In its answer the city denies that it is "threatening to purchase a machine"-in the language of the petition-but holds, on the other hand, that the purchase has already been made. It says that the sweeper is now in active and satisfactory use and that it is too late to rescind the contract.

TAXPAYERS OPPOSE PURCHASE. South Omaha High School Site Case

The pleaof Joseph Garlow and other property owners is that the board has no funds on hand with Shampoo. which to acquire property coating $9,500. The school board is attempting to show that there is only $57,000 in outstanding warrants, whereas there is $70,000 in the treasury with which to meet obligations. Thus it is claimed that there is $13,000 available which may be used for the purchase of a school site. The taxpayers set up on the contrary that there is less than $800 available with which to make the $9,500 payment.

has filed notices of appeal to the district court in three cases.

Frank Lauger is seeking to recover $10,000 from the Union Pacific railroad for personal injuries received while at work on the new Sixteenth street viaduct, March & Lauger says he was standing under a twenty-foot embankment at the south end of the work when other laborers carelessly tamped the frogen earth from above with sledges. As a result there was a landslide which caught Lauger and injured him seriously about the legs and body.

Falconer Gifford is seeking an injunction in district court against Jesse and Kate Root, complaining that he is greatly damaged by reason of a ditch in his neighbors farm in the western part of the county. Gifford says that there is a dry creek runbing through the Root estate leading into the Pappic creek. The Roots have dug a drain in such a manner that during heavy rains a great quantity of water is diverted from the creek's bed to Gifford's farm, transforming his eighty acres into a swamp. Gifford asks that his neighbor be compelled to close the ditch.
