Equitable Over the Fairmount Park Entrance Gets Into Court.

MOTOR COMPANY STARTS THE GAME

Let's a Contract for Removing the Dirt That Now Obstructs the Roadway and Brings on the Suit.

The Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company entered into a contract yesterday morning with E. A. Wickham for the removal of the earth that is now obstructing the entrance into Fairmount park. This was in accordance with the notice which the motor company last week served on Mayor Jennings and the members of the Board of Park Commissioners, that unless they forthwith removed the obstructions the company would do it and seek to recover the cost and damages from the board.

Contractor Wickham had everything ready to commence work, but the park commissioners, hearing of the proposed move on the part of the motor company at once instructed their attorney to prepare papers in an injunction suit. This put a stop to the work for the present, as learning that an injunction would be sought if any attempt to remove the dirt was made, the motor company notified Wickham not to take his teams and men to the cut until further orders.

As the matter now stands the motor company has secured a temporary restraining order enjoining the city and park board from grading down the cut, and from making a driveway through the cut, and the park board has enjoined the motor company from removing the dirt which prevents it running its trains into the park. Both sides stated yesterday that they believed that the matter would be compromised and an amicable settlement reached that will be satisfactory to both the motor company and the park board.

The opinion generally expressed is that the park commissioners should be willing to concede from the stand they have taken and consent to bear at least part of the cost of removing the earth, but the cost of which the motor company has agreed to pay. Last Sunday several thousand people visited the resort, but on all sides complaints were heard at being compelled to walk from Graham avenue into the park and climb a steep bank of dirt several hundred feet in length.

Mayor Jennings believes that a compromise could and should be reached in the controversy without further delay, as while the park commissioners and the representatives of the motor company are bickering over the removal of the dirt obstructing the cut the public suffers.

LINDT MAY LOSE THE BUILDING.

Schultz Company Files Another Amendment to Its Petition.

The Schultz Brewing company is not willing without another fight to give up its claim to the three-story brick building on Broadway which was erected at a cost of $200,000. The company's former tenants of the building, under which they held at the time of the institution of the suit by Lindt, expired prior to the final determination in the supreme court, and that at the time Lindt secured a judgment in Justice Viena's court in his action of forcible entry and detainer, the petition of the company for a rehearing on the supreme court was then pending and undetermined. Further it is claimed that as soon as the judgment was obtained by Lindt in the justice court Lindt & Filtner promptly and within the time prescribed by the statute appealed to the district court, where the case is now pending. Such being the facts, the brewing company insists that it was legally in possession of the building and entitled to relief under the occupying tenant's act.

DEAF PUPILS ARE GRADUATED.

Annual Exercises at the Iowa School Prove Interesting.

The graduating exercises at the Iowa School of Deaf-Mutes yesterday afternoon were attended by a goodly number of people from the city. The program, as usual, proved most interesting and demonstrated the wonderful development in recent years of imparting to those deficient in speech and hearing the power to articulate and express their thoughts in words. The proficiency attained by the pupils proved a revelation to those who yesterday visited the institution for the first time.

The exercises held in the large chapel, which is used as general assembly room, were opened by a short address by Superintendent Robert, followed by Rev. J. W. Wilson of the Congregational church, delivering the invocation.

The interesting feature of the program, which was carried out as published, was the several essays delivered orally by the different members of the graduating class.

Hon. G. S. Robinson, member of the State Board of Control, was present and delivered a short address, which was interpreted in the sign language to the pupils by the principal, Clippinger.

Last evening the members of the graduating class were tendered a reception and dinner in the assembly hall by the juniors and this brought the commencement festivities to a close.

VISIT THE HOME BRICK PLANTS.

City Authorities Call on the Council Bluffs Manufacturers.

Mayor Jennings and several members of the city council put in yesterday afternoon visiting the local brick plants with a view to ascertaining the quality of brick manufactured at home was good enough for paving. The general opinion of the city officials is that the brick is suitable, but that it is doubtful if sufficient can be made here for all the paving contemplated this year.

The local brick manufacturers, however, assert that if given the preference they will increase the capacity of their plants and furnish all the brick needed.

Some of the addresses are in favor of using home-made brick for the bottom course and the Des Moines product for the top layer. It is possible that the cement filler as used in Des Moines may be tried here this year.

The meeting of Fourth ward property owners to urge the use of asphaltum on the streets to be paved in that ward will be held this evening at the office of Day & Ross on Pearl street. City officials as a rule are opposed to asphaltum on the grounds that it costs more to keep in repair than brick paving. They say that with the extremes of heat and cold that occur in this city the asphalt is bound to crack and constantly needing repaving that it would not be enough paving of this kind to warrant the maintenance of a plant in this city all repairs would have to be done by the Omaha company.

The contest is now on for some girl in Council Bluffs to win a vacation, with transportation and expenses paid free of charge.

Crop Reports from Oakland.

