

(Copyright, 1900, by George Horton.)

CHAPTER XXVII.

Panayota was lying face down upon the hed, but when she heard heavy footsteps in the hall and the scratching of the key upon Souleima. "She drinks like a fish. the door, as some one outside fumbling at the lock, she sprang to her feet and backed her?" to the wall at the farther side of the room. She cast her eyes about the bare, dim room, as though there must be some way of escape, protested Ayesha. meaning, meanwhile:

horror, and she scarcely seemed to breathe. out of my sight, the two of you. You take There was in her attitude the alertness of my appetite away. She at least is not a a hunted cat, that hopes to make a sudden greasy old sloven.

She made no reply, but slid along the querulous and disgusted tone: wall, with her eyes fixed on the open door. He turned with an exclamation of im- can't you? Darken the room and go away. patience, shut it with a slam, locked it and Shut the door, and if any of you women put the key in his pocket.

"Na!" he said, "don't think of escaping. say to you. And now, in the first place, I and thrust her face back into the room. swear to you by my hopes of salvation that I love you. Panayota."

"Why do you say that I murdered your father?" "Bring him to me alive, and then I shall She walked straight up to them, know that you did not." "You ask an impossible thing. Panayota in the same boat, and must work together. He is probably among the Sphaklote moun- In fact, you are in a worse fix than I am. tains by this time, and you know there for I am younger and better looking than

Then I'll tell you what you do." cried This was not conciliatory language, but in a time like this?" asked Curtis indig- and notable among the best athletes in

Kostakes gave his mustache an impatient

To let you go, after all the trouble I've had getting you? Oh, no. Panayota. power." You're mine, by Allah! and whoever takes you away from me must kill me first. You said Ayesha. don't know how I love you, I could never tell you. Listen. There isn't a drop of "He has nothing against us. We are came a Turk because because of cir- great a scandal." cumstances, to save his life. I am the son "He will find a way," replied Ferende, of a Greek mother and she used to sing coelly. "When a Mussulman really wishes was talking very fast now. "I have al- sooner or later." mind to do it right away. I have heard things! They had no Virgin to take refuge great news. Everybody says that the pow- with. king of Greece. Then there will be no gested Souleima. more Turks here. They will either go Ferende started violently and turned away or become orthodox. Say you'll have pale. "No!" she cried, so loud that all and we'll be married before the priest-"

Will you murder your wives as you did my father?" asked the girl. Kostakes It's too dangerous. She must escape." stared at her, deprived for the moment of the power of speech. In his enthusiasm. that he had talked himself into the feeling that yota's voice, hard, sneering, cold with hate, heads together. shocked him like a sudden blow in the face with a whip. Then rage surged up in his veins and knocked at his temples. His trembled, and he gnashed his teeth. Kos- the blockhouse?" takes was not beautiful at that moment. Panayota laughed.

"Oh, you Turk," she cried "you cowardly Turk. You needn't grind your teeth at me. plied Turk. You need to great the live only your bohm Kostakes raised his doubled fists above his head and brought them down with such violence that an involuntary "Ah!" escaped and 300 yards from here.

"By God, girl, you would drive a saint erazy," he cried. "Here I am offering to moment later by a distant report and the at one of the windows of the blockhouse, change my religion and put away my humming of a guitar string in the air There was a full and they dashed forward

SENT FREE TO MEN

Quickly Restores Lost Vigor to Men.

A Free Trial Package Sent by Mail

remedy are being mailed to all who write the State Medical Institute. They cured so Englishmen, a Frenchman and a German many men who had battled for years lay resting at anchor, thin columns of against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood that the institute has decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write it is a home treatment and all men who suffer with any form of sexual weakness resulting from youthful folly, premature loss of strength and memory. premature loss of strength and memory weak back, varicocele or emactation of parts can now cure themselves at home. The remedy has a peculiarly grateful offect of warmth and seems to act direct to the desired location, giving strength and development just where it is needed. It cures all the ills and troubles that come from years of misuse of the natural functions and has been an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute, 39 Elektron Building, Ft. Wayne, and, stating that you desire one of their free trial packages will be compiled with promptly. The Institute is desirous of reaching that great class of men who are unable to leave home to be treated and the free sample will enable them to see how easy it is to be cured of sexual weakness when the proper remedies are employed. The Institute makes no restrictions. Any man who writes will be sent a free sample, carefully seeled in a plain package, so that its recipient need have no fear of embarrassment or publicity. Readers are requested to write without delay.

that you are in my power, and I can do tion of the sound.

