

CAPTAIN HUTCHESON GOES

General to Join His Regiment at San Francisco for the Philippines.

CAPTAIN BERWIN OF THE FOURTH COM'S

Change in the Office of Adjutant General, Department of the Missouri, Ordered from Washington Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain James Berwin, Fourth Cavalry, U. S. A., was on sick leave, will proceed to Omaha and report by telegraph to commanding general Department of the Missouri for assignment to duty as acting adjutant general of that department and to such other duties as may be required of him.

Captain Grover Hutcheson, Third Cavalry, U. S. A., is relieved from further duty at headquarters, Department of Missouri, Omaha, and will proceed to San Francisco and join his regiment.

Since official announcement was made that the Sixth Cavalry was to be sent to the Philippines I have been expecting to be ordered to join my regiment," said Captain Grover Hutcheson, adjutant general of the Department of the Missouri, last night. "It has always been the custom in army circles for all officers serving on detached duty to join their regiments in case they are ordered to foreign shores and for this reason I am not surprised at the news. In fact, I would have been decidedly out of the ordinary had such action not been taken by the War Department.

The news is by no means disappointing to me. I will be very glad to join the Sixth and look forward to service in the Philippines with no inconsiderable degree of pleasure. When I can get away is uncertain. The Sixth will probably leave San Francisco for Manila Saturday, the 20th inst. I hope to be able to join it by that time. There will be considerable work connected with the transfer of the office of adjutant general of this department to my successor and a great many details incident to the closing up of the responsible affairs of the position. Who my successor will be I do not know. The change in the position of adjutant general coming just at this time, when our headquarters are being removed to a new location in the city, will also make some added delay.

He is ready to start. Anticipatory of the receipt of orders to join his regiment at San Francisco Captain Hutcheson has already arranged many of the details of his departure and his suite of rooms at the Millard hotel is piled high with trunks and other moving paraphernalia. Mrs. Hutcheson will return to her home at Brooklyn.

Captain Hutcheson's command is Troop C of the Sixth Cavalry, which has been stationed at Fort Logan, just out of Denver. Since his promotion from the Ninth Cavalry to a captain, Captain Hutcheson has continued to serve as adjutant general of the Department of the Missouri and his service in the Philippines will be his first active connection with the Sixth. Captain Hutcheson has been connected with army headquarters in this city since 1895. Previous to that time he was stationed at Fort Robinson as adjutant of the Ninth Cavalry, and later going to Cuba for a short time. He resigned his position as General Coppinger's staff to go with General Schwan in a like capacity, and went through the Porto Rico campaign with General Schwan, returning to Omaha as adjutant general of the Department of the Missouri in November, 1898.

Reports show that over fifteen hundred lives have been saved through the use of One Minute Cough Cure. Most of these were cases of croup, asthma, whooping cough, bronchitis and pneumonia. Its early use prevents consumption.

REMINISCENCE OF ROOSEVELT

Talked So Entertainingly that Lawyer Griggs Forgot to Look at the Sights.

General C. P. Manderson tells a story which is a delightful comment to the conversational ability of Governor Roosevelt. "It was in the campaign of '88," said he. "One day N. K. Griggs, the lawyer-pet of Beatrice, came to my headquarters and asked for a letter of introduction to Mr. Roosevelt.

"Why, I'll do better than that. I will take you down and introduce you to him in person."

"So we put on our hats and in ten minutes Post Griggs had realized one of the ambitions of his life. Then, in the course of a few days, it was the good fortune of the Beatrice bard to form one of a party of gentlemen, of whom Roosevelt was the leading spirit, who took a drive through the city, visiting several points of interest, among others National cemetery. Griggs had often expressed a wish to see the National cemetery. It was one of the attractions, he said, that brought him to Washington.

"Well, Griggs sat in the back seat with Roosevelt and started the conversation by quoting a stanza from 'Lyrics of the Lariat,' a poem which, by a strange coincidence, was written by Mr. Griggs himself. But before they had ridden five blocks Roosevelt had steered the talk away from poetry into the rugged fields of woodcraft. From this point on the soldier and statesman dominated the conversation and the poet and lawyer was content to listen.

At the conclusion of the drive Griggs thanked Roosevelt for the pleasure it afforded him and was about to depart when he was reminded of something.

"But how about the National cemetery?" he said. "I thought we were to visit that."

"So we were," answered Roosevelt. "Griggs scratched his head and then remembered that for the last two hours he had been oblivious to his immediate surroundings. He had been out in the Rockies hunting bear and mountain sheep."

CRASH IN NORTH NEBRASKA

Brings Forth New Leader with Largest Score to Date in the Vacation Contest.

CLARA MOHL OF WEST POINT THE VICTOR

Two New Vacation Seekers Enter the Sky Parlor of the Six Celestials. Miss Miller Advancing to Second Place.

It must have been a young cyclone that hit the North Nebraska list yesterday, the way it tumbled things together, dropping Miss DeWitt after a long period of glory down to second place, and sinking the occupant of the second place down to a position where more cyclones hidden in the sweet ozone of North Nebraska and they are liable to make their debut almost any old day without previous announcement.

In Omaha Miss DeWitt still holds court in the realm of the celestials, but the small margin of majority, unless balanced by large sleazas, renders her liable to a trip out of the sort The Bee has offered in its prospectus. There are several vigorous members now holding the spot and it is not likely any of the future queens will enjoy a lengthy reign.

