Scandalized by the Lack of Respect Shown Nowadays. Every now and then, says the Baltimore Sun, an elderly married couple will be met who address each other with the stateliness that was customary thirty years ago. The husband is "Mr. Smith to the wife, and the wife is usually "Mother" to the husband, nothing less conventional is ever heard from them, indeed, neither might have a first name for all the use that his better half makes of it.

"I just couldn't call your father Charlie,"

a quiet little woman said the other day, ia

"We didn't always," replied the little woman evasively, "but I liked to give him

his title even then—it's more respectful, much more respectful." "I'd rather have more affection and less respect," said the daughter, rehelliously.
