Omaha falled to take a step toward the top of the championship ladder yesterday afternoon. The curves that Pitchers Newmeyer and Roach put over the plate were not sufficiently intricate to guaranty this and after bolding the game in hand for four isnings they let the visitors get such a start of them that the result was practically scaled. In the seventh inning, however, Omaha had its last chance for vic-With three men on bases, two outs and a man just to bat, Omaha's runner on third tried to cross the plate on a muffed ball from first to the pitcher and was

After Wednesday afternoon's excellent performance the fans came out prepared for brilliant play, but neither side had any for the control of th first-class ball to put on exhibition. The outfielders on both sides maintained their reputation for good work and at times the infielding was of a high order, but on the whole the game smacked a little of an Intercollegiate freshman match.

Today will be ladies' day at the Vinton street park and a repetition of Wednesday's rather than yesterday's game is expected.

Eyler's Wildness and Errors Back of Him Cost the Game.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Eyler's wildness, errors by Sullivan, Holland and Hickey, lost today's game for Denver. Eyler started the game by giving Strang first on balls. Singles by Baer and Kling gave St. Joseph the first two runs of the game. Eyler retired St. Joseph one, two, three in second, but in the third gave four bases on balls, made a wild pitch, which, with aid of two errors by Sullivan, gave the Saints a total of four. Denver came within one of tieing the score in the fifth, getting four singles off of Gibson. Maupin then replaced Gibson. Denver batted him hard, but could get only one run in the seventh and one in the eighth. The Saints made their other three runs in the sixth and seventh. A base on balls, Hall's single and Kling's two-bagger gave them two in the sixth and a base on balls, passed ball and a single gave them another in the seventh. Sullivan seemed to be nervous and unable to hold Eyler and in the third changed positions with Holland. Schmidt was put out of the grounds for questioning one of Ebright's decisions. Score:

Neola is Sore on Griswold.

ATLANTIC, la., July 12—(Special)—In a game of bull between Griswold and Neola at the former city yesterday the umpire gave the game to Griswold in the ninth inning, after it had been won by Neola. At the beginning of the game there arose a dispute as to who should umpire the game. Neola asking to have some party from the neighboring towns, wille Griswold persisted in one of their own men. In the last half of the ninth inning, when Griswold was at bat, the score was 13 to 11 in Neola's favor. With two men on bases the Griswold batter knocked a fly to first, which was caught; the ball was thrown to second and on to third, putting three men out. The umpire called two men out and later changed his decision to one man out. Neola refused to piay further and left the grounds. The umpire declared the game won by Griswold. Griswold money holders at first refused to give up any of the stakes, but later did so. Griswold declined to give Neola a cent of the gate receipts, whereupon the team bired a rig and drove to Atlantic in much disgust. Scoln is Sore on Griswold. St. Louis Wins 'Em All. ST. to have been at the direct wish of Mr. Bryan that some place in the middle western states be chosen for the ceremony. Leaders of the party, and especially Nebraskans. had their hopes raised by the announcement made some time ago that Bryan was going to stay at his home in Lincoln and have delegations come to him, instead of traveling about the country, and they thought certainly that Mr. Bryan would follow the dignified course of President Mc-Kinley and receive notification of his nomiination at his old home. But as soon as the convention adjourned Mr. Bryan intimated that he would like to be notified once more in Madison Square garden, but the leaders would not think of this, remembering the disastrous effects of the show given there in 1896, and then Mr. Bryan turned his attention to the middle west, and seeing that the gold democrats contemplated supporting another convention in Indianapolis, he decided that Indianapolis would be the best place for the notification, thinking that the hurrah incidental to the gathering of a crowd would stir up the Indiana democrats. This move on Mr. Bryan's part to go away from his home so early in the campaign is an indication that he is going to break his promises to stay at home and instead will roam about the country like he did four years ago.