"Wine, effendi, in a Turkish house?" 'Yes, wine; if you've got any, bring it on, for I am tired and thirsty." "I think Ferende has some," "Umph! And I don't suppose you help

"Effendi, I swear-" commenced Souleima. "I don't even know the taste of it,"

"Silence, silence! and bring me some "Little Virgin, save me! Oh, my God. And look here," as the decanter was set before him. "if I ever hear a lisp about my When Kostakes entered he found her thus, wine drinking I'll wring the necks of you her fists clenched, her fips white. She was both-cackling old hens that you are. And looking at him with great eyes of fear and now send Ferende to wait on me, and get dash for liberty and get away even at the last moment.

After the effendi had eaten he betook himself to his chamber in search of much-"In the name of God, Panayota," he said needed rest. Ferende followed him, and, tenderly, "why are you so frightened? Have sitting down upon the side of the bed, at-I not told you I would not touch a hair of tempted to lay her cheek against his. But he pushed her from him, saying in a

> "Get off from me and let me breathe. make a noise-ch, there, listen!"

"Yes, effendi." Ferende had nearly closed Try to fix your mind on what I am going to the door, but she opened it a little ways "Don't take Panayota up those cold fish. I mean you no harm. Now listen to me- Fry her some hot ones, and give her some wine."

"Is that why you have murdered my The ex-favorite found the two elder wives whispering together in the garden. "Why didn't you stay with the effendi?" asked Ayesha, spitefully.

"Let's be friends," she said. "We're all aren't troops enough in all Turkey to get either of you, and a young handsome woman can always live somehow.

Panayota eagerly, advancing a step or two, it accorded so well with what the two nantly. "But, see here, Lindbohm, since the world, the foot ball players of Har-Let me go and find him. I'll return here women had just been saying to each other, you're uneasy about me, you'll find my ad- vard, he had nothing to fear. He dodged to Canea with him. Honestly I will, that they could make no reply. Each dress in my pocket. If anything happens between the sinewy arms of his opponent honestly and you shall come and talk to me looked inquiringly at the other for a to me, write to my folks. And and, about and, arching his back against the python moment, and then Souleima asked: "Do you think he is in earnest?"

"Absolutely. He would have no reason

"We shall all be turned into the street," "He would never dare," cried Souleima.

Greek lullables to me in my cradle." He to get rid of a wife, he always manages it ways said I would turn Christian some "What shall we do, oh, what shall we time, and when I saw you I made up my do" sobbed the two elder wives. Poor ers have decided to give the island to the "If she should take sick and die!" sug-me. Panayota, and I'll get rid of my harem, three of them glanced apprehensively at the windows. Then lowering her voice: "Don't ever think of such a thing again. "But the effendi would kill us even for

"It must be done in such a way that he his dreams were already realized. Pana- will never suspect us. We must put our CHAPTER XXVIII.

Curtis was lying on his stomach behind a rock, with his rifle beside him. "About sixty or seventy rods," he re-"Rods? What is a rod?" asked Lind-

The Yankee laughed.

"D-n bad shot," observed his com-

So we take it." The bleckhouse was a little above them. written capital V. Four war ships, two drifting away amicably together. Something over a mile and a half away, those great floating engines of death and terror looked as innocent as a tiny fleet on a

Curtis. Lindbohm smiled and raising his

He himself selected the men who were to head and his pompadour had fallen down net and another with an outburst of exthe tip of his tongue and inquired:

the little mother.

