COSTLY PRACTICAL JOKE

Wakefield Citizen Manufactures Dimes and Passes Them Just for Fun.

CAN'T SEE NOW WHERE HE IS TO LAUGH

Barkeeper Reports His Doings to the Federal Officers and Now the Joke is Under Arrest for Counterfeiting.

John Krettle of Wakefield, Neb., is a humorous old fellow of 65, who enjoys a practical joke to such an extent that he will sacrifice much to play one. Krettle is a millwright and a tinner, and at his shop in Wakefield a number of persons congregate from time to time to while away the hours.

It entered the fertile mind of the old man that it would be a good joke on the barkeeper of a certain saloon to pass a number of counterfeit dimes upon him, and then have a laugh when the nature of the coin was discovered. Krettle made a mould and from it manufactured twenty dimes. For twenty evenings he went to the saloon and bought beer, the bartender taking the spurious coin. On the twenty-first evening, with a party, he went to the saloon to have his laugh when the bartender called him to one side and told him that he had discovered the spurious coin and that for $100 he would destroy them and keep the old man from prison.

The joke was against him, but Krettle laughed and refused to come down with the hundred. The government was informed of the counterfeiting and on Thursday Captain John Webb and Deputy Marshal Moore went to Wakefield and arrested Krettle. On the way to Pender, where he was examined,

COURT REFUSES TO DISMISS

Trial of S. J. Cerney for Criminal Assault Now in Progress.

The case of S. J. Cerney, charged with criminal assault upon Katie Vavra, a 3-year-old daughter of Frank Vavra, a South Omaha boarding house keeper, is attracting more than ordinary attention in Judge Baker's court, owing to the intense feelings that exist against Cerney on the part of friends of the Vavra family.

Cerney's lawyer made an effort yesterday to bring the case to an abrupt termination by the introduction of a motion to dismiss on the grounds that information against the defendant was not filed at the same term of court in which he was required to appear for trial. It was argued that this constituted sufficient cause for dismissal and authorities were read at length. Judge Baker, however, promptly overruled, and the testimony was taken up.

Frank Vavra, father of the injured child, was the principal witness of the afternoon. He related in detail the story of the crime which is alleged to have occurred April 8. At one time Cerney was apparently in danger of mob violence and in order to protect his life Sheriff Power hurried him to Lincoln, where he was kept in jail until excitement subsided somewhat.

Little Katie Vavra is in court, but her tender age prevents her giving testimony, despite the fact that she is exceptionally bright and can talk fairly plain. The trial will probably last several days, as there are numerous witnesses.

CONVERT CARS INTO CHAPELS

Railroad May Furnish Those Who Travel Sunday with Divine Services.

PLAN NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION

Through Trains Already Supplied with Everything but Religious Instruction, and This is to be Furnished.

Divine services on Sunday trains is a possibility of the near future. Such a project has been considered by passenger officials for some time, and although no concerted action has ever been taken in the matter, it is hinted that one of the big lines operating through Omaha may try the experiment. The principal argument advanced in favor of such an innovation is that a certain portion of the general traveling public objects to Sunday travel. It is believed that the institution of divine worship, identical with that furnished in any house of prayer on the holy day, would do much toward relieving this prejudice.

It is also argued that the through trains nowadays are furnished with nearly everything but religion and a proportionate mixture of it with the other advanced notions of modern passenger service would certainly be a boon to the general traveler. The plan which is probably to be adopted will be to convert the dining cars into temporary chapels and place a certain number of parsons on the pay rolls, by whom services in the diners would be conducted. The conversion of the dining cars into places of worship could be accomplished with but little effort on the part of employees, and one diner would in all probability accommodate all of the passengers. In the time car racks could be placed hymn books and small bibles, and the singing part of the service could be done by the "congregation." One minister could be engaged to deliver a sermon on each weekday, and the conversion of the dining cars in time to catch an eastbound train and repeat the program.

Two years ago this matter received considerable attention in passenger circles, and an assistant general passenger agent of the Erie prepared an elaborate plan along the lines now proposed to be adopted. It failed to materialize, however, and the revival of the proposition is creating a great deal of interest.

Oklahoma Boomer in Town.