In South Nebraska another aspirant has started in with a vote that promises to make her an important factor in the race. The following is the score up to 5 o'clock p. m. Friday, June 22:

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Fire totally destroyed the feed warehouse of Arthur H. Rusforth and two cottages belonging to FRANK SHILHAN, at Twenty-fourth and Q yesterday afternoon. The total loss will be in the neighborhood of $7,000. It was about 4 o'clock when fire was discovered in the Rusforth warehouse and a telephone alarm sent in. On account of the immense amount of inflammable material in the storehouse the flames spread rapidly and by the time the fire department arrived the interior of the building was one mass of flames and the roof was about ready to fall. In an incredibly short space of time the flames swept from the feed warehouse to the two cottages on the south owned by Shilhan, and these were also destroyed. For a time the roof of ten cottages belonging to James and Joe Koutsky at Twenty-fourth and R streets were in danger of being destroyed and as it was one of the houses was damaged to the extent of $200.

When Chief Smith and Assistant Chief Holland arrived they saw a glance that help was needed and a general alarm was turned in. The fire fighting forces of Armour's, Swift's, Hammond's and the Union Stock Yards company promptly responded and rendered valuable assistance. It was deemed advisable to have the Cassidy and Omaha plants in readiness to come on duty at their respective homes in order to protect the packing industries in case of another fire.

The heat from the burning hay and grain in the warehouse was intense and for a time kept the firemen at a distance, but they gradually worked up to the burning buildings and by dint of hard work confined the flames to the buildings mentioned. During the fire, which lasted about three hours, several firemen were overcome with smoke and were compelled to retire temporarily in order to get a breath of fresh air.

A great deal of excitement was displayed by those who lived in the Koutsky cottages, as it was feared that the entire half block would be destroyed. Carpets were hastily torn from the floors and furniture moved to the street and in a few minutes very little anything was left in the surrounding houses. Chief Mitchell was on hand with a detail of police and the property which had been dumped promiscuously into the street was guarded until the owners saw fit to move back into their houses after all danger was over.

The heaviest loss will fall on Arthur Rusforth. His property destroyed was worth $5,000, with insurance on only a portion. He carried $1,500 insurance on the warehouse proper, $400 on a detached building in the rear and $100 on the contents, which included both of the cottages.

James Zaloudek occupied one of the cottages destroyed, while C. Small resided in the other. These houses were worth about $600 each and were insured. A large portion of the contents were saved by the police and the assistance in removing everything possible.

On account of lines of hose being laid across Q street at the intersection of Twenty-fourth street car service around this loop was discontinued and Omaha trolley used the old street "Y." All service on the line was discontinued for a couple of hours.

Aside from the losses mentioned, the individual loss to those who hastily moved will be quite large, as stoves, pictures and dishes were broken in the general rush.

One of the features of the fire was the rapidity of the fighting ability shown by the fire department. At one time Briggs was on the roof of the porch of the Curtis cottage when a sudden increase of the water pressure threw him to the ground. With his usual good luck Briggs landed on his feet and immediately climbed back to his post again. Some of the new hose recently purchased was used, the same in very handy.

A number of people were attracted to the scene as the conflagration was the largest which has occurred here in a number of years. Mr. Rusforth was not cognizant of his loss until he returned about 5:20 o'clock.

Republican Club to Select Delegates. President Tagg of the Young Men's Republican Club will meet in the city hall building Monday night to select delegates to attend the convention of the State League of Republican Clubs. According to the ruling made, South Omaha is entitled to one delegate for every fifty members. From the records of the secretary the club here is therefore entitled to ten delegates and this number will be selected on Monday night.

County Commissioners Will Assess. Notices were served yesterday by County Commissioners on the corporations owning property in the Fourth ward to appear before the Board of County Commissioners on Monday morning, June 25, for the purpose of entering complaints, if any are to be made, on the assessment of taxes for the year 1900. All interested parties have been notified and it is understood that the commission will be held on Monday night.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. C. L. Mullan and son, Charles, left yesterday for an extended eastern trip. Ed Pollock, the deceased, was employed by Cudahy in the Dakotas, is here for a few days' vacation.

A broken trolley line at Twenty-fourth and P streets delayed street car traffic for three-quarters of an hour yesterday morning. Weeds nearly cover the sidewalks in some sections of the city and an effort will be made to have the street commissioner cut them.

Dr. Enzor has finally recovered the bay horse stolen from his premises a month ago. He found the animal about sixteen miles out in the country.

James L. Paxton, general superintendent of the Stock Yards company, writes from Odessa that he is enjoying life. From Odessa he goes back to St. Petersburg.

Thirteen vagrants were brought before Judge King yesterday, but all were ordered out of the city. The judge said that he did not feel like incurring an expense on the city by sending the prisoners to the county jail as considered a suspended sentence the best thing at the present time.

Funeral services over the remains of L. C. Finch will be held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. E. Dennis, Twentieth and I streets. Interment will be at Laurel Hill cemetery. The deceased was president of the Order of Postal Clerks of the Tenth district and his wife was from Council Bluffs to Minneapolis.

Wood Cutting Starts Today. Police Judge King appears to be heartily in accord with the new ordinance which provides for the working of prisoners in mentioning this matter yesterday the judge said that he was perfectly willing to sentence vagrants and minor offenders to the work pile and if requested to do so he would put prisoners to work cutting weeds. All along the sidewalks the weeds are growing rapidly and should be cut. In some places the growth is so rank that the sidewalks are almost impassable. Chief Mitchell announced last evening that he proposes to commence the cutting of weeds today, as the city has the system on hand, and he will request Judge King to make the necessary order.

As for the rock pile, the sledges have arrived and the rock will be here in a day or two. Then some work will be done by the cutting of weeds today, as the city has the system on hand, and he will request Judge King to make the necessary order.