accompany him, twenty-five in number, band and one by one, as a sergeant called and such as possessed bayonets proceeded their names, they stepped forward and o fix them to their rifles. The places handed their weapons to Curtis, who passed from which the shooting was to be done them to a man outside the door. The last were selected and the men began to get to gun had scarcely been given up ere a sudden them as rapidly as possible. Lindbohn commetten broke out among the Cretans and Stories Told by a Group of Gold Miners and Curtis, at the head of their little band. half a dozen burly insurgents, forcing their worked down toward the open spot across way past the guard, burst into the room which the rush must be made. These The commotion now swelled to a hourse upnovements caused more or less of ex- roar and Curtis caught the words: "Kill! GIVING A ROAD AGENT THE GRIP posure and drew repeated fusillades from kill!" and "No! no!" Lindbohm did not the blockhouse. Most of the bullets realize the gravity of the situation. He was passed over the heads of the attackers, raging because his orders had been disout occasionally one slapped against the obeyed, and thought that the whole band, soft face of a rock, or scurried through actuated by curiosity, were about to swarm the gravel. One glanced near Curtis' in. He therefore leaped to the door with head and hummed like a musical top. He leveled bayonet and threatened the crowd out of you but an insult. Don't you know turned and looked curiously in the direct so fiercely that they all shrank back. Mean-It was a group of gold miners telling in spots, like a wheat field upon which postulation seized the threatener's gun. fragments of wind have dropped here and Then a third Cretan leaped upon him and there. He was very much in earnest now, attempted to push him to one side of the as nervously he swept one end of his great room. Curtis, now completely crazed with blonde mustache between his teeth with rage, dropped the gun which he was unable to use at such close quarters and "Eh? Is it not so? We must remember snarling, "D-n you, I'll choke the life out of you!" danced with hooked hands at "Do you think I'd go back on a friend his adversary's throat. Strong as a gorilla

WHEN KOSTAKES ENTERED HE FOUND HER THUS.

Lindbohm dropped the hand that he was felt for the Cretan's throat, when-there

Panayotato parley with the girl, else. She is in his neath the dust and grime upon his face. "About Panayota?"

day, every word of it. I-I-, she'll under- Turks were leaping like imps. Curtis Turkish blood in me. My grandfather be faithful, honest wives. It would make too the faithful, honest wives. It would make too the faithful, honest wives are will you? Give him one for me, will you? twitching. He was gazing at a great heap lent for so long a time that an Italian they were trying to fly. Something like stay back. by, a dozen more followed as rapidly as the a familiar voice, but he did not stop. Lindof a bunch of firecrackers. It ceased, and further. He tried to speak several times, Lindbohm, bent low, was running toward the blockhouse. He had not got more than managed to gasp; ten yards away before the others were darting after him. "Oh, d-n his orders!" muttered Curtis and scrambling to his feet he ran so rapidly "We must just take our chances," said forward that he passed two or three of the hands, that he had extended pleadingly, Lindbohm. "How far is it from here to Italians, and had nearly reached Lindbohm's side. He heard a sound as though the man behind him had stepped on a buildle of dry twigs. Turning, he saw the poor fellow lying upon his side, bent like a bow. He was clutching the calf of his left leg with both hands and grinning. His shin had been shattered by a ball. Somebody fell upon Curtis and hore him to earth, and imme-"The fort is let me see-between 200 diately there was a crash and rattle of rifles behind and all around him. The man at his There was a puff of smoke from a window side took deliberate aim at somebody and of the square, gray building, followed a fired. Curtis followed his example and shot harem, and all for you, and I get nothing above their heads. Curtis lay down again, ngain. Curtis kept his eye on Lindbohm this time and pitched forward upon his face panion. "Make me sick after being in when he saw the Swede do likewise. They South Africa. If that had been a Boer, ran but a short distance each time, but the low, he would have hit you. But these third spurt brought them half way to the Turks cannot shoot. So we will make a destination. Lindbohm now kept straight We will have our best shots crawl on, stopping every moment to aim and fire, in close and fire on the doors and win- The others followed his example and they A Most Remarkable Remedy That | dows, Then I take a detachment and run | were able thus to keep advancing, and none in. When the Turks appear we drop the less to maintain quite a fust lade against down and our men fire another volley. the doors and windows of the Turkish Then we jump up and make another dash stronghold. They were still ten or twelve rod; away when a white flag appeared on the roof. Lindbolm turned and motioned to To All Who Write.

