The Gillan lad was before Judge Vinsonhaler yesterday to stand trial for incorriginality. Prof. M. Johnson, principal of the South Side school, was the prosecuting witness. Prof. Johnson related in detail the story of Jimmie's escapades -- how he filled up on frewater, how he lambasted the other boys of the school with a blacksnake whip, and how in general he set discipline at maught. It is evident from a deduction of Prof. Johnson's testimony that he regards Jimmie Gillan as a wonderfully had boy. Jimmle admits it, and boasts with great show of pride that he is "the toughest that ever trotted over the otke." This quotation is borrowed literally from Jimmie. Judge Vinsofthaler sentenced the lad to the court would probably have made the sen- excursion rates. tence until the subject is of legal age, but for the arrival of J. H. Sheppard in the Ited, court room with a proposition to give the boy a liquor cure. Sheppard who represents an institution for the cure of inchristes, said he had read the story of the Gillan boy's fratliy in the papers, and that the management of his institution had ordered him to visit Omaha with a view to securing the lad as a patient. Judge Vin- day at 7:30 sharp to attend meeting of sonhater said he had no authority to negotiate for the cure, but he heartly approved of the idea, and Sheppard was referred to the county commissioners. He offers to make concessions as to cost, appreciating the fact that to cure Jimmie Gillan means a valuable advertisement. COLONEL CODY'S NEW CAR It is the One in Which Mme. Patti Made Her Last American

Colonel H. H. Hake, proprietor of the Merchants hotel, writes from Philadelphia to say that Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) has a magnificent new private car to replace the one burned in winter quarters at New Haven last February. As the old car was the one formerly used by P. T. Barnum, the new one is the palatial coach in which Adelina Patti made her last tour of the American continent. It has been remodeled and refurnished since then. Colonel Hake writes that Colonel Cody i "as tickled over his new car as a boy over his first pair of pants." His Wild West show is now playing an engagement to Philadelphia.
