Philippine Commission Discovers that It Has Big Task on Hand.

PLANNING FOR CIVIL GOVERNMENT

Dishevelled of Native Officers, Unfriendly Attitude of Church and Unfriendly of Citizens Body Complicates Matters.

MANILA, June 10.—Judge William H. Taft and his colleagues on the Philippine civil commission were busy during their first week in Manila by a multitude of calls of all nationalities, professions and interests, who presented a bewildering assortment of recommendations touching military and civil policies. The commissioners maintained the attitude of unprejudiced listeners. They admit that while they expected an enormous task, the complexity and difficulty of the problems and conditions are well beyond their expectations. However, they are determined, with the cooperation of the army in pacifying as well as in fighting, to make the Philippines a peaceful and honestly governed country before departing.

They find General MacArthur administering civil and military affairs in a way that is universally popular. The Filipino party, embracing prominent insurgents who accepted American rule through force of circumstances, is already making overtures for the discussion of a scheme of permanent government, gradually reviving the old proposition of autonomy under American protectorate. There are of course some Filipinos who believe that Judge Taft would bring the millennium and these people will be disappointed because sweeping changes are not made immediately. These are not satisfied.

Judge Taft conferred with high army officers, who strongly urge that a larger army is necessary to suppress the insurrection, believing that civil government will be impossible until the army has subdued the southern districts of Luzon, in the extreme northern provinces of the island and in the Visayas, except Negros, is crushed.

One of the foremost questions is how and from what material to organize a civil force with which gradually to supplant the army as a governing machine. Spain's auxiliary, the church, is necessarily barred from consideration. American experience with the natives discourages the hope of honest government through a native generation or more have eradicated the results of Spain's tutelage. A large proportion of the provincial officials already installed have proven treacherous, while the native officials and police are in Manila are living on a scale of luxury suspiciously disproportionate to their salaries. Charges against native judges of failing to account for thousands of dollars received in fines are under investigation. At the present the governmental alternatives are the army on one hand and anarchy on the other.

General Otis plan of municipal government is being inaugurated in the towns of central Luzon and parts of the Visayas, but the Filipinos persist in thinking the question of municipal government will retain the Philippines is still open and some local people ask that the municipal elections be postponed. Many people object to taking the oath of allegiance to the United States, which is the qualification for voting in municipal elections.

The commissioners also find that the future state of the church in the Philippines is a leading question in the minds of many, although many of those who have talked with Judge Taft are in Manila are living on a scale of luxury suspiciously disproportionate to their salaries. Charges against native judges of failing to account for thousands of dollars received in fines are under investigation. At the present the governmental alternatives are the army on one hand and anarchy on the other.

HAS TO FIGHT SECRET JUNTA

General MacArthur's Task Would Be Easier if the Secret Were Less Guerrilla-Like.

MANILA, June 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—What General MacArthur has to fight is a secret organization, which exercises power to some extent and enforces its decrees over all of Luzon and most of the other islands, which collects taxes here in Manila and even gives receipts for duties paid on the cargo of native boats passing up the rivers in the suburbs. The control of this underground organization is reputed to be in the hands of a junta, whose headquarters are in Manila, but so great is the loyalty or the fear which it commands that the authorities have been unable to trace its roots and the question whether it is identical with the famous Katipunan society is an open one. Many of the elections of municipal governments held by the American officers are controlled by the revolutionary organization, which selects the candidates, and some of these governments are unquestionably efficient parts of its machinery.

The policy of the insurgent machine is to repeat the Cuban revolution in the Philippines, to discourage conquest by so devastating the islands and keeping them in such a state of war that they will be unable to conquer. Nowhere outside of the garrioted towns can Americans go except in large armed parties, unless the country for twenty miles south of Manila and ten miles north be excepted. The provinces directly south of Manila and those north as far as Dagupan are the quietest of the island and their schools and local government are in operation and much money is being expended in building roads and other improvements. The municipal governments prove useful under the strict supervision of the American officers and the towns are cleaner and better administered than many American villages, but generally speaking the native officials have no initiative and their efficiency without the paternal vigilance of the American soldiers would be doubtful.

Filipinos Unfriendly to Americans.