> 'Parati, signor! seized Curtis by the hand.

on a rocky eminence that commanded the hin companions, who gathered about him when the lady of the house entered.

They walked fearlessly through the open "John," she said with a susply They walked fearlessly through the open door into the front room of a square stone glance toward the plumber, "remove the building. A thin-faced, gray-headed officer smoke bending from their funnels and Twenty Turks in razged uniforms were hudin a faded fex, came forward to meet them at once dled together in a corner. The place was dim and sulphurous with smoke.

> unbuckling his sword. "To me, monsieur," replied Lindbohm bringing his beels together with a "click" and saluting with great dignity.

therefore, with perfect confidence, turn fail to meet the ideal." these men over to you as prisoners of war." "They shall give up their arms and suffer asked Miss Frocks. no harm. Monsieur will do me the honor of retaining his sword "

The remaining Cretans were now come up solved by the professor of mathematics." and may of them had crowded into the room. Lindhohm ordered them out and put two stout fellows at the door. "Now, monsieur, if you will kindly tell Sweet, fragrant, mild, but effective Casyour men to give up their guns."

embrace which now tightened upon him, holding and the color faded out from be- was a great crunching and trembling sound, and in the air, that had suddenly turned milky and pungent, and yellow with "Tell her I meant what I said to her that a lightning burst of sun. Cretans and stand. And say, Lindbohm, if Kostakes stood for a moment in stupid wonder, his has insulted her, let daylight through him, mouth open, his hands still convulsively Lindbohm made no reply, but still rest- of debris and a triangle of wall with one ing upon his elbow, he slid his face down ragged side. Men were scrambling over into his great soft hand and remained si- the rubbish, working their arms as though called impatiently from a little distance. | an electric shock-it was fear-smote the American, and his stomach swooped as Then he looked up suddenly and again when one goes down in a swing. He leaped among the fleers and gained the open. "You are not going," he said sternly. "I Without looking to see where he was goam in command here and I order you to ing. he struck out instinctively for the hills. Once or twice he fell down, but was Ere the American had a chance to reply on his feet again in an instant. As he ran half a dozen guns roared from a covert near his fear grew. Someone shouted to him, sound of a boy trailing a stick along a picker | bohm seized him firmly by the arm and fence, and then for a full moment the firing held him. Curtis struggled for a moment continued as capriciously as the explosions and then he felt weak. He could run no but was entirely out of breath. At last he

"What? What? What?"

The Swede was standing on a little eminence, with one hand in his pocket, hair, face and clothing were dusted miller white with powdered lime. He was gazing toward the sea and there was the ghost of a smile in his child-like blue eyes.

"Six-inch shell," be replied. Curtis looked. There was a spurt of flame from one of the toy ships in the duck pond, followed by a muffled detonation, and a sound like the wind sometimes makes at sea. An explosion threw up a great cloud of dust about thirty yards beyond the blockhouse or what remained of it.

"French!" said Lindbohm Another flash, again the sound of the wind, again the explosion-this time about twenty yards short. German, I think. They lowered too much, because the others fired high." The third shell from yet another ship tipped away the white flag that was still standing on the corner of the building. 'English' That's great work!" bohm's interest was entirely professional and disinterested.

(To be Continued.)

One to the Plumber. A plumber was sent for to the house of dining room and was beginning his work, "John," she said, with a suspicious silver from the sideboard and lock it up

But the man of lead was in no wise disconcerted. "Tom," he said to his apprentice, who accompanied him, "take my "To whom have I the bonor of surrender- watch and chain and these coppers home ing?" asked the Turkish officer in French, to my missus at once. There seems to be dishonest people about this house."

Wrong Professor.

Chicago News: "Prof. Sumner of Yale. I surrender to save bloodshed." said the remarked Miss Friable, "declares that 90 Turk. "I see that you are not a Cretan, and per cent of the marriages that take place "What is Mr. Sumner professor of?"

"Ethnology, I believe. Why do you ask?" "Problems in percentage should be

Not a Violent Purge.

The day of the connon-ball pill is past. carets Candy Cathartic take their place The officer said a few words to his little All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c.

