Captain Merry Makes an Address in Behalf of the Railroad and Mayor Jennings and Others for the City.

In the presence of 200 or more business men of the city, municipal and county officials and others, the handsome new passenger depot of the Illinois Central railway at Twelfth street and Avenue A was yesterday afternoon formally opened to the public. The exercises were in charge of Captain J. F. Merry of Dubuque, assistant general passenger agent, and consisted of a short pro-

one presented with a boutonniere in the chape of a pink or red rose. The interior of the depot was lavishly decorated with carnations, pink and red roses, ferns, palms and smilax. The large open fireplaces in the large general waiting room, where the exercises were beld, and the smoking room adjacent, where lunch was served, were perfect bowers of palms and roses. plied, saying in part: plied, saying in part:

I feel that congratulations are due upon this occasion both to the representatives of the lilinois Central Railway company and to the citizens of Council Bluffs. The railroad company deserves to be complimented because the completion and opening of its beautiful new passenger station provides commodious modern facilities for the transaction of its business and for the comfort and convenience of its patrons. The people of Council Bluffs and vicinity, on the other hand, as well as all others who may have occasion to tarry here, may well take pride in this handsome structure, which is not only of adequate size to meet all requirements, but is architecturally an ornament to the city. to the city.

ments, but is architecturally an ornament to the city.

This passenger station stands as a symbol, a visible indication of the mutual relations between this city and a great rall-way system. Railroad companies do not crect large and costly stations where such buildings are not needed. This station, therefore, means for one thing that the Illinois Central regards Council Bluffs as an important business center and you may reasonably take this building as an indication of the amount and quality of the business the company expects to do in this city. Had the company contented itself with a poor and insignificant passenger station i should have understood that it expected to do only poor and insignificant business here. But I take this building as an assurance that its owners expect to do a large and thriving trade with our people. I most heartly hope that such expectations a large and thriving trade with our people. I most heartily hope that such expectations may be more than realized, for of all the railroad companies that have built to Council Bluffs none have more nearly observed the golden rule. If the patronage extended to the Illinois Central by the people of Council Bluffs is proportioned to the fair and generous spirit that company has displayed in its dealings with us it will not have occasion to regret its investments here.

The extension of the Illinois Central systems

The extension of the Illinois Central sys-The extension of the Illinois Central system to this city is not only an additional recognition of the claim some of us have been making for many years for the importance of Council Bluffs as a western railroad center. It is also in itself a very material addition to that importance. It puts us in touch with a vast section of fertile territory rich in agricultural and mineral resources, and renders it inevitable that Council Bluffs will be one of the principal centers of the commerce which must that Council Bluffs will be one of the principal centers of the commerce which must follow the construction of this new line. In this connection it may not be inappropriate to express my conviction that the future prosperity of this city will be infimately connected with its railroad interests, and that the mutual welfare of the city and the railway companies will be best promoted by a frank recognition of this fact and by a spirit of fairness and helpfulness on the part of both.

Victor E. Bender followed in a brief talk, which he threw boquets at the local officers of the railway company. He complimented the company on sending such a body of men here and raised a goodnatured laugh at City Ticket Agent Labee's expense by referring to the fact that while Broadway, and inspect the new home I will he bore a name that sounded very French occupy in the future for my wholesale and he was a typical American and had from retail cigar store. PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL. Question of Closing the Fifth Avenue

Bridge Brought Up. At the adjourned meeting of the city council last night whatever action may be deemed necessary in regard to the Fifth avenue bridge and the controversy between the city and the motor company was left in the hands of the committee on bridges and city property, of which Alderman Hammer is chairman, the city solicitor and the city engineer. The matter was brought up by Alderman Brown by a resolution to the effect that the bridge be condemned as unsa'e, that it be closed to traffic and that the city take immediate steps to remove it. In moving the adoption of the resolution Brown referred to the unsafe condition of the structure and stated that a large portion of it rested on thin air."

Alderman Hammer reported that his committee had been unable to come to any that the latter had suggested another conference. Several aldermen expressed the opinion that the city should not act too hastily by ordering the bridge closed, as and forgot that he lives in an age of newssuch action would seriously inconvenience a large number of people residing on the Engineer Etnyre, in answer to a question is to the condition of the bridge, informed the council that an accident was liable to happen at any moment. Alderman Brown inseted the motor company would not be inconvenienced any, as Attorney Wright had informed him if the bridge were ordered closed the company would use its line on Sixteenth street for its traffic to and from the transfer depot.

Alderman Huber favored closing the bridge. He said the city had enough damage suits on its hands at present without leaving a trap wide open for more. After considerable discussion the resolution was sidetracked by reference to the bridge committee, city attorney and engineer, with power to act.

A resolution was adopted instructing the ity marshal to notify the several railroad companies at once to clean out from beneath their respective bridges over Indian creek all obstructions and loose earth to be prepared in the event of a freshet. The resolution also orders the Union Pacific to remove the old piling from under its bridge on Fifth avenue
