The only remarks which systematic teasing succeeded in eliciting were to the effect that the gentlemen had merely gone down to watch the proceedings of the convention in the interests of fusion and would take no active part in any other capacity. No real attempt is made to conceal the fact that Porter, Cornell and Wolfe have gone to watch the convention, although the institution investigation story is still car-

> This leave was applied for four months ago, so that his return at this time cannot be connected with the Chinese situation. Mr. Tower declares that, judging from the feeling he saw at St. Petersburg, and in the other great European cities through which he passed on his way home, the United States is in a peculiarly favored position. While there was no sign when he left of the present great upheaval in China, with its accompanying international complications, it was evident to him that in any such question as this, the United States as a nation, occupied the singular position of being the only power in the world that could act to advantage by reason of its possession of the unreserved confidence of the other powers. One and all regard the United States as free from selfish motives its eastern policies, and, consequently, are disposed to attach great weight to the utterance of the State department and are likely to acept its leadership on disputed

The council, after listening to the propositions, appointed Messrs Governor James A. Mount of Indiana fol- | Kidd and Lennon to investigate the proposal thoroughly. Mr. Chadick and Mr. Trasher are to open a new company, known as the Labor and Guarantee association. Neither they nor the members of the council will divules the plan proposed.

Vice President Max Morris, who was in structed to confer with Superintendent Dyer of the Colorado & Southern railroad in reference to the trouble between the Order of Railway Telegraphers and that company, reported to the council that the superintendent had agreed to meet a com mittee from the railway telegraphers' union but the committee must be from men con nected with his road. Mr. Morris believes that the conference will result in the ad justment of existing difficulties.

The council took up the matter of the American agents, whose charter was revoked at the last convention of the federation, and, by resolution, President Compers was instructed to notify all local labor unlops that they will not be allowed representation in the federation as long as they main in any way connected with the American agents, which the council declares is not a bonafide labor organization.
