyterian church last night counts for anything it is evident that, while many of the church people may be, the professional and business men of the city are not interested in the reform movement.

The only official present was Alderman McDonald and Justice Vien was the only public official in the audience. A set of resolutions prepared by Attorney McGee and read by F. C. Lougus were unanimously adopted. These resolutions opened by deploring the open violation of the law by the existence of the gambling houses, made a passing reference to the number of men employed in these resorts and the statistics, touched on the slot machines and the prevalence of cards, dice and so forth in the saloons and, after denouncing the acts of the reform committee and commending the mayor for closing the gambling houses, closed with a demand that they be kept closed.

The proceedings opened with a few remarks from Rev. W. S. Barnes, who explained that the meeting had been called by "the executive committee of the Business Men's association for the enforcement of the laws against gambling." He called W. F. Thickston to the organ. Rev. J. W. Wilson asked for the divine blessing on the gathering, after which Chairman Wallace told why the association had been organized and what it had done to better the moral atmosphere of the city.

He declared that it was a partisan movement and that the committee had no hard feelings against the gamblers themselves. The work the committee had entered upon, he said, was not a labor of love, neither had it any compensation except it might be that of a clear conscience. He stated that the committee had in their hearts to be conciliatory in all their dealings with the authorities, but back of all was a determination in their hearts to suppress gambling in Council Bluffs.

At the close of Mr. Wallace's address, Rev. M. Perkins sang the hymn, "Throw Out the Life Line," in the chorus of which he was joined by the audience. Mr. Barnes addressed the meeting and was followed by Attorney McGee, who explained the law in the matter. Dr. Macrae followed Rev. Barnes in a short speech in which he bitterly denounced gambling and the gamblers, whom he designated as "sinners." He said he had lived in Council Bluffs for thirty-three years and that during two years of that time there had been no gambling in the city. He was proud to say it was while he was mayor of the city.

Talking of what an organization could accomplish, when it started after anything, he said he was president of a medico-political organization comprising 3,500 doctors in the state of Iowa. It was this organization, he said, that had sent back Mr. Gear to the United States senate.

The meeting was brought to a close by the reading and adoption of the resolutions. Howell's Anti-Kaw'f' cure coughs, colds.

HER BABY NEEDS HER JUST NOW.

Why Mrs. Carlin's Mother is Anxious to Have Her Return.

The relatives of Mrs. Lizzie Carlin, wife of Lee Carlin, a barber, who suddenly left her home on North First street last week, are becoming seriously alarmed. All efforts to locate her have failed and her baby who she deserted is dangerously ill. Mrs. W. S. Eaton, mother of the missing woman, received a letter from her a few days ago, post-marked Lincoln, Neb., but giving no address. In this letter Mrs. Carlin said she could never live with her husband again and her sole wish seemed to be to get away to some place where he would be unable to find her. On receipt of this letter Mrs. Eaton, accompanied by Carlin, went to Lincoln, Neb., in search of the city in which they were assisted by the authorities, failed to give any trace of the woman. Mrs. Eaton is caring for the baby and said yesterday that she felt sure that if she knew it was sick, she might, she said, seemed greatly afraid of her husband and she was certain that nothing would induce her to live with him again.

High School Litigation.

County Superintendent McManus, although unable to fix the exact date, said yesterday that he hoped to be able to hear the High school site appeal case some day next week. He thought he would be in a position to definitely fix the date within a day or so.

The High school site litigation has been at a complete standstill for several weeks. The content proceedings brought by Attorney I. N. Pflieger against five members of the board of trustees, including Judge Green, who, up to the present, has issued no order, and no further move has been made by either side in the Slack Peterson injunction case. County Superintendent McManus had delayed fixing the date for hearing the appeal, but the court would decide the whole controversy in the meantime, and thus save him the trouble and worry of acting as arbitrator in the matter.

For Stealing Brass.

Harry Crosby and James Sullivan, the two tramps charged with stealing a quantity of brass from a tool car of the Rock Island railway, were arraigned before Judge Aylesworth yesterday morning in police court. Sullivan took a change of venue to Justice Ferrier's court, where he will have his preliminary hearing tomorrow.

In police court the case against Crosby was continued for one week. Crosby, who is a mere boy and was with Sullivan when arrested. He is much afraid of his former companion and the two have been kept apart at the city jail. Sullivan is also charged with being a part of the men who held up and robbed Charles Gray in a Broadway saloon the same night he was arrested with the stolen brass in his possession.

The High School Alumni association met last night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Fred C. Parsons; vice president, Charles Tullies; secretary, Louis Schneider; treasurer, Xenophon Kynett.

Sioux City Hog Receipts.
SIoux CITY, Ia., May 3.—(Special.)—Such strides has Sioux City made within the last year that at the close of business April 30 reports show it stands among the first ten packing centers of the country, and that only one city's receipts have exceeded its receipts. That city was Chicago, and was only 2,000 hogs ahead of Sioux City. From a capacity in 1895 for killing 2,400 hogs per day, the plants here now have a capacity for killing 9,000 hogs, in winter when there is outdoor refrigeration and 7,000 hogs daily in summer. In April the receipts of hogs at the Sioux City stock yards were almost double that of April, 1899, being 25,907 more than in 1899, the total being 59,242. For the four months of the year the increase of hog receipts here was 102,628, the total being 254,372.
