CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

however, that there are not as many mer-chanis coming in at the present time as there would be were it not for the fact that the big proportion of them are postponing their visit to this city until the Ak-Sar-len festivities shall be in full swing. R-tailers out through the country who have been seen say that trade at the present time is in excellent shape, and as farmers are how well fixed financially they see no reason why they should not have a very busy season.

ere how well fixed financially they see he reason why they should not have a very busy season.

There was not much change in market conditions during the past week. With a few exceptions, however, the tendency of prices is upward. This is particularly noticeable in dry goods and hardware. The fron and steel market has, of course, been in rather bad shape for some time past and prices went down at a rapid rate. Indications now are that the bottom has been reached and predictions are being made that higher prices will rule in the near future. If that is the case the tendency will be to strengthen the market on all lines which contain either of those products. Another favorable feature is the heavy demand that is anticipated for all classes of goods, which should be sufficient to keep mills and manufacturers busy for some time to come.

Groceries About Stendy.

There have been comparatively few market changes this week on the staple lines of groceries. Prices, however, are holding firm on nearty all lines and the market as a whole is in a most healthy condition. The demand, locally, is exceptionally heavy for this time of the year and a good gain over last year's reports are being made.

The sugar market is still attracting a in better share than most other points and jobbers say they can hadde an immense amount of business.

The coffee market is still very dull and weak. The advance on greens that was reported a week ago has been lost and eastern markets are very dull. It is probably true that the arrival of the rew cropen the market together with the language of the market together with the language continued hot weather, has had much to do with the falling off in trade, and the general opinion is that a great improvement will take place in the near future and prices advance.

The salmon market is very firm and it is reported that the supply of cheap stock is thout cleaned up. There is, however, planty of high grade stock at the present time. Present prices on Alaska salmon are fully in present prices on Alaska salmon are fully in present prices on Alaska salmon are fully in the latter part of the month or early in October. The demand from all sources is unusually heavy both at home and abroad. The English army is consuming large quantities, as they have adopted salmon as a regular ration.

There is no change to report in either eastern or California canned goods, though the market is firm on all lines. Cheese is also the same as it was a week ago. There is nothing to be said regarding the dried.

the market is firm on all lines. Cheese is also the same as it was a week ago. There is nothing to be said regarding the dried fruit situation except that the California Fruit Growers' association has announced its opening prices on prunes. The small its opening prices on prunes. The small sizes are pientiful and prices are comparatively low, but the large sizes are scarce and for that reason are held at good firm prices. The 40-20 size is quoted at 84c per pound, delivered at Omaha in carload lots, which is nearly 2c higher than the quotations ruling in 1820.

Better Feeling in Hardware.

Better Feeling in Hardware.

The hardware market is in considerably better shape than it has been for some time past. The downward course of prices has at last been stopped, and, while there has not been any advance as yet, the market is firmer and indications are that values are just at the turning point and the next move will be upward rather than downward. Iron and steel men are holding their goods at firmer prices and state that the demand has greatly increased within the last few days. Many dealers seem to figure that this is the low point and consequently are trying to buy in anticipation of future wants. That being the case indications are favorable for a good, active market for some time to come.

Locally the trade situation is very satisfactory. The demand is exceptionally heavy for this season of the year and fall business is now starting out in nice shape. In a short time fall business will be in full swing and the way things look now it will be heavier than ever before.

Dry Goods Market Firm.

There has not been much if any change in the dry goods market since last report. Hosiery, underwear and in fact all lines of cotton goods are being held at very firm prices. Trade is gradually increasing and manufacturers are all looking for an immense trade as soon as the market becomes settled. Trade at this point has not been very

Trade at this point has not been very heavy for the last week or more. Not as many merchants are coming on the market as were expected, but that fact is causing no alarm, as many of them no doubt are waiting for the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities before coming to this city. Everything points to a good trade the latter part of this month and preparations are being made for the heaviest fail and winter trade that has Good Demand for Shoes.

Boot and shoe men report a good demand for fall and winter shoes and say that wherever a man can be found who has not placed his order the lateness of the season makes him fairly easy to land. A nice trade is anticipated from merchants who will be in Omaha during this month, as many have put off buying until they arrive here and have an opportunity to inspect the good firm prices. The hide market is holding just about steady and jobbers do not seem to know in which direction the next move will be. Fruit and Produce.

There is also a good trade in rubber There is also a good trade in rubber goods owing to a large extent to the fact that there is to be an advance of 5 per cent next month. Dealers who have hesitated about buying for fear of lower prices are now rushing in their orders before the advance goes into effect. That applies more particularly to footwear, but rubber clothing is also being held at good, firm prices.

There has been a good trade this week in fruit and also in vegetables. Usah and Colorado fruit is now being offered on the market at prices not materially different from those ranging on California fruit. Over sixty cars of fruit were handled on this market last month, which were the heaviest receipts for a single month on record. cord. PIERRE, S. D., Sept. 8 .- (Special.) - In the Sully county circuit court this week the question of roads across the old Fort Sully military reservation took up a large part of the time of the court. The contentions of the settlers in that part of the state were that the old-traveled roads across the reser- 6 vation were legal roads from having been used as such for twenty-one years. Further 45 the commissioners of Sully county had de- or clared all section lines in that county to be legal roads. This brought up a protest on the part of the state, which has title to practically the whole tract, and on the part of those who hold leases to large parts of the tract. HOGS—The supply of hogs was not very heavy today for even a Saturday, but packers wanted the hogs, and, as a result, they had to pay more money for them than they did yesterday, although Chicago reported a weak close. The market here was all the way from steady to 5c higher. The light and light mixed hogs were 2½6 5c higher and $5.27½ was paid for a prime lead of 195-pound hogs. The bulk of that class of hogs sold from $5.12½ to $5.15. The heavier butcher weights sold around $5.07½ as 10, and the heavier and coarser stuff from $5.07½ down. The coarse heavy hogs in some cases were no more than steady, but if they were heavy, but of good quality, they brought 2½c, and occasionally 5c higher than yesterday's market. The general market was 2½c higher and active, everything being cleared up early in the morning.