LUCKY WHIMS IN MINING LIFE

Taking a Day Off

Incidents that Made Fortunes for Some and Lost Others a Stake -Chance Investments Panned Out Well.

Aynopsis of Preceding Chapters.

Aynopsis of Preceding Chapters.

Aynopsis of Preceding Chapters.

Aynopsis of Preceding Chapters.

With you are in my power, and I can do tith you are in my power, and I can do tith you what I please? No cursed for the Greeco-Turkish war, which a flith preceding the doesn't get a party of the control to Crete. The little of the control to the control tenant. Indepthin, a solidity of fortuna, as the doesn't get to the control as in little can be controlled to the control to the control to the controlled to the cont sat down and talked. He could hardly understand how it was that I had been engaged in trying to learn an honest living by mining, but accepted my explanation that it was merely an experiment. He asked me what luck I had had and I very frankly told him-as I thought it the safest thing to do-that I had cleaned up $3,000 which I then had with me in a buckskin bag. I wanted to get away from the fellow and yet I hated to start for fear that he would shoot me in the back, but finally I started and walked on down the trail with a queer feeling in my spinal column and expecting to hear a revolver shot at any instant. But I got away all right; my newly found acquaintance had a proper respect for the secret sign of his profession.

Hesitated and Lost.

"I was out on a prospecting tour in Montana," remarked another, "riding a very good horse. I came to two men who had sunk a prospect hole a few feet and one of them bantered me for a tradetheir claim for my horse. I asked them how the claim panned out and they said they didn't know yet. Then one of them took a pan of dirt out of the bottom of the hole and walked down to the creek and washed out the pan, showing considerable color. Then he renewed his urging me to make the trade and I told him that I would like first to wash out a pan for myself, which I did with results so grati fying that the two men emphatically declared the trade off, one of them adding 'Stranger, the price of this here mine has jumped up to $5,000."

"Up at Dawson my partner and I owned a claim which was not particularly promising," observed a man with a cordurey suit, "and as we did not get along very well together I sold out to him for considerably less than I had put in in money and labor. We had been working at the upper end of the claim, where he continued to work, but let a lay to another began operations on the lower end, and it was not long until he took out enough gold to make my former partner's share an even $100,000.

Fortune Forced on Him. "You may all have heard of the experience of one of the fortunate ones of Daw son." said another member of the party, "but I'll tell it just the same. This man, Swede, was in Dawson with $800 in his pocket and fell into the clutches of some fellows who proposed to get hold of that cash. They owned a claim which they considered absolutely worthless, which claim they made over in proper legal form to the Swede (after having filled him full of liquor), taking his $800 in payment therefor. When he came to his senses he begged and prayed for a trade back, but to no effect. Then he went to work on the claim and is now one of the solid men of the Klondike. He employs a good many miners, pays the top wages and when he goes in to Dawson occasionally hands to the fellows who undertook to fleece him a neat amount of gold dust as a slight token of his appreciation of the service they rendered him. 'A friend of mine," remarked another, "sold a claim for a modest sum and was looking about for a chance to buy another. He came to one where a father and son were at work. They had gone in the season before, had done a large amount of ditching, had made their sluice boxes and had planned for getting down to hard work when the next season opened. My friend found them throwing dirt in their sluices. at which they had been engaged for a few days, but without cleaning up. They said they would sell and thought that $2,500 would pay them for their prospect, for the labor thus far performed and for material used. This price my friend considered rather high and he left them and went on to another camp, where he stayed all night. Thinking over the proposition during the night he concluded to risk it and in the morning he went back, paid the $3,500 and took possession. That day he made a clean-up of the work done by the former owners and took out $1,100. He bired two men to help him and in two days more took out $2,300, which amounts practically paid for the mine. In another case knew of a mine being abandoned as worth less by the owner and another man taking $80,000 out of it afterward."