The theory that the Filipinos outside of the Tagalog provinces were friendly to American rule has been deeply shaken by recent events. All of the northeastern coast beyond Dagupan is in a state of war and there are frequent fights with heavy loss to the Filipinos. All of the southern provinces bounded by the Visayas are turbulent and in the Camarines, Nueva, Caceres and Albay provinces the Americans control only the territory within the picket lines of the garrioles in the coast towns, while the garrioles are the objects of frequent attacks from large insurgent forces. With the exception of Negros, which, being the wealthiest island of the Philippines, is the Visayan most friendly to American rule, the Visayan islands show similar conditions. There are guerrilla bands in Negros which are preventing the sugar planters from putting in their crops by threats of burning the buildings, but American authority controls throughout the island and the planters are organized against the bands. Panay is overrun by the insurgents outside of the American garrioles. They have 1,500 or 2,000 rifles and they levy a tax of 50 per cent on all the crops planted, which keeps the great majority of the inhabitants from putting in more than enough rice to keep them alive and the insurgent paymasters go out from Iloilo with money collected for their troops. American officers from Cebu report that conditions there show no change from one year ago; that outside of the dozen towns held by American troops the insurgent forces control the country, while the troops in the garrioted towns are under almost constant duty repelling attacks. Soldiers cannot even venture to the outskirts of the city of Cebu in smaller parties than eight, according to official orders, and they are frequently fired upon in the city. An occasional expedition is sent to the country, but the Filipinos merely scatter before it, harassing it as much as they can in a small way, and return to the towns when the soldiers withdraw. Similar conditions prevail in the great Visayan islands of Samar and Leyte, where large insurgent forces under General Lachon have been repeatedly attacking the garrioles, and the Americans lack sufficient troops to send punitive expeditions to drive them into the country. Mindoro and Palawan, two of the largest islands of the archipelago, have not been visited by American soldiers.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Copper Properties Are Getting Considerable Outside Attention Now.

MUCH DEVELOPMENT DONE ON THEM

Theory that the Mineral Was Not Found in the Hills Disproved by Successful Operation of Mines.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 10.—(Special.)—The Black Hills Copper company, which owns a large tract of mining ground five miles west of Deadwood, in Pennington county, has sold enough stock to commence working one or more of the copper-bearing verticals which appear on the property. This group of claims has been developed quite extensively. A carload of ore was shipped to Chicago some time ago which averaged 16 per cent copper and several dollars in gold. The company proposes to have a sawmill on the ground this month to saw lumber for boarding houses and other buildings. A shaft is to be sunk 400 or 500 feet on one of the best looking verticals.

The Vigilante mine in Copper county has a shaft down 225 feet on a true fissure vein and some very fine native silver is being mined. This mine has proven that copper ore exists in the hills and in verticals at that.

The old Lookout gold mine, located five miles east of Deadwood in Pennington county, has been sold to C. D. Hazard of California. This is one of the oldest mines in the South. It has been located by the late Colonel A. H. Day. The mine stands on the ground and it is stated that the new owner proposes to start everything to work again. The mine has been in litigation for some time. There are several large bodies of free milling and concentrating ore in the hills.

The Cleopatra Mining company has nearly completed the new 100-ton cyanide plant at the mines on Squaw creek. The machinery has commenced to arrive from the east and it is being installed. The company will be treating ore with a high cyanide solution. A trial run has been made by the new electric ore treating plant at Mystic, which has recently been completed by F. H. Long of Chicago. Ore has been treated successfully. Some of the machinery has already been worked for some time and it is shut down temporarily. It is the intention to increase this plant to a very large capacity as soon as matters can be arranged. The plant is situated in the center of a large number of good mines, which will have some sort of a custom ore treating plant near by.

Cochran's Private Bank. James Cochran has started his mill to work three miles west of Deadwood. The mine owner is one of the most independent persons in the Black Hills. He has a mill of 100 tons capacity and it is being treated with a high cyanide solution. A trial run has been made by the new electric ore treating plant at Mystic, which has recently been completed by F. H. Long of Chicago. Ore has been treated successfully. Operations Around Mystic. HOT SPRINGS, S. D., June 10.—(Special.)—The electric cyanide plant recently constructed at Mystic by eastern capitalists has just finished a test run and is declared to be a success. A few changes are necessary in some of the machinery and the mill has now been shut down for the purpose of making these changes. Ore from the northern hills and concentrates from the Holy Trench mill at Keystone were tested and in all cases the extraction was good. When the new machinery is in place they expect to start up and will then be prepared to handle large quantities of ore.

School Land Sales. PIERRE, S. D., June 10.—(Special.)—The sales of state lands this year, at an average of $15.26 per acre, have brought the average price received for all state lands sold up to $14.16 per acre, the average for former years cutting the general average down more than $1 per acre. The total number of acres disposed of during the year was 237,236 and the amount received for the same is $3,581,237. The interest on the same will bring to the schools of the state over $235,000 per year. The highest average price for each acre was made in a very small county of the state, where most of the land has been disposed of, runs from $12.12 to $15.48 per acre. The land department has sent out an estimate of the amount of money which will be on hand in the permanent fund for distribution to the counties the 1st of July. The amount of the fund is $1,000,000. There has been some difficulty in getting the money out at the rate of interest fixed by the constitution, all the permanent fund appropriated for the first of January has been paid for and is out.

Losses a Leg.

