

GROWTH IN SPIRITUAL POWER

Christ's Disciples Develop Strength by Measuring Strength with Opponents.

STRIFF DISCLOSES MAN'S LIMITATIONS

Christians Are Ever Conscious of the Presence of a Superhuman Influence Which Guards and Directs Them.

The pulpit of Knox Presbyterian church was supplied yesterday morning by Rev. E. B. Linn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Albia, Ia., who preached an excellent sermon on the influence of the holy spirit.

"By measuring our religious convictions with opponents we grow in spiritual power, Abraham Lincoln would never have been the great orator he was had it not been for Stephen A. Douglas."

"The example of Lincoln should be followed by Christ's disciples. By measuring their strength with the army of the evil one they can discover their weaknesses and come to an appreciation of their own power."

CHRIST THE GREAT EXEMPLAR

He is the Way in Whatever is Worth Having in the World.

At Lowe Avenue Presbyterian church Dr. Stephen Phelps preached Sunday morning his theme being, "Jesus, the Way," and his text John xiv. 6.

"Christ is the way to success in life. The apostles were charged with the conversion of the world, but could only meet success through Him. We must make our lives successful. We cannot afford to waste one moment. We cannot despise the means placed at our command, but we must depend upon Jesus to sanctify the means and to crown our efforts with success."

REDEMPTION OF GOD'S PEOPLE

Christians Should Rejoice That He Has Visited His Followers.

Rev. Canon Talbot preached Sunday morning in Trinity cathedral from St. Paul iii. 16: "God was manifest in the flesh." "For nearly 2,000 years," said he, "the Christian church has rejoiced in the cheering truth that God has visited and redeemed His people; that the long, deep silence and darkness which fell upon the world with the blighting curse of transgression has been broken and dispelled that God in very form and proper person has visited the desolated scenes of creation to restore and recuperate the fallen and lost."

"St. Paul declares in the text the great mystery of our religion: 'God was manifest in the flesh.' Christ is called the Lord of glory, the Maker of all things, the brightness of His Father's glory and the express image of His person. God be blessed forever."

"To every reflective mind it is an astonishing thought that the great, unapproachable God, infinite in power and wisdom and glory, who inhabits all space and the heaven of heavens, should be found in the likeness of man, the lowly object of His own creation. Under this wondrous relation the mind is burdened to the uttermost, the reason is dismayed and faith struggles long and patiently."

"It is not at all strange that on this question, amidst the spiritual darkness which prevailed, thousands of men are dis-

SOUTHERN REPORTS DUE TO JEALOUSY

Armstrong Affirms His Assertions and Submits Some Reports Against the Stories in Dixie.

Rev. Dr. Johnson of St. Louis occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday forenoon and preached a sermon on "Paul a Prisoner," taking his text from Ephesians xi. 1.

"The preacher said that Paul was a prisoner of Jesus Christ; that is, Christ owned him. Then he was a prisoner of the Gentiles for their sake and it was the doctrine of Christianity that he preached that provoked the assault upon his person. 'Paul was no common felon,' said Dr. Johnson, 'and therefore we are drawn toward him as a brother, so that the chains of iron which bound him are in our sight an honor and a beauty even as a glorious chain of pearls.'"

"Continuing the preacher said that it was no new experience to Paul to be thrown into prison. From his own statements he had spent considerable time behind prison bars and although history does not go into details it is evident that he spent more years in a cell than any of the other apostles. It is inferred that six or seven years of his life had been passed behind bars of iron."

"The trouble," said the preacher, "first commenced in Jerusalem four years before the epistles were written. While preaching Christ's glorious doctrine in the temple a cry was raised and the people rushed toward him and dragged him from the pulpit with the intention of killing him. This might have been accomplished had not a chief captain of the Romans rushed in and rescued him. Even after Paul had been placed in jail, watched by a Roman guard, the wrath of the people was not appeased and over forty determined men took an oath not to sleep or eat until Paul had been destroyed. The Roman captain, however, was equally determined and in the night time he took his prisoner to the Roman governor at Caesarea, thus saving him from the hands of the mob. It required 42 Roman soldiers to give Paul safe conduct to Judea."

