Ple for South Dakota.

Congressmen Gamble and Burke today had a conference with the president and as a rebult it is expected that some federal plums will soon fall into the South Dakota basket. The congressmen are after appointments for their constituents in our new colonies and they were assured by President McKinley that their state will receive proper recogbition in this connection.

The South Dakotans are also after consulships, but they refuse to state either the name of the man they are pushing for a place or the location of the post. They asked for the appointment of C. M. Pinkerton of Lead City as one of the board of visitors to the West Point Military academy. The president informed the South Dakota delegation that the board had been appointed and published but that in event of declination on the part of any of those designated he would be glad to appoint Mr. Pinkerton. Gamble and Burke assured President McKinley that South Dakota would be found in the repub-Mean column this fall.

Factory.

WASHINGTON, May 3 -Practically the entire session of the senate was devoted to the section of the naval bill relating to armor and armament. The debate largely binged on the proposition that the government should erect an armor plant of its own. Senator Tillman presented an amendment limiting the price to be paid for armor to $300 per ton and providing also that the government should erect a plant of its own. Senators Tillman, Money and Chandler advocated the erection of a plant, while Hale supported the committee amendment providing for a plant in the contingency that armor could not be procured for $445 per ton. No action was taken on the proposition, the bill going over until tomorrow.

Tillman's amendment authorized the sec discussion in political circles hereabouts and retary of the navy to construct a government the wisdom or expediency for such a call is armor plate factory at a cost not exceeding largely questioned. Senator Thurston was $4,000,000, if armor could not be procured for asked as to the advisability of holding such $300 a ton. Hale, in charge of the bill, explained the committee amendment

"Right in the midst of our remarkable adtroversy over armor place. I armor plants put their heads together and put up prices of armor. Of course this scientiously in the matter."

Companies Raise the Price. Mr. Hale said that for the armor of 1897 $412 per ton was paid. "As it was seen," he continued, "that we had ships that

Referring to the suit begun by Mr. Frick gations of enormous profits. Tillman said it was no wonder Carnegie could go to Scotland and buy game preserves and baronies and that sort of thing.

Chandler earnestly advocated the amendment of Tillman. He would venture the assertion that the United States could build an armor plant and make armor cheaper than it could be made by private concerns and we would not have to pay royalties to anybody. If the United States was to build only the ships now authorized, he thought it might be well to accede to the demand ANCIENT SCALPER'S SOUL SAVED. of the armor companies, but if we were to become a world power and build hips for Old Two Strikes of the Stonx Becomes the next twenty years it would be cheaper to make armor at the government's own plant. He was satisfied that the government needed an armor plant, as w. needed navy yards as a protection against extortion.

In calling up the naval appropriation bill

Hale said: "In view of present conditions (referring evidently to the publication today of the regults of the secret seasion), I leave it to the senator from South Carolina (Mr. Tillman) whether he deems it wise or desirable to proceed with the measure in secret session."

In this connection it was matters connected with the general land pointed out that there was really no secret bout the soft-nosed projectile, as the Navy department has been experimenting with the projectile for years.

Later in the day a communication was submitted to the senate by Hale, from the Bureau of Ordnance, which described minutely the effect of the projectile in question on various kinds of armor. It was shown that the projectile, which is a solid steel shot-not a shell-carrying no explosive charge, would pierce the best of armor when the conditions of the test were perfect, but only under such conditions.

Wyoming Crop Conditions.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 9.—(Special.)— For the week ending May 7 the weather was seasonably warm over all portions of the state, and no severe frosts were reported. The week opened stormy on Monday, but after Tuesday only light showers occurred. The warm weather of the week, following the heavy precipitation of the previous week proved favorable to all vegetation. Ranges are now in excellent condition over all porions of the state, except at some of the higher localities where cool weather has prevented the rapid growth of grass. Grain is practically all sown, except over portions of Carbon and Albany counties, and over the ower portions of Big Horn county much of he early grain is already coming up. Alfalfa fields are growing nicely and promise good first crop. Gardening is well advanced over a greater portion of the state. Prisoners Plead Guilty

PIERRE, S. D., May 9. - (Special Telegram.)-In circuit court last evening Frank Davis entered a plea of guilty to a charge of house breaking and was given a sentence of two years.