L. D. Baker of Enid, Okl., immigration agent of the Rock Island railroad, spent a few hours in the city yesterday while on his way to Iowa, where he expects to interest some prospective settlers in the possibilities of Oklahoma as an agricultural state. Mr. Baker had with him some elegant samples of cereal products of that part of the state situated near Enid. "We are going to have the best season of our history in Oklahoma this year," said Mr. Baker. "There is an unprecedented activity in agricultural pursuits and the outlook could not well be more promising. In Garfield county, for instance, of which Enid is the county seat, we are going to have a yield of 6,000,000 bushels of wheat as against 5,000,000 bushels last year."

Lost Valuables Recovered.

G. Savitt, a passenger on the Burlington enroute from Omaha to Alliance, lost from the train as it was passing through the sand hills of western Nebraska a pocketbook containing $100 in cash, a gold ring, four rubles and other valuables. "We are going to have the best season of our history in Oklahoma this year," said Mr. Baker. "There is an unprecedented activity in agricultural pursuits and the outlook could not well be more promising. In Garfield county, for instance, of which Enid is the county seat, we are going to have a yield of 6,000,000 bushels of wheat as against 5,000,000 bushels last year."

EXTEND PUBLIC PARK SYSTEM

Commissioner Cornish Would Have the City Acquire Cut Off Lake.

WOULD MAKE IDEAL SUMMER RESORT

East Omaha Land Company Offers to Purchase Iowa Portion and Present it to the City.

Park Commissioner E. J. Cornish has a plan for the extension of the public park system, which will be broached before the commissioners in connection with the bluff tract, about to be acquired. It is Mr. Cornish's idea to span the tracks east of the bluff with a viaduct and to construct a drive along the shore of Cut Off Lake around its whole circuit. Owing to the danger of an annual overflow, the lake and its environs could be acquired very cheaply, the 200 acres necessary being worth not over $100 per acre, or $30,000.

"One of the obstacles to the plan," remarked Mr. Cornish, "is the location of the lake, part being in Nebraska and part in Iowa. Of course it would be impossible for the council to condemn the latter portion, but the East Omaha Land company has offered to relieve the situation by purchasing the land and donating it to the city. This offer has never been made public because of the reluctance of John A. Creighton, the owner, to part with his holding, but it is probable that the matter may be adjusted."

"If a drive 300 feet wide could be continued around the lake, a distance of about five miles, and quick-growing trees set out, the body of water would be unequalled as a pleasure resort this side of Spirit Lake. It is inevitable that the lake must be incorporated into the park system either now or at some future time, as it is the only opportunity of the sort we have. If the project is delayed until the government or private enterprise constructs a protecting levee between the lake and the river, and summer resorts are established along the high place, the city can only get its title at a large expenditure."

"It would be well to fill in the arm of the lake reaching up to Locust street, as that ground is valuable for tracks. As to the other horn of the crescent, a portion of that also should be filled in so that the complete circuit would not be over five miles. The filling could be easily accomplished by dredging out the bottom in shallow parts of the lake, the most economical kind of grading. The dredging would have to be done anyway, as the lake is full of weeds which are an annoyance to anglers and a menace to swimmers."

"The acquisition of the lake is bound to come, and now should be the accepted time when the land can be acquired at one-tenth the price which the northsiders propose to pay for the strip along the bluff, scarcely 600 feet away. There is no wisdom in constructing an artificial lake on a high place when a far more desirable body of water has been located by nature just under the brow of the hill."

ROAST FOR AMERICAN REGIME

Havana Paper Declares it is Worse in Some Respects Than the Spanish.

HAVANA, May 25.—L. E. Guardian, the British consul here, celebrated the queen's birthday by giving an official dinner, his guests including Governor General Wood, Mr. Sharratt, the bishop of Havana; Senor Tamayo, the secretary of state; Senor Mendoza, president of the supreme court; the foreign minister, the prominent Englishman and the heads of departments.

The Diario de la Marina says that if foreigners should not be employed by the government Messrs. Bliss, Fry, Wood and others should immediately leave office, adding:

"During the previous era when Cuba's neck was galled by the yoke of Spanish despotism the island had a constitution under which the people enjoyed home rule, and under which all the public offices could only be held by native Cubans or Spanish residents who had resided a certain length of time in the island. No governor general or chief of customs would have dared to violate the spirit of the constitution by nominating a foreigner to public office. But thanks to the glorious revolution which freed Cuba from Spain's rule, today there is no constitution nor law save the edicts, and the latter is supreme."