Rev. Johnson said that Paul lay in prison in Judea for two years before he started on his long journey to Rome. The hardships on the trip were mentioned and the minister called attention to a history of these hardships, as given in the closing chapter of Acts. Mention was made of the true Christian spirit with which Paul bore all his hardships. The apostle lay in prison in Rome for two years before he was given a hearing before the dissolute Nero. Finally the imprisonment was ended by Paul being discharged from custody. Afterward Paul was rearrested and put to death as a martyr in the cause of the Lord.

From War to Peace.

Two letters emanating from the Civil War are to be melted and cast into a statue representing peace, to be placed in the capitol. What a contrast between the two conditions—as great in a way as the change Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will bring about in the health of any one who uses it.

Dies of Heart Disease.

Nels Johnson, a restaurateur, whose home is in California, died between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, died of heart disease at an early hour in the morning. While talking with his wife in the hall he fell heavily to the floor and passed away before a stranger could be summoned. He leaves a large family.

Just a Case of Jealousy.

Among the documents submitted by "Dean" Farr is what purports to be the minutes of a meeting of the board of trustees of the "Nashville college," July 31, 1906. It seems the meeting was held to take action on a set of resolutions previously adopted by the Chattanooga Bar association, in which Farr was denounced. Here are extracts from the "minutes":

"The cause of the whole matter rests in the simple fact that Prof. Farr is a northern man and that the entire matter arose of jealousy and the whole matter in fact is without foundation. It appears to this board that said action was taken by said association after having been invited to come and visit the school, hear the lectures and recitations, take notes, etc., and to make a report of same. Therefore be it Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that we have no respect for such action and that we denounce the same and its instigators as common liars."

Mrs. Armstrong, by the way, is "Dean" Farr's foster mother and is very devoted to him. She appears as the secretary of the faculty for the Omaha Law school, as she did for the two colleges in Tennessee.

The last of the budget of documents submitted by Farr purports to be the report of a "representative" detailed by the Nashville college to investigate the antecedents of its dean. It comprises four pages of type-written foolscap, without signature save that of Mrs. L. Armstrong, who seems also to have been the "representative." It is needless to say that the "report" reeks with fulsome praise of "Dean" Farr. Here is a sample paragraph, which incidentally discloses the purpose:

"I have known Mr. Farr, the dean of the school, from childhood, having promised his mother to care for him before she died and a better or more honorable upright young man I have never known. But the great swelling words of his jealous enemies would have a stranger not knowing these braggarts to suppose that his immediate

This is the article which kills germs. It DOES NOT come in "white powder" but in a gaseous form which is mixed with water, and this forms the "Formalin" (or 40 per cent Solution Formaldehyde of Commerce). For-mal-de-hyde inhalers are the invention of Dr. Geo. Leisinger, and are a unique device whereby Formaldehyde is inhaled in convenient form for nasal inhalation by means of a neat Aluminum Inhaler. Formaldehyde prevents FERMENTATION. It also kills the germs of Catarrh and Consumption, which lurk in the air and lodge themselves in the nose and throat.

COUNTRY CLUB JOINS KNIGHTS

Game of Golf Will Be Suspended for Tonight and Golfers Will Meet King Ak-Sar-Ben.

Tonight will be Country club night at the Ak-Sar-Ben. Over twenty-five of the golfers will give up their regular Monday meeting so as to be able to take in the mysteries of the good King Ak-Sar-Ben VI. The hustling committee reports over fifty new members for the week's work and as there are several excursions from Iowa and Nebraska the number of new knights will probably reach 200. There are now a total of 752 members and every one of these should turn out and see that the Monday night class set all that is coming to them. There are only four more initiation nights and every citizen of Omaha should see to it that his name is enrolled and that his $10 has been paid to Sampson, the second. Editors' night will be September 3 and there is a probability of at least 500 editors being present. The Her Grand hotel has made a half rate to all editors for that date and the reception committee, consisting of local newspaper men and the county editors that are knights, will meet the visitors there and escort them to the castle. It might be well to suggest to the home manufacturers that a large number of booths have been reserved by eastern manufacturers for exhibiting their wares on the carnival grounds during the big week. This will certainly be a great opportunity for the home industry bureau of the Commercial club to do some effective advertising as there are sure to be 100,000 strangers in Omaha during the week.
