WANTED-MALE HELP.

A FEW MORE POINTERS ABOUT THE OMAHA COMMERCIAL COLLEGES.
Located at the corner of Skitcenth and Loughes sts. Omaha. Net.
FOINTER No. 1-An exhibition in shorthard and typewriting, given hast Tacshay evening to an unusually large audience, proved a great success. The records made, both in speed and accuracy, astonished everybody. The following records were made: C. R. and E. R. Harper and Miss Lola Savage wrate new and difficult matter at Ell words per minute. They wrote studied matter at the rate of ET words per minute. They all read their notes readily. Miss Savage was then blindfolded and wrote H3 words per minute from a letter handed in from the asdience and read her notes without error. The following day site wrote bindfolded from absolutely new matter 133 words per minute, and made but one error folded from absolutely new matter 133 words per minute, and made but one error in reading it back. An exhibition was given by a student in Greng shorthand, who had been in school seven days. He wrote from matter selected by a member of the audience from 30 to 55 words per minute. The Misses Van Deusen, who had been in school just six weeks, wrote from new matter at the rate of from 75 to 100 words per minute and read their notes new matter at the rate of from 75 to 100 words per minute and read their notes readily.

The following records were made in touch typewriting: Miss Paulsen wrote 71 words per minute, with two errors, and Mr. Furlang wrote 68 words correctly. This was absolutely new matter. From a letter handed in from the audience Miss Chweland wrote 75 words, with three errors. Mr. Furlang 79 words, with three errors, and Miss Paulsen 85 words, with three errors, and Miss Paulsen 85 words, with they had previously practiced Miss Baker wrote 59 words, with four errors; Mr. Furlang 95 words, with five errors; Mr. Furlang 95 words, with three errors, and Miss Paulsen 113 words, with one error. Mr. Furlang was then blindfolded and wrote from an article read from the World-Herald 69 words per minute, with two errors. From a letter handed in from the audience he wrote blindfolded 70 words, with three errors.

When we remember that the above parties do not pose as experts, but have recently been attending school, the records they made certainly speak well for Gregg shorthand and the Mosher system of touch typewriting. We dare say that very few old and experienced typewriter operators could compete with these parwords per minute and read their note shorthand and the Mosher system of touch typewriting. We dare say that very few old and experienced typewriter operators could compete with these parties in both speed and accuracy. Gregg shorthand and the Mosher system of touch typewriting could not have received a higher commendation.

POINTER NO. 2—Several new students have recently entered the shorthand department and others have made their arrangements to begin the coming week, We are expecting an unusually large class to begin Monday morning. July 9, the opening of our summer chool.

POINTER NO. 3—Our new catalogue and circular, which will be out in about two weeks, will contain some things about the superiority of Gregg shorthand and the Mosher system of touch typewriting which will astonish same people. They ought to be in the hands of everyone interested in these subjects. They will be sent free to any address.

POINTER NO. 4—Our summer school for public school children will open Monday morning, July 9. This week will be a good time to arrange for this special term of six weeks. Reduced rates of tuition will prevail. All-of the work in the grades of the public school will be taught.

THE VAN SANT SCHOOL OF SHORT-

THE VAN SANT SCHOOL OF SHORT-HAND.

"Not the eldest, not the largest, not the cheapest—just the best." Investigate. The Van Sant School of Shorthand, in addition to its regular work, will run as a Normal Shorthand School during July and August, paying special attention to getting teachers ready for the September schools. While it will give special attention to touch typewriting it will also give instructions in all the standard and modern systems of shorthand.

While short terms are not recommended, no shorthand school in this section of the country turns out short-term students in better form. Elan W. Nelson studied in this school three months and after holding a position at $50 a month acted for two years as stenographer for Governor Holcomb at $1,500 a year. Mr. Dickinson, the official stenographer in Judge Baxter's court, studied in this school three months and one week and is now making about $2,500 a year. Miss Fanny Coggershell, who is now getting $75 a month with the Aetna Insurance company, took a three months? course in this school. Archie Foster studied four days less than three months in the Van Sant School and took a position at $50 a month. Many other short-time students from this school could be named, but those who complete the work and secure good positions in any school or in any system in three months are the brilliant exceptions and no honest man will claim that all can do it.

A. C. Van Sant, the first author of a chart system of touch typewriting, gives his undivided attention to his school, runs the only strictly shorthand school in Omaha and can safely promise the quickest and best results to be obtained in this city. Investigate. Prices reasonable. Results certain. Rooms in the New York Life building. Strictly modern. Strictly fireproof. Those patronizing this school take no risk of loosing their children by fire. Go to a school that has a record of success and whose students are filling the best positions in the land.