W. H. Williams entered a plea of guilty to a grand larceny charge and will be given sentence next Friday.

Many complaints have been made lately about the large number of cows running at large in different parts of the city. It is asserted that these animals tramp over terraces, destroy garden patches and otherwise cause damage. There is a city ordinance ered all over with a blanket of ore, ranging prohibiting the running at large of horses, ows, sheep, swine or goats. Any person violating this ordinance is liable to a fine of not more than $100 and the costs of prosecution. This ordinance was passed on March 27, 1889, and has never been repealed. In connection with this ordinance there is one been a difficult one in the past as no one here seems to be anxious to assume the responsibilities of the position, especially as it is a fee office, no salary or compensation being allowed by the city. It is contemplated by the ordinance that the pound-master shall derive sufficient compensation from the fees received from animals redeemed. It is declared lawful for any person to take up any animal found running at and means committee today and Reynolds large, contrary to law, and to take the same of Nevada proposed an inquiry, as follows to the pound, but such persons shall receive no compensation for so doing. It has been suggested to Mayor Kelly by nembers of the council that he at once appoint a poundmaster in order to prevent the destruction of lawns and gardens and the running a tunnel, which is to be nearly a man. The difficulty of finding a man willing mile in length, and the cost of construction to accept the office is the fact that it is purely a fee office. The mayor thinks that he sees a way out of the difficulty and he

the Black Hills ever saw was in this Ragged may make a temporary appointment within thinks that the compensation would be sufficient for a man to devote his entire time o the office. The city pays seventy-five cents for each dead dog carted away by the garbagemaster and if this fee went to the oundmaster it would assist materially in paying the expenses of a pound. There has not been a dog pound here for a number of years as of late the police have been shooting untagged dogs and the garbagemaster has been hauling the carcasses to the dump. venor, Russell, Richardson and Robertson. This method is expensive, as in addition to the seventy-five cents paid for the hauling away of each dead dog the time of the police is taken up in slaving the animals and the cost of ammunition during the summer campaign is considerable. It is figured that money would be saved to the city by the appointment of a poundmaster who would look after the impounding of stray animals > and also the impounding and killing of untagged dogs. Mention of the old pound which was down near the electric light station recalls the fact that South Omaha was the first city in the country to electrocute dogs. The plan worked all right and attracted considerable attention, as several illustrated articles were printed in eastern papers showing the method employed. E. S. Dimenock, then superintendent of the electric light station, conceived the idea of taking the lives of the canines by the use of electricity. An apparatus was rigged up and in the evening when the arc lights were started the current was turned into the apparatus and dogs were deprived of life at the rate of about ten a minute. As Mr. Dimmock did not patent his apparatus there is no reason why the same scheme cannot be worked this year if desired. Dog tags for 1900 are now on sale at the office of the city clerk at the same

The interest in the opening of O street rom Seventeenth street east to the river appears to be increasing. Signatures of all property owners with the exception of one between Seventeenth street and the tracks have been obtained and an effort is being made now to obtain the consent of this property owner to the grading of the street. Business men are tired of waiting on N street property owners to do something and they propose to go ahead and open the most available toute to the Burlington tracks in order that a depot may be established in the eastern portion of the city. Engineers in the employ of the Burlington road are now making surveys for the proposed depot to be erected. The only drawback is the location of the depot and the designation of an approach. Several selections have been made by the engineers and all that remains for the citizens to do is to open a street to he tracks and the depot will be built.

"I am not given to indiscriminate @ praise and you will believe me when emphatically declare that 'Our Is- 6 lands and Their People is beyond comparison, and is without exception the most magnificent production of its character that I ever saw. . . . I do not see how any intelligent person can refuse an offer to become a subscriber."-J. W. Euel, Author and Travelor. "The photographs are undoubtedly the finest ever made and collected o the places and scenes depicted, and G they represent a cost to the publishers of more than $25,000. No praise can be too extravagant of the artistic and historical value of these photographs and the splendid manner in which they have been reproduced. These include pictures of the people and their homes and homelife, noted places, the marvelously beautiful scenery of the tropics, historic localities, famous battle grounds, celebrated fortifications, public buildings, cathedrals, views of towns, villages, farms, mountains, rivers, valleys, lakes, waterfalls, etc. There are also a number of actual battle scenes, taken under fire and showing war in its tragic and thrilling reality."-Globe-

"Let me thank you most heartily for the numbers of "Our Islands and @ Their People," which came to me last @ week. They are certainly superb 6 specimens of bookmaking and before @ they take their place in the Companion's Library. I promise myself the pleasure of reading your features of the work. It was very kind of you to send the volumes, and with my own thanks I wish to join those of the @ Companion."-Editor Youth's Com-

"It is the most elaborate work of @ art to which our attention has been @ directed this season. The design of G the publishers is to familiarize the American public with the resources. attractions, characteristics and possibilities of Cubs. Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines."-Atlanta Consti-
