It were better for Omaha had the final game of the season not been played. The exhibition was farcical in the extreme and a big crowd of enthusiasts, in which members of the fair sex predominated, who had turned out to see the last game, were disappointed and disgusted with the burlesque which the Colts stacked up. After virtually cinching the game in the very first inning the locals later began to "play horse" and the tailenders won the contest with a score of 10 to 8.

It was too had that the closing game was attended by such a finale. The ex- Bristow, 2b cellent ball which the locals had been Gibson, p playing for the last few games warranted Hulen's hired men expected this would be the result, themselves, and in the first inning or two didn't half try to play ball. When they discovered however, that the bome team was vieing with them to see which could play the worse game they braced up and even though they did have an uphill battle and a big majority to overcome, they won in a walk.

Earned runs: Sloux City, 1: St. Joseph.

St. Two-base hits: Brashear, Glasscouk, Schrall. Sacrifice hits: Baer, Griffin, Berte, Cote (2), Hall. Stolen bases: Glasscock, Davis. Double plays; Niles to Brishear to Classcock, Hall to Bristow to Davis (2). Brased up and even though they did have an uphill battle and a big majority to overcome, they won in a walk. Three Chief Offenders.

It would be hard to bestow the leather medal, as it was almost a draw among three contestants for bench service, Wilson. Hoy and Newmeyer. There was a little excuse for the latter, because his support was mighty ragged, but he was culpable to a certain extent, for he pitched nowhere near the game he is capable of Hoy was as wild as a bat in his throwing to first base and Bill Wilson covered the initial bag about as capably as a 10-yearold school boy would have done it.

Right at the start-off the Colts lambasted "Youngy" Johnson for five hits and these. coupled with a base on balls and a muffed fly by Whitridge, netted five tallies. This, mind you, was in the first inning and it looked as though the game was won. Freeland stepped up in the second inning and lined out a home run and that made the score an even half dozen. The Pueblos got their first run in the fourth inning, when Rall, ss. Nagle, cf. old "Tacks" Parrott slammed out a home Rebramen, lb. run and he received as much of an ovation from the grandstand as though he had been the wearer of an uniform of gray.

The sixth inning was the Colts' Waterloo. Whitridge started the fireworks by lambasting a floater which Harry Newmeyer lobbed over the plate for a home run. Graham followed with a two-bagger, Dalrymple was passed to first and when Stanley Yerkes batted a nice, easy grounder down to Jimmy Hoy that young hopeful threw it clear out of sight over Bill Wilson's head and Graham and Dairymple scored, while Yerkes got to third base. Yerkes was put out at the home plate with Kelly's grounder to Newmeyer and Johnson made the second on Raymer's two-bagger. Another wild throw by Jimmy Hoy of Parrott's grounder | ba permitted Raymer to score. Whitridge retired the side on a fly to Freeland and it was high time, too, for the despised tailenders, who didn't look like they could best a team of farmhands, had tied the score with the six runs they had copped

How the Thing Ended. In the seventh Omaha again took the lead by one run, two-baggers by Toman and Lauson netting the seventh score, but in the eighth three successive errors by Billiam Wilson and a two-bagger piled up three more runs for the Montezumas. In the eighth Skel Roach's three-bagger and Newmeyer's single gave us another run, but then the run-getting ceased and the Pueblos trotted off with an unearned victory.

In point of attendance the season truly closed in a blaze of glory and the last closed in a blaze of glory and the last game clinched the argument that has been made all the season through that interest in the great national game in Omaha marks it as the banner base ball town in the Western league. Every game on the home grounds has been witnessed by excellent limiting began with the secret 8 to 1 in their favor. Two doubles, two singles and a base on balls scored four runs. With two out and one run needed to tie, McGunet run needed to tie, McGunet runs and stole third. Demont followed with a base on balls. On an attempted double steal McGunety was out at the plate on a close grounds has been witnessed by excellent grounds has been witnessed by excellent crowds and it is conjecture to estimate how much larger the crowds would have been had the team continued playing such ball as marked its efforts the early part of the season. Prohibition Management Insists That Denver is in Second Place.

DES MOINES, la., Sept. 4.—(Special Telegram)—The Des Moines management believes that today's victory over Denver, making three out of four in the last series with the alleged leaders, puts the home toam in first place and gives it the pennant. The matter will be carried before the league at the annual meeting. Today's game was a pitcher's battle in which Eyler was not in his usual form. Glendon on the other hand was almost invincible and until the ninth inning had only been hit safely five times, two of those being scratches. Two singles, a passed ball and an error gave Des Moines two in the first, a three-bagger, a single and a sacrifice made two in the third and three singles added one in the seventh. Denver got her only score in the last inning. Sullivan's base on balls and singles by Holland, Reilly and Preston netting two runs. Attendance, 2,000. Score: DES MOINES.