OAKLAND, Ia., June 26.—(Special.)—Corn is on the upturn and is worth 32 cents on the local market. Gardner & Davis, who five years ago bought up many thousands of bushels at 18 and 22 cents a bushel have recently sold out 25,000 bushels at 32 cents per bushel and will begin shipping the coming week. William M. Maxwell has sold 10,000 bushels at 33 cents per bushel and will deliver the same immediately.

Clover haymaking is on in full blast and will continue for a week or ten days at the most. The crop is good. Some farmers have commenced "laying-by" their corn and it is looking very fine. The outlook for corn was never better at this time of the year. The acreage is about the same as usual.

Small grain is heading, but the straw will be very short and the yield light, owing to the lack of opportune rains. The ground at this time is severely dry and is cracking open badly. Rain is very much needed for pastures as well as for crops. Blue grass pastures are bare and brown, but a heavy rain would revive them. Clover pastures are looking pretty well, but have quit growing. Gardens are in a deplorable condition on account of the dry, lumpy condition of the soil.

Lieutenant Brings Home Bride.

REED OAK, Ia., June 26.—(Special.)—Lieutenant W. H. French, who served through the Philippine campaign with Company M, Fifth Iowa, arrived home last night with his bride, formerly Miss Beattie Norrington of San Francisco, they having been married June 20 in that city. The bride and groom were met at the depot by a large crowd of Lieutenant French's friends, among them Company M in uniform and carrying the colors. The bride was decorated with placards, old brooms and brooms and the carriage in which they rode to the home of Lieutenant French's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. French, was decorated appropriately. Lieutenant French made the acquaintance of his bride while the Fifty-fifth was at the supreme court, and they were betrothed at that time. Mrs. French was one of the most beautiful and winsome young girls in San Francisco and has many warm friends among the men of Company M. They were married at home in Denver, where Lieutenant French has a position with a wholesale grocery.

Brogan Had Muck Coin.

CLINTON, Ia., June 26.—(Special Telegram.)—This morning when the undertaker had removed the clothing worn by Pat Brogan, the man killed by the Northwestern train near this city yesterday afternoon, around his waist was found a belt containing $400 in gold, silver and copper coins. Besides this he had $25 in his pockets. The old coins are probably worth several hundred dollars. The man had been employed on the railway for the last two months as a section hand. So far the officers have been unable to identify the man. It has been learned that he boarded at the Union house while in St. Louis last winter.

Horse Disease in Iowa.

OAKLAND, Ia., June 26.—(Special.)—A disease something like pinkeye has broken out among the horses throughout the country in the vicinity of Oakland and farther south and east. J. W. Griffin of Carson has lost ten head, some of them very valuable animals, including his best racing stallion, Mr. Tompkins lost one good animal. A stallion owned by Griswold parties died from the same trouble. J. B. Pollock, east of town, lost a colt; Fred Bird lost a mare, and C. H. Converse lost a young mare. The last two were not from the prevalent trouble.

Horse Receipts Break Record.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., June 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Receipts of horses on the Sioux City market today broke all records. Chicago has had a big day, with receipts of 600 Springfield, 50,000 rounds of ammunition and a lot of miscellaneous supplies from the general government. These are the receipts of the day. The receipts of the day were 113 cars, or 2,500 head, beating the Chicago record by 1,000 head. Most of the horses arriving here were from Montana, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho. Every effort is being made to make Sioux City a leading horse market.

He was down about eight feet in the ground when the dirt caved in and he was brought to the surface by the men near by dug him out before he was suffocated.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

The question of purchasing a fire engine to afford additional protection to the business portion of the city is being agitated by Councilman Train at other. It is proposed to purchase an engine now stored in Chicago for $1,500 and with this idea in view a committee of the council will visit the corporations with a request for donations. Those who claim to know the feeling of the packers assert that there will be difficulty in securing a donation of $100 from each packing house and a like sum from the Union Stock Yards company.

When fire hall No. 2 on Indian Hill was demolished a year or so ago provision was made for the purchase of an engine if purchased it is thought it will be located at this house, so that there will be a down-grade run to all of the packing houses and the stock yards.

Conservative members of the council do not consider the purchase of an engine such a formidable undertaking, but the cost of maintenance is what is to be considered. The engine will cost $1,500 laid down here, while at least $300 will have to be spent to have a team capable of hauling the machine. Another $100 will have to go for harness and then the pay of three men, an engineer, driver and stoiker. In the course of twelve months the pay of these three men at the usual rate of $60 a month will amount to $2,160. Add to this the cost of harness and allow $100 for repairs for a year, means a total expenditure of the first year of $4,300.

In speaking about this matter last evening a taxpayer who is familiar with city affairs said that while the city needed a fire engine the packers would derive the benefit and he advocated the idea of allowing the packers to buy an engine if they wanted one. The city charter allows a levy of only 3 mills for fire purposes and the estimated expense of the present department for the coming fiscal year is $5,000. This sum can hardly be raised on account of the low valuation and the money, if an engine is maintained, will have to come from other sources.

