Perfection in a candidate or platform is an ideal dream and infirmity in its creed and defects in its leadership will always characterize every party. Mr. Olney criticises the policy of the Mc-Kinley administration regarding the Philippines and thinks the country will soon avoided. It is a familiar fact, and one altogether too much in evidence, that an administrative officer filled with hatred and interest in national affairs and said that lipines and thinks the country will soon even more costly and menacing than the Philippine problem itself. At the close of Governor Roosevelt's speech the convention adjourned sine die.

I am not at all skilled in controversy, and have had no practice in dialectics, but I will indulge in a few words in the way of rejoinder to your criticism.

In the first place, then, no more serious disaster could overtake this country in this, you will agree with me; than the breaking down of the gold standard by that principle of money for which Mr. Bryan contends. In 1896, you are yourself quoted as saying "Ine mere apprehension of a possibility a substitution by Mr. Bryan's election and of the consequent placing of our country upon the silver hasis has already caused untoid millions of our securities to be thrown upon the market. Omaha Man on Committee.

SPRINGFIELD. O. Sept. 5.—R. S. Thompson of this city, chairman of the national reform party committee, received word yesterday evening from A. G. Eichelbarger of Baltimore, chairman of the national canvassing board, that the official count of the referendum vote was completed that night at Baltimore, resulting in the nomination of Hon. Seth Eliis of Ohio for president and Samuel E. Nicholson of Pennsylvania for vice president on the national union reform ticket. Ellis received 1.621 votes, Nicholson, 24, and all others, 28. Thirty states and territories participated in the balloting.

This is the largest number of people ever engaged in a nomination of a president. The committee was selected as follows: Chairman R. S. Thompson, Springfield, O. Vice chairman, J. M. Duulap, Franklin, Ind.; secretary, A. G. Eichelbarger, Baltimore; Jay G. Walt, Sturgis, Mich.; Sheridan Webster, St. Louis; Asa Taylor, Omaha; W. J. Seeley, Woost.r, O.

Not Willing to Retract. Since you have raised the question of further legislation, let us look a liftle further forward. If Mr. Bryan is elected president, it is of all things the most probable that the next house will have a democratic majority. But even admitting that congress, dating from March 4, 19el, will not be able to effect any change in our present linancial legislation, what we may fairly expect will be the effect of the confidence.

and at 10 o'clock in the morning the populists will meet in Minneapolis for the same purpose. There is no doubt that fusion will be effected, although some question will be effected, although some question exists as to the exact division of the officers on the state ticket.

cenator Fairbanks Addresses Great Audience at Indianapolis on the Issues of the Campaign.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 5.- The republican campaign in this city was opened tonight with a street demonstration and a monste meeting. Notwithstanding the intense heathe audience was intensely enthusiastic George G. Tanner of this city was the first speaker. He was a gold democrat in 1896 but he declared tonight for McKinley. Sen ator Charles A. Fairbanks delivered the ad dress of the evening. He said:

"We come before the people with no apology upon our lips, but with a luminous record of righteous deeds, with promise wrought into fulfillment. We are not ashamed of our old issues, nor afraid to frankly espouse our new ones.

"No one has shared more in the prosperity stimulated by the McKinley administration than the farmers of the United States. No one suffered more than they during the last administration. Their gain in the enhanced value of livestock and the staple crops in four years is more than $1,000,000,000. Add to this millions more in the increased value of wool, butter, eggs, fruits, vegetables, lands and other property and we shall gain some conception of the benefit of the present administration to the farmers of the country. The ranks of the employed have been increased by hundreds to Oct. 6th of thousands. Labor has had work. It has not been asking for bread at the hands of charity. It has been building homes, it has been educating children, it has been increasing the deposits in building and loan associations and in savings banks. Shall we reverse this gratifying condition? Shall we again increase the ranks of the unemployed? Shall work continue to seek labor, or shall we return to the days when labor was anxlously seeking work?"
