REPUBLICANS ARE CONFIDENT

Good Prospects of Carrying the State for McKinley This Fall.

SOME PAST CAMPAIGNS ANALYZED

D. M. Pollard Cites some Figures Which Show that the Fusionists are Losing Ground.

Ernest M. Pollard of Nebraska, Cass county, president of the Nebraska State League of Republican Clubs, while in St. Paul, Minn., in attendance at the National convention of the league, was interviewed by a reporter for the Pioneer-Press and gave the following clean-cut picture of the conditions and prospects that are inspiring the republicans of this state with a confidence they have not felt for years:

"Nebraska will cast its electoral vote for McKinley and Roosevelt. We are preparing to turn Mr. Bryan down in his home state and we will do it as sure as election day comes around.

"You will remember that in 1896, with fusion in Nebraska between the democrats, populists and free silver republicans, Bryan carried the state by about 13,000 and the fusion governor was elected by about 13,000 plurality. The difference must not be taken to indicate that Mr. Bryan is any weaker than his party, but the republicans were not entirely fortunate in their selection of a candidate for governor and he did not pull the full party vote. Prior to that year the republicans had always carried the state.

"In 1897 the fusion candidate for supreme judge was elected by a majority of only about 5,000 votes. In 1898 they won out with their candidate for governor by only 2,700. In 1899 we lost our candidate for supreme judge in a contest that for local reasons was perhaps not a fair test of strength, but we cut the fusion majority down to 900 on one of the regents of the State university and to about 2,000 on the state ticket. You see the figures indicate a steady republican gain each year since 1896.

The Present Situation.

"Now to come down to the present situation. So far as the opposition is concerned, it is badly demoralized. The populists are the strongest element in the fusion and they have always demanded the lion's share. When the 'three-ring circus' met recently the democrats made a stiff demand for larger recognition. They wanted two places instead of one and they hung out for forty-eight hours. They were finally whipped into line and that has made a good many old-line democrats wince.

"Under the domination of Senator Allen and other leaders the pops were dragged into endorsing Stevenson. Towne was their idol and they are all torn up over his turning down. Bryan's treatment of Watson four years ago is still remembered and only intensifies the feeling over Towne. You recall that Bryan managed to be absent from Lincoln when Watson went there and they never did meet during the campaign.

"There is a strong mid-road organization in the state. They will probably run a full state ticket and a good many populist votes will be cast for the Donnelly national ticket.

Republicans Working in Harmony.

"On our side of the fence there never was a more harmonious condition. Our candidate for governor, Hon. C. H. Dietrich, is a very popular man, a hard-headed, successful German-American business man and a good mixer. We have the best state central committee we ever had. We held an early convention and the committee is organizing the state by road districts. They already have this work in better shape than it usually has been by election day.

"And then we propose to make the influence of the league felt as it never has been before. We expect to organize a club in every town in the state. In the smaller places there are many of the boys that own their own ponies and we expect to organize rough rider clubs in such places. In the larger cities we shall organize flambeau clubs, or give the organization some similar attractive form.

"Last, but by no means least, we have secured a promise from 'Teddy' Roosevelt to make a number of speeches in our state and we know he will make us voters. He assures us that he will give us considerable time a little later in the campaign, and we expect a number of other party leaders to help us bury Bryan and the Kansas City platform so deep that neither will ever be resurrected."

SATISFIED WITH THE OUTLOOK

Two of the Republican Candidates Give Good Reports of Political Conditions.

William Steuffer of West Point, republican candidate for state treasurer, and G. D. Follmer of Oak, republican candidate for land commissioner, are in Omaha keeping in touch with the management of the state campaign. Both of them give good reports of conditions in their immediate localities and express satisfaction with the encouragement received for their individual candidacies. They expect to go into the campaign actively next month.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Charles H. Utter, a prominent physician of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady 16 years of age who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well. I shall always prescribe this remedy in similar cases, for I have the utmost confidence in it."

TWO STATES SHOW INCREASE

Internal Revenue Receipts in the Dakota Larger Than Last Year —Nebraska Drops Back.

The collector of internal revenue has prepared a comparative statement of the business of his office for the years ending June 30, 1899, and June 30, 1900. The statement shows a decrease in receipts for the last year of $44,161.15, compared with the former year. This decrease is in the state of Nebraska, the states of North Dakota and South Dakota showing a slight increase over the previous year. The largest decrease is in the item of proprietary medicines.

SMITH SPARS WITH SULLIVAN

Attorney Calls Upon Supreme Court to View Its Own Defects.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT IN ALBYN FRANK CASE

Honorable Remarks Made Upon Court's Quotation from Hugo and Unparaphrasing Criticism is Passed Upon Opinion Rendered.

Ed P. Smith returned from Lincoln yesterday after filing a most strenuous appeal for a new hearing of the Albyn Frank case before the supreme court. A similar brief in the interest of Mr. Frank was filed by Ralph W. Breckenridge, who has not yet returned to the city. Mr. Smith's brief contained such caustic comments on the opinion of Judge Sullivan that the attorney was somewhat apprehensive of a summons for contempt. He has received a letter from the justice, however, in which the latter's dignity does not seem to have been disturbed.

Albyn Frank's effort to secure a rehearing is due to the fact that his office under the old law was presumably worth from $20,000 to $40,000 per year, while the recompense has now been shorn to $5,000. Judge Estelle of the district bench held with Mr. Frank, but the supreme court reversed the opinion.

"It has been our belief," said Mr. Smith, "that the law changing the office of the district clerk from a fee to a salary system is unconstitutional. When the new law was passed March 14, 1899, we pointed out that there was no 'aye and no' record in the house journal. Judge Estelle ruled, however, that such a record had once existed, but had been destroyed. In the second place, we contended that after the law had been amended in the senate, March 21, it was never passed upon by the house. Our third point was that the substance of the bill was wider than the title. Judge Estelle held with us on the latter two points.

