

BURLINGTON'S LATEST MOVE

Lays Sidetrack Through Alley Between Harney and Howard Streets.

INUNCTION OF COURT DISREGARDED

Railroad Men Admit that the New Track is a Valuable One and Gives the Road a Big Advantage.

In the face of an injunction issued Sunday, November 12, 1899, by Judge Keyser, and of which no record of disposition appears in the office of the clerk of the district court, the Burlington Wednesday night laid a sidetrack through the alley between Harney and Howard streets from Ninth to Tenth street.

Whether the absence of the prime movers in the opposition to the laying of the track or the general spirit of railroad building in the western part of the city prompted the Burlington to lay this track last night does not appear.

Operations on Eighth street have been at a standstill, although small squads of laborers representing the Burlington and Omaha roads are on the scene of the work.

pany at Guernsey to be hauled by the Burlington to Denver and thence to the company's smelter at Pueblo. In Denver it is thought that the Burlington will shortly build an extension from Denver to Pueblo in order to haul the output of these Guernsey mines to the Pueblo smelters without dividing up with any other road.

Local officials of the Burlington decline to affirm such reports although in railroad circles it is considered altogether feasible.

The completion of the connection between Deadwood and Denver will also result in the shipping of ore from the mines in the Black Hills to Denver and Pueblo, and these shipments, added to the output from the Guernsey mines, will strengthen the practicability of an extension by the Burlington into Pueblo.

Attorneys for Rival Corporations Confer with City Attorney.

Attorneys for the Burlington and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroads have been in conference with City Attorney Connel and show a disposition to arbitrate their trouble concerning the extension of the Omaha company's switch along Eighth street from Capitol avenue to Howard street.

"I have given the companies to understand," said Mr. Connel, "that the city authorities realize that property in that section of the city has greater value for warehouse purposes than for anything else and that there is no disposition to prevent the construction of switches along the streets and alleys providing no road adopts a dog-in-the-manger policy and tries to monopolize the business."

Mr. Connel and the city engineer went over the new tracks carefully and made a careful examination of the situation. M. D. Karr, the acting mayor, has signed the resolution granting the right-of-way for the extension, so the company has authority from the city for laying the track and is at peace as far as the city government is concerned.

JAMES DENT DIES ON DUTY

Electric Lineman Stricken by Deadly Fluid at Top of Pole.

FELLOW WORKMEN VIEW ELECTROCUTION

Lifeless Body Held at Summit of Pole by Safety Straps. Cause of Death Remains Guess. Efforts Made to Bring it Down.

A game of four linemen stood at the corner of Seventh and Jones streets at a clock Thursday afternoon and looked at their companion, James Dent, as he dangled in a strap at the top of an electric light pole, a thin wreath of blue smoke rising from his right arm.

A few minutes before, equipped with the metal spurs and tools of a lineman, Dent had climbed up the electric light pole to make some repairs.

The strongest of the quartet climbed the pole, cut the strap and bore the corpse down upon his shoulder.

The four men who witnessed this sickening spectacle were Fred Keyser, 4114 S. Maple street, Guy Ripley, Twenty-third and Cuming streets; George Keubler, 1628 Kyner avenue, and Wes Waters, 808 Pierce street.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Coroner Swanson, where an inquest will be held.

The deceased had a wife and four children living at Millard, Neb., was 32 years old and had had many years' experience as an electrician and lineman.

Several friends, among them two practical electricians, called at the coroner's office last night to view the body.

Contrary to expectations the city council did not make any provision for the repair of the pavement on Twenty-fourth street when the annual appropriation ordinance was passed.

One member of the finance committee suggested last evening that bids be advertised for at the next meeting of the council.

The street is costing the taxpayers a great deal of money, and there is a desire to reduce this expense if it is possible to do so.

After bids on both propositions are received the council will then decide which is best to accept.

Residents in the southwestern part of the city are considerably exercised on account of the delay in letting the contract for the erection of the proposed Corrigan school.

At the time bids were opened it was asserted by Architect Davis and others that if the contractors were allowed to go to work at once the building could be completed in time for the opening of the fall term.

The chief clerk centers about copy books for the next year. The Silver-Burdette company had the contract for last year and is anxious to supply the books for 1900-1901.

The other companies that are bidding on copy books are: American Book company, D. C. Heath, Werner School Book company and Maynard & Merrill.

High school text books on physiology and history are also to be purchased.

SAFER TO RIDE BRAKEBEAMS

Tramp Rides Over South Counting the Ties Into South Omaha.

Frank Foster, a tramp who boasts of having cut his nails upon a corner of water tanks across the continent, was seriously injured Thursday morning while walking along the Rock Island tracks about five miles southwest of South Omaha.

In this condition he walked to Omaha and reported to the police station, where Dr. Ames dressed the injured leg. He says he has made up his mind that it is safer to ride on the brakebeam.

Murphy Looking Up the Law.

That fruit stand trouble has not been settled yet and it may be some little time before a solution of the problem is arrived at by the legal lights of the city.

Justified in doing so by existing ordinances. There is an ordinance on the books now all, leaving merchants the space of four feet from the building line in which to display their wares and as he has found no ordinance repealing this provision he is at a loss how to proceed. The prosecutor says that he will make a thorough investigation of the ordinances now in force and if there is any legal ground for the removal of the stand in question he will proceed with an action at once.

Chief of Police Mitchell was directed by the council to remove this fruit stand, but on account of the existence of the four foot ordinance he has so far declined to do so.

CITY IS WARNED TO KEEP ITS DISTANCE

Municipal Squatter Will No Longer Be Tolerated on County Hospital Grounds—Health of Patients is Endangered.

The city and county almost came to blows Thursday afternoon regarding the presence of a municipal pest house on the grounds of the county hospital.

In the same way, doing without Ivory Soap is economy but it isn't wise; your risks are greater than all possible saving.

Imagine then what it will do in a single Monday's washing! Is such economy wise?

No External Symptoms.

The blood may be in bad condition, yet with no external signs, no skin eruption or sores to indicate it. The symptoms in such cases being a variable appetite, poor digestion, an indescribable weakness and nervousness, loss of flesh and a general run-down condition of the system—clearly showing the blood has lost its nutritive qualities, has become thin and watery.

S. S. S. has done some of its quickest and most effective work by building up the blood and supplying the elements lacking to make it strong and vigorous.

My wife used several bottles of S. S. S. as a blood purifier and to tone up a weak and emaciated system, with very marked effect by way of improvement.

We regard it a great tonic and blood purifier.—J. P. Durr, Princeton, Mo.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all tonics, and you will find the appetite improves at once, strength returns, and nervousness vanishes as new rich pure blood once more circulates through all parts of the system.