Councilman Fille stated yesterday that he was opposed to the proposition. He thinks it will be far better for the city to purchase another horse wagon and maintain a fire station in the Second ward, as was promised before election. "This section of the city needs protection," said Mr. Fille, "and the money paid for a second-hand engine will equip a fire company in good shape." This feeling seems to prevail to a great extent and it is doubtful if Trainor will succeed in his scheme to unload a second-hand steamer onto the city. There has been no complaint about the direct pressure maintained by the Omaha Fire company. It is true that at the Rushford fire the pressure appeared to some to be a little low, but this was caused by the number of lines laid in. The city department maintains the Armour, Hammond, Swift and the stock yards lines. Mains were tapped at twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. No call was made on the big thirty-inch main, which runs south on Twenty-sixth street.

It is asserted by some of the councilmen that much better protection can be given by supplying another hose company and a book and ladder than by spending all the money in sight for an engine. Even if the packers do help out, the cost of maintenance will fall heavily upon the taxpayers and but little protection will be afforded to the residence districts, as in muddy weather it will be impossible to drag an engine through the unpaved streets. This question is one in which the citizens appear to be greatly interested, but when figures are shown the municipal officers must look for a few cents on hand before making a purchase.

Two or more years ago Chief Smith purchased a hook and ladder truck from the Council Bluffs fire department, paying for it out of his own pocket with the expectation that the city would reimburse him. The truck was a good one, but the man in charge would not man the machine. This has never been done and the truck stands today at No. 1 fire hall without ever having been in service in South Omaha. As the council has never seen its way clear to furnish horses and a driver for the apparatus, it is rotting away in the yards without being of any benefit to the city.

Each packing house maintains a fire department of its own with pumps which are constantly under pressure, so that there is no great need of the city expending a large sum for fire protection to these plants. When the residence portions are left unprotected at night, the city council has a movement was on foot some time ago to purchase an engine, but on account of each house having its own department and maintaining high pressure pumps the matter was dropped. Possibly the present agitation may result in finding some way out of the difficulty.

Clifton Receives Congratulations.

By the appointment and confirmation of C. C. Clifton as a member of the city council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. R. Kelly it is asserted that the combination which has been working under Ed Johnston is broken. Mayor Kelly will now have four votes with him on any proposition concerning good government and this will make a majority of the city council. The republican members and one democrat member, Johnston of the Fourth ward being the democrat. Councilman Clifton was busy yesterday receiving the congratulations of his friends on his confirmation. In a conversation Mr. Clifton asserted that he would serve the city and his constituents to the best of his ability during his term, which expires in April, 1901.

Stock Yards Improvements.

A heavy concrete retaining wall protecting the north unloading chutes at the stock yards was completed yesterday. This wall is 1,200 feet in length, is six feet high, four feet wide at the bottom and two feet at the top. It extends from the east entrance to the yards at N street to the east street viaduct. Behind this wall is a twelve foot brick platform and the unloading chutes adjoining have also been paved with brick. The wall, platform and pavement have been laid with a view to permanency and the total cost will approximate $9,000. The improvement is much appreciated by shippers and others who have business at the north chute.

bomb into camp and the expression of surprise on the faces of the members was almost worth the price of admission. As soon as Miller had read his resolution it was seconded by Martin and then the talk commenced. Mr. Johnston rose to remark that he did not consider the proposition a fair one at the present time, for the reason that he was a little shy himself. Other members apparently felt the same way, for when a vote was taken Miller was the only one who declared himself, the balance voting against the proposition.

Paroled Convict Arrested.

FRED PETERSON, Mo., June 26.—(Special.)—Fred Peterson, who was paroled from the Missouri State Penitentiary last year, charged with burglary and larceny of a home of a man named Crawford, three miles north of Maryville. The charge is an especially serious one for Peterson. A few years ago he escaped from the Nevada county jail and went to Peoria, Ill. There he had trouble with his mistress and shot her twice. After an exciting encounter with officers he was arrested, convicted of assault with intent to kill and sentenced to twenty years imprisonment. About six months ago, owing to his good conduct, he was admitted to parole. Under the parole conditions if he is convicted of any other offense, however venial, he may be immediately arrested and imprisoned for the remainder of the term for which he was sentenced. The officers here think they have a strong case against both men.

Fight Battle with Indians.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 26.—(Special.)—A battle was fought a few days ago north of Parkman near the Montana-Wyoming line between two Crow Indian police and two white men who had been ejected from the Crow Indian reservation. The Indians, whose names are One Star and Yellow Horn, were out rounding up cattle and while passing a cabin on the Egbert ranch were fired upon by two white men named Willard and Robert McAdams. The Indians returned the fire and several rounds were exchanged, no damage being done. The matter was reported to Major Edwards, the Crow Indian agent, and he returned to the cabin and arrested the two white men. The matter will be taken to the United States courts. It is alleged the McAdams had sworn to kill the two Indians for the part they took in expelling them from the reservation.