Kodol a wealthy stock broker to execute some repairs. He was taken by the butler into the dining from and was beginning by work Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion. Price 50c, and $1. Large size contains 214 times mail size. Book all about dyspepsla mailed free Prepared by E. C. De'VIT & CO., Chicago

Shapely

Married Women Friest also obsides MOTHER'S the seminative of form. Mother's Private also obsides MOTHER'S the seminative of form. Mother's Private also obsides the sympetry of form. Mornews Fries in also obvides all the danger of child-darth, and varries the expectant mother safety through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest the sing, and thousands gratefully tell of the great good it has done from Sold by all dringsets at $1 on per bottle that the book telling all about this great remedy, will be sent free to any address by Tra Bradvikle Regulation Company.

Two of the Best Rooms

IN THE CONTINENTAL BLOCK Fifteenth and Douglas streets, for rent-Best location in the City for a Physician or Dentist-will remodel to

OMAKA LOAN AND TRUST CO.,

16th and Douglas Streets.

CONAN DOYLE STORIES FREE.

The Great Sherlock Holmes Detective Stories Gratis to Every Reader of This Paper.

The greatest detective stories ever written in any land or language are those by A. Conan Dovie, the distinguished author, in which his celebrated character, Sherlock Holmes, is the central figure. These stories abound in mystery startling surprises, dramatic situations and intensely exciting plots. They are celebrated wherever the English language is spoken and have been translated into a number of foreign tongues. We have collected seme of the most popular of the Sherlock Holmes detective stories, by A. Conan Dovie, and now offer them to our subscribers.

The Sherlock Holmes detective stories will be sent to you absolutely graits if you will send us at once & cents for a six months trial subscription to "New York Home Life," the greatest of American magazines. This wonderful collection of stories will be sent free because we want every reader of this paper to be familiar with "New York Home Life," which is the most beautifully illustrated periodical in the world. More than 20 exclusive features every month. Crisp, startling stories of New York life. A new subscriber writes us: "I consider the New York Home Life Magazine the most interesting and beautiful of any 10-cent or 25-cent publication in America.

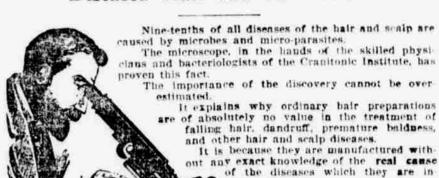

Send your 25 cents in stamps or silver today, as the edition of this collection of Sherlock Holmes stories is limited.

Mention this paper when writing. This Paper.

NEW YORK LIFE, 1293 & 1295 Broadway, New York.

IS YOUR HAIR DEAD?

What the Microscope Reveals Regarding Diseased Hair and Its Follicle.

tended to cure. We know that diseases of the hair and scalp are caused by microbes and parasites. The cause being microbic or parasitie, it logically follows that a cure can only be effected by a scientific microbicide-a specific that will destroy the microbe. This Cranitonic Hair Food and Scalp Soap will do. Your hair receives its nourishment from minute blood vessels which end in a long sheath in which the hair grows. This sheath is the home of the microbe, the delicate lining of which it soon destroys. In time the hair root is affected, becomes shriveled up and the hair falls out. If the ravages of the microbe are not arrested, baldness soon follows. Cranitonic Hair Food cures diseases of the hair and scalp because it destroys the cause which produces them. It does more—it feeds the weakened

Split hair, harsh hair, lustreless hair,

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff

MICROBES HAVE

The Cranitonic Treatment was formulated for the exact purpose of preventing and curing these diseases.

and keeps it permanently clean and healthy. Itching and irritation of the head are instantly relieved and post tively cured.

Unlike ordinary hair preparations Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food contains no oil, grease or dangerous min ernl ingredients. It is not sticky and will not clog the scalp or stain the clothing. It is perfectly harmless, clear as crystal, sparkling as champagne, delightful to use and most exhilarating in its effects upon the

To convince every reader of this paper that Cranitonic Hair Food and Scalp Soap will stop falling hair, make hair grow, cure dandruff and itching scalp, and that they are the only bair preparations fit to put on the human head, we will send by mail, prepaid, to all who will send name and address to CRANITONIC HAIR FOOL 140 TEMPLE COURT, NEW YORK CITY, a bottle of Cranitoni Hair Food and a sample cake of Shampoo Scalp Soap.

RETAIL DRUG TRADE SUPPLIED BY RICHARDSON DRUG CO., GMANA.