Foreign Buying and Unfavorable Weather Cause Wheat to Advance.

CORN STARTS HIGH BUT BREAKS ON RAIN

Oats Open Active and Lower, Break and Recover Before the Close—There is a Narrow Range in the Provision Market.

OMAHA WHOLESALE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Wheat advanced today under the influence of unfavorable harvest prospects in Russia, Canada and September closing $1.55 higher. Corn and oats closed lower. Provisions were closed with little change.

Trade in wheat most of the season was at a moderate rate, but has increased since the summer, especially near the end. Liverpool showed only a slight advance and an early decline followed. Near the end of the season, the market opened rather easy in consequence of a reaction to the low level at 22 3/4 cents.

Corn started higher, but broke at once on the rains in the morning. Shorts bought at the opening, while elevator prices fell in the morning. Trade was quiet all day. Receipts were 157 cars, September sold at 87 1/2 cents, closing $1.02 lower at 86 1/2 cents.