"In reversing Judge Estelle the opinion of Judge Sullivan is almost altogether occupied with the matter of ayes and noes, upon which both judges agree. In a few paragraphs Judge Sullivan then reverses the district judge on the other two points. I took considerable pains to point this out in the brief."

Law Books of No Avail.

Mr. Smith cites in his brief decision after decision to prove that Judge Sullivan was in error in his opinion. "It avails the profession little to keep in touch with the decisions of this court," says the brief, "and there is but little inducement for lawyers to fill the shelves of their libraries with the decisions of this and other courts if each case is to be decided upon its own peculiar equities. And especially is this true if in deciding constitutional questions the decision is to be supported by quotations from fiction rather than the authority of those who constitute the supreme courts of the different states of this union."

This latter reference is a shaft directed at the supreme court's citation from Victor Hugo. In commenting upon the house journal supposed to contain the ayes and noes the court had remarked that it was fearfully and wonderfully made. "It consists of loose sheets of paper," said Judge Sullivan, "bound together with a frayed and fragile twine." The judge felt that all the trouble resulting from the missing ayes and noes was caused by the instability of a pin. He was reminded of Victor Hugo and quoted the following extract from "Les Miserables":

And these things took place and these kings resumed their thrones, and the master

MATHEWS FILES HIS REPORT

Cost of United States Courts Last Year Was $65,871.81.

OFFICES EARN MORE THAN THEY COST

Deficit Results from Persons Who Are Convicted Serving Out Their Fines and Costs in Jail.

The cost of running the United States circuit and district courts for the district of Nebraska for the year ending June 30, 1900, was $65,871.81. These figures are based upon the report of United States Marshal T. L. Mathews, which was filed yesterday in the office of the United States district clerk.

The marshal's office has charge of the expenditures for the court with the exception of the salaries of the officers and of the clerks in the office of the circuit and district courts. An itemized statement of the expenses for the four quarters of the year is as follows:

Quarter Ending September 30, 1900.

Jurors and witness fees..... $1,038 43

Miscellaneous expenses..... 405 99

Salaries, fees and expenses..... 2,119 23

Support of prisoners..... 1,081 21

Pay of bailiffs..... 62 98

Total..... $4,717 93

Quarter Ending December 31, 1900.

Jurors and witness fees..... $4,419 29

Miscellaneous expenses..... 424 50

Salaries, fees and expenses..... 725 25

Support of prisoners..... 79 45

Pay of bailiffs..... 72 30

Total..... $5,821 83

Quarter Ending March 31, 1900.

Jurors and witness fees..... $3,333 13

Miscellaneous expenses..... 625 38

Salaries, fees and expenses..... 841 07

Support of prisoners..... 308 36

Pay of bailiffs..... 305 10

Total..... $5,443 04

Quarter Ending June 30, 1900.

Jurors and witness fees..... $4,428 43

Miscellaneous expenses..... 612 25

Salaries, fees and expenses..... 1,342 27

Support of prisoners..... 1,146 47

Pay of bailiffs..... 415 59

Total..... $12,769 92

Total for the year..... $25,381 81

The expenditures of the salary and fee fund include no fees or salaries, but the actual expenses of the officers while on the road serving process. The expenses of the office are, in addition to the figures given, which for the last year amounted to $5,140. The expenses of the offices of the circuit and district clerks are approximately $16,500 per year, including the salaries of those officers, bringing the total to $35,871.81, including the salary of the judge, $5,000.

The offices are all earning more money than they cost, although much of the money earned is never paid in, as it is charged against persons convicted of crimes who serve out their fine and costs in jail. During the last year the marshal's office earned $10,428.18, nearly twice as much as the amount of the fees and salaries paid the marshal and deputies.

CHIEF HAS ENOUGH TO DO

Mayor Moore Disapproves the Idea of Making Him an Inspector of Explosives.

"The explosive ordinance does not suit me and it is quite likely that I will veto it," Mayor Moore replied when questioned concerning the much-discussed ordinance which the council passed at its last meeting. Residents of Wyoming are wearing their overcoats today," remarked Observer Welsh yesterday when he received the daily weather bulletin. "The temperature at Lander was 42 degrees and at Cheyenne it was 38, with light frosts reported."

For the first time in many weeks the weather map showed a big variation in the United States at the morning reading. With 40 degrees marked in Wyoming, a few hundred miles south, in Arizona, the isothermic line of 80 degrees passes. It is not uncommon to have this difference, but the extreme are usually further apart.

With the extremely low temperature in the immediate west the probabilities are that Omaha will enjoy bracing weather for a few hours longer, when the thermometer will give the mercury free range and it will jump high up into the eighties.

PASSENGER AGENTS MEET

Considerable Routine Business is Transacted—Two Important Matters to Be Considered Further.

The meeting of the Western Passenger association held in Marquette, Mich., this week resulted in the accomplishment of a great deal of routine business of interest to the lines having membership in the association. The most important matters which were called up for consideration were not definitely disposed of, these being the questions of bringing into the fold the four western lines that have persistently refused to come under the jurisdiction of the association, and the adoption of uniform interchangeable mileage in all Western Passenger association territory.

Committees having in charge the task of persuading the outside lines to join the association reported satisfactory progress in their work and it is the prevailing opinion among passenger men that before long the association will comprise in its membership every western line. The report of the committee relative to the adoption of interchangeable mileage, in which a recommendation favoring the plan was made, was referred back to the committee for further consideration.

Judge Munger's decision was the only one, I think, that could have been made from a proper construction of the law covering the points at issue and in view of previous decisions of the supreme court."
