State House Officials Uneasy About the Fate of the Railroad Board.

SUPREME COURT MAY PASS UPON IT

Joint Request is Framed and Presented on Which the Constitutionality of the Law May Be Decided.

LINCOLN, July 21 .- (Special.) - The sec retaries and members of the State Board of Transportation have joined with the governor in requesting the judges of the supreme court to consider and decide the constitutionality of that board. Pursuant to the suggestion of Governor Poynter, Judges Sullivan and Holcomb met today to confer upon plans for considering the matter, but in the absence of Chief Justice Norval no meet early next week and will then decide upon one of two courses for finally determining whether the State Board of Transportation has any legal existence.

The constitutionality of the board is involved in one of the numerous railroad cases instituted recently by the attorney general and now pending before the supreme court and this tribunal may decide to allow all parties interested to make further argument on the question. The other method which may be employed would be the insti-