Doan's Kidney Pills endorsed by Omaha people.

Read what a citizen says:

Mrs. A. M. Haswell of 2007 South 13th St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were a perfect success in my case and did wonders for me. My trouble was mostly with the kidney secretion, which were of a milky white and had been this way for a long time. I took other remedies, but they failed to do the work. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills at Kuhn & Co.'s drug store and taking a course of treatment, they cured me."

INSURANCE COMPANY NEGLIGENCE

Allowed Kelly to Overdraw His Account For More than a Year.

The suit on Fred Kelly's bond in the United States circuit court is still in progress the defense now introducing evidence to show that the guaranty company should not be held for his delinquencies.

The chief witness was Inspector Geddes of the guaranty company, who testified, from an inspection of the books of the insurance company, that Kelly began to overdraw his account as early, at least, as March, 1897, which time he owed the company $108.33 on that account; that this condition continued until the time of Kelly's discharge, the amounts increasing with each monthly balance until April 2, 1898, when the cashier owed $257.85. It is the contention of the guaranty company that it is not responsible for any shortage occasioned by overdrafts which were permitted by the insurance company.

Tale of Marital Infidelity is Told.

After having lived together since 1872, Rachel C. Wickersham and James Wickersham are principals in action for divorce. A petition was filed in the district court by Mrs. Wickersham. She sets forth in lengthy detail a story of alleged infidelity and general incompatibility of temperaments. She asserts that through all of these years she has borne with the shortcomings of her husband and that at last she has decided that forbearance is no longer a virtue. Prior to her marriage the name of the plaintiff was Rachel Fort and she asks that the courts give back to her that name. The Wickershams were married in Fort Madison, Ia., and had lived in Omaha twelve years. The case will be tried at the fall term of court.

City Permanently Enjoined.

In the case of Andrew Murphy against the city, suit being brought to resist paying tax levied against property in the vicinity of Twentieth and Vinton streets, Judge Keyser has declared perpetual injunction against the city.

CHAFFEE ASKS FOR RECEIVER

Clarence Chaffee has filed application in the county court asking that a receiver be appointed for the Omaha Brewing company. Application for receivership is based on the allegation that the company is indebted to Chaffee and that its affairs are not being conducted in a manner that gives any promise of ability to make payment within a reasonable time. Thus far Chaffee is the only creditor who has appeared in litigation against the brewing company.

Silurian Springs Company Beaten.

Jury in Judge Baxter's court has decided in favor of the defendant in the case of the Silurian Springs Water company against Kuhn & Co., local druggists. Suit was for collection of $127, said to be due for an invoice of water. Kuhn & Co. resisted payment on the grounds that the plaintiff company had failed to keep its agreement relative to advertising the water, and that thereby the contract had been rendered void.

Court Notes.

Christopher Owings of Bethany has filed application to be appointed bankrupt. He owes $14,678 and has assets of $1,572.

Alma Schmidt has filed petition for divorce from the district court by William Schmidt. They were married in Omaha, December 16, 1894. Drunkenness and domestic neglect are the chief allegations set forth in the petition.

W. H. Morrow, special pensioner examiner, has returned from a trip to Sioux City, where he was instrumental in securing the indictment of Hans Andrus for making a false affidavit in a pension case. Andrus Maria Iversen, sister of Andrus, was an applicant for a pension. Morrow supplied much needed information with regard to truth. Both Andrus and his sister are over 30 years old and have long resided in Sioux City, where the case has created much comment because of the prominence of the parties and its age.

CHILD FALLS FORTY FEET

Little Mabel Striminger Goes Over an Embankment at Sixth Street and Poppleton Avenue.

Mabel Striminger, 5 years old, fell from an embankment forty feet high Thursday night as she was playing with other children at Sixth street and Poppleton avenue. In the minds of the children the cut was a ravine in the Rockies and the summit of the slope the habitation of a grizzly bear. Mabel was struck upon the wisest course to pursue with reference to the question of Judge Keyser, requiring the signatures of both husband and wife to paying petitions.
