Fight on Balduff.

The hearing of the case in which Caterer W. S. Balduff is charged with selling liquor contrary to law at the Lake Manawa cafe was continued in Justice Vien's court yesterday until Wednesday.

It developed yesterday that in addition to the warrant for Balduff's arrest on the information filed by B. C. Dodd of the Omaha Waiters' union, Justice Vien issued a search warrant on an affidavit filed mittee by one Frank Norman. Constable Alberti of Justice Vien's court failed to seize any drinkables at the cafe, however, as he discovered that some one had gotten in ahead of him. A Lewis township justice had already issued a search warrant and the liquor was in possession and charge of a man named James Connell. Both search warrant proceedings were dismissed yesterday morning.
