Senator Lodge is Recalled. Senator Lodge was recalled and paid a glowing tribute to President McKinley, saying he resented unjust criticisms of the president during a trying time when he was doing his full duty. He referred to Bryan as the nominee of "mixed tickets" and said there was no possibility of Bryan forming a cabinet and named the leaders of the several conventions as material from which selections would have to be made.

Senator Lodge said in part: Senator Lodge said in part!

It was a particular gratification to me because of the fact that I have been in Washington during all these four years. I have seen what he has had to do, and what questions he has had to meet, and I have resented with deep resentment the criticisms that have been made upon him by the people who did not realize the tithe of the vast responsibilities that he was carrying.

by the people who did not realize the tithe of the vast responsibilities that he was carrying.

The republican party is the party that has always done things, and the people who do things are the people who meet the most criticism. You cannot carry entrenchments at the point of the bayonet without somebody crying out. We have carried a great many political entrenchments and there has been a great deal of crying out. We have carried the country back to protection; we have repelled the attack upon the currency now again renewed and we have met the questions of the war. Great deeds have brought their criticisms, but we do not fear to present that record to the American people. We believe that they will understand not only what has been done, but the untold disaster that would come to this country it McKinley should not be re-elected in November. I can tell you, speaking from the far east of the United States, that all those electoral votes are for William McKinley. We look to the great west to go the same way. We want four more years of presperity, four years in which to consolidate the great results of the Spanish war, and it is on those issues that we appeal unto the American people for support. We the great results of the Spanish war, and it is on those issues that we appeal unto the American people for support. We point to events in China new and say: "There is our witness of what the president has done." Imagine for one moment what would become of your foreign policy if you were to elect the nominee of the mixed tickets. (Great laughter and cheers.) Where is he going to get a cabinet? Look over the roll of the Kamsas City convention and point out to me a secretary of state whom you would be willing to entrust with the settlement of the Chinese question. Run your eye over the list again trust with the settlement of the Chinese question. Run your eye over the list again and tell me where among the Altgelds and the Sulzers you will find a secretary of the treasury. Look at the Sloux Falls collection and tell me whether you want Pettigrew in the Navy department and Allen at the head of the War department. They have all got to be recognized. These are practical questions. ions are being circulated throughout this

In conclusion, Senator Lodge urged his listeners to vote for the man who has stood as the champion of protection, as the champion of the gold standard, and the greatest man who has guided us through the Spanish war and all that has come to us with it Colonel Samuel Parker of Hawaii explained how politics were run in the Pacific islands. the associate of our president in the important and stirring campaign upon which we are entering.

You are still a young man as years are You are still a young man as years are counted, but the country knows more of you than of most of its citizens. You were identified and will ever be associated with those efforts toward reform in the civil service which command the approval of intelligent men of all political parties. Your stirring love of adventure has made you a more familiar figure in western camps and more familiar figure in western camps and on western plains than on the avenues of your native city. Your sterling Americanism has led you to the mastery of our earlier history and you have told us of the winning of the west with a charm and a spirit that have made us all better lovers of our country, while your tales of western hunting and adventure have filled the breast of every lad in the land with envy and emulation, and whatever doubts may have existed in the past now that you are our condidate they will be believed to be our candidate they will be believed to be true by every good republican. Services to the Country.

There is no man whose privilege it was to know you and to associate with you while you were the assistant secretary of the navy under President McKinley's adpointment, who is not eager to testify to the ability and fidelity which characterized your beaments of that office. Of your pointment, who is not eager to testify to the ability and fidelity which characterized your incumbency of that office. Of your services to our country during the late war with Spain, it is not necessary for me to speak.

Your name will ever be identified with the heroic achievements of our army and your warmest friends and most devoted admirers are the gallant band of "Rough Riders" whom you led to victory.

This bright and glorious record, however, did not lead that great convention at Philadelphia to insist on you as its candidate, although it fills with pride the heart of every true American. The republican party has chosen you because from your earliest manhood until today, in whatever post you have been called upon to fill and notably during your two years of splendid service as chief executive of the state of New York, you have everywhere and at all times stood for that which was clean and uplifting, and against everything that was sordid and base. You have shown the people of this country that a political career and good citizenship could go hand in hand and that devotion to the public welfare was consistent with party membership and party organization. There is not a young man in these United States who has not found in your life and inther ce an incentive to better things and higher ideals.

Governor Roosevelt's Acceptance. When Senator Wolcott concluded Governor Roosevelt stepped a pace forward and replied. His voice was clear and firm and as he proceeded there were several interruptions of applause. He said:

"Mr. Chairman: I accept the honor conferred upon me with the keenest and deepest appreciation of what it means and, above all, of the responsibility that goes with it. Everything that it is in my power to do will be done to secure the re-election of President McKinley, to whom it has been given
