TECUMSEH, Neb., June 8 .- (Special)-Clarence Gillespie, a young laborer, has very mysteriously disappeared from his home in Tecumseh and as his wife, who has been sick for some time, died yesterday, his resence here is much desired. It is thought by those interested in the family that young Gillespie has recently become mentally deranged, for his actions are very queer. He was employed at manual labor and since his wife's sickness he had been very devoted to her, so much so in fact that the overwork and worry have probably unbilanced his mind. He would come home from his day's work and six at his wife's hedside late into the night ministering to her wants. than he does how many of them suffer with such diseases. Patiently, hopefully, wearily, and often ellently, they eke out a miscrable existence year after year. No Martyr in poetry, or heroine in romance makes a more couching appeal to human sympathy than the woman burdened with the cares of a family, trying to carry the extra load of some tormenting and ever-present female disease. Dr. Hartman's sympathy for such is unbounded, and his willingness to help them limited only to his power.

A woman confined to the house several years with a chronic female derangement had finally given up all hope of being cured She had tried physician after physician, and remedy after remedy, without any permanent improvement. Her treatment had cost her husband, who was a poor man, hundreds of dollars. They had been obliged to deny themselves many comforts of life in order to get money enough to pay the physicians. Yet, in spite of all economy, there was a small mortgage upon their property because of the expense her illness had brought upon them. The woman had become weak, nervous and wretched, scarcely able to keep out of her bed. Her children were growing up neglected and ragged, because of the want of a mother's care. Her husband was becoming discouraged and broken down with overwork.

Picking up the paper one day she happened to read an item which contained the news that Dr. Hartman would treat such cases free of charge by letter. She knmediately wrote the doctor, describing her case, and giving him all her symptoms. She soon received a letter telling her exactly what to do and what medicines and appliances to get. She began the treatment (the principal remedy being Peruna) at once, and in a few weeks was well and strong again and able to do her own work.

The Home of Peruna.

Another woman who used Peruna with out becoming one of Dr. Hartman's regular patients had the following experience. Miss Ida Green writes from Baldwinville, Ga-'Peruna is wonderful and good, and a certain cure for female weakness. I have been