BLAIR, Neb., June 10.—(Special Telegram.)—At 9 o'clock tonight, as a special freight train was pulling out of Blair over the Sioux City & Pacific railway, Frank Worley, a young man about 21 years of age, attempted to jump aboard the train as it was passing McQuarrie's lumber yard in the west end of town, when it is supposed he slipped and fell under the wheels. He had one leg mangled just below the knee and Drs. Bodal, Palmer and Stewart amputated the limb about three inches below the knee. Young Worley has not been working for some time and was on his way to Fremont. His mother, two sisters and one brother live at Blair.

Wool Clips Come In.

PIERRE, S. D., June 10.—(Special.)—The first of the large wool clips have begun to come in. A number of smaller ones have been coming along for several days, but the heavy sellers are just getting into the warehouses. There have been no sales yet, and will not be until the regular sale day set by the Growers' association, which is the 21st of the month. At that time there will be several hundred thousand pounds of wool in the warehouses, and it is believed that numerous buyers will be on the market at that date.

FIRE BY LIGHTNING BOLT

North Nebraska College Building at Madison Destroyed During Storm.

IT HAD LONG STOOD UNOCCUPIED

Far Beyond the Reach of the Fire Fighting Service of the Town. The Building Burned Like a Huge Torch.

MADISON, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—The North Nebraska college building was struck by lightning early this morning and is now an entire wreck. The college is just outside of town and six squares from the water system, so the fire department could do nothing. A furious electrical storm raged last night for several hours and it was near midnight when a bolt struck the dome. It burned for quite a time before noticed and when the fire bell tapped was a mass of flame. The building was entirely gutted, leaving the four walls intact. The college has been unoccupied for about five years, but a deal was under way and it looked as though it would be made and school opened this fall. E. A. Whitman of Illinois owns the controlling stock. As he has no representative here it is not known how much insurance is carried on the building.

WEST POINT, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—A very severe electrical storm accompanied with a deluge of rain and hail visited this section last night. Hail fell mostly in the southern portion of the county, but did not do serious damage, the corn not being sufficiently high to suffer. The rain was badly needed, as the intense heat of yesterday caused vegetation to wilt badly.

EDGAR, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—One of the heaviest thunderstorms that ever visited this part of the country passed over last night from 10 o'clock to midnight. The falling of lightning was almost constant and very brilliant for more than an hour and the crashing of the thunder was something appalling. The rainfall amounted to about two inches and was just what was needed. The wheat was beginning to feel the effect of the dry weather and the aphids, but such an abundant rain will insure an enormous wheat harvest in this part of Nebraska.

MINDEN, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—Nearly one inch of rain fell last night, came in time to insure a good crop of fall wheat. Corn is looking fine. PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—A heavy rain visited this vicinity last night, which was much appreciated by all. HASTINGS, Neb., June 10.—(Special Telegram.)—A heavy rain visited this vicinity last night, which was much appreciated by all. A heavy wind and rainstorm visited this section last night, slightly damaging young fruit.

COMMENCEMENT AT HASTINGS

Rev. E. Van Dyke Preaches the Baccalaureate Sermon to the College Seniors.

HASTINGS, Neb., June 10.—(Special Telegram.)—The first of the commencement exercises of the college was the baccalaureate sermon preached at the First Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. E. Van Dyke. Nearly all the students were present and were seated in a body according to classes. The scriptural text was the 10th verse of the 13th chapter of Paul's letter to the Corinthians, three verses being designated as the answers to the three philosophical questions, "What may I know?" "What ought I to do?" and "What may I hope?" The discussion of the last question was especially addressed to the graduating students of the college. The sermon was well received and the graduates were very much interested in the struggle for the estate.

Atkins at Auburn. AUBURN, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—Coronel Dillon returned at 3:30 P.M. yesterday from near Hillsdale, where he was called to hold an inquest on a body found lodged on a sandbar of Morgan's island in the Missouri river. The body was undoubtedly that of Floyd Meredith, who was killed while bathing at Nebraska City on May 27, as it was destitute of clothing and had evidently been in the water for considerable time. Mr. Meredith came down from Nebraska City and was satisfied that it was the body of his son.

CHEOPS SAW IT.

"That is an enormous pyramid you are building," said the visitor at Egypt's court; "but it seems a purposeless kind of structure. What is it for?" "When the top stone is laid," replied Cheops quietly, "you will see the point."

Found one of the most enterprising lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in the state. If not the most enterprising one with its surroundings and distance from the railroad are taken into consideration. This lodge, known as the Hammond Lodge, was organized a few years ago and now comprises a membership of thirty-five. It has just completed a lodge building which cost over $400, and the same was dedicated last evening in a very fitting manner. The program consisted of a short address by Grand Guide J. D. Brayton, the delictatory address by Deputy Grand Master Arnold of Hastings, the exemplification of the screen work by Bassett Lodge, music and dancing.
