It was the prospect of an exceedingly lively session over the election of teachers and janitors for the coming year that attracted to the rooms of the Board of Education last night a crowd of interested ob-servers and adherents of candidates for positions which filled the seats provided for spectators and overflowed into the corridors. The board, as if desirous of delaying the unpleasantness as long as possible, proceeded first quietly with the routine work. A report of the treasurer, showing something over $177,000 on hand at the close of May, was filed. A petition asking that the proper author-

Board of Education May Be Enjoined from Spending Nore Than Funds on Hand.

Just before the Board of Education met Monday evening Deputy Sheriff W. F. Weber served upon each member a copy of a restraining order issued late in the afternoon by Judge Keysor, upon the application of Paul Horbach, restraining them from entering into any contracts for the erection of the proposed new High school building upon any plane contemplating the expenditure of more than $147,500. A hear-

Mr. Horbach was seen at his home Monreferred the election of a principal of the day night by a Bee reporter, but he refused married after election last year, reported in tion, referring the reporter to W. recommended. The board decided not to hear Mr. Andrews.

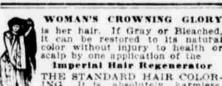

It took five ballots to elect the principal of the Central school. The first gave seven for Mrs. Coe, five for Miss Fitch and two blanks. The second, third and fourth ballots resulted in a tie between the two candidates and on the fifth Mrs. Coe received eight to six for Miss Fitch, whereupon the election of Mrs. Coe was made unanimous.

A motion by Teal to allow the widow of the late Mr. Beals $75 in lieu of his salary for May and June was withdrawn, owing to the lateness of the hour.

A resolution by Wood was adopted against the opposition of Smith, who believed it impolitic, expressing the high appreciation of the second game—Main floor, 13 runs, 14 hits, 2 errors; basement, 12 runs, 11 hits, 2 errors.
