ABERDEEN, S. D., Sept. 13 .- Governor Theodore Roosevelt closed a long day of speech-making with an address in this city tonight. The exercises were preceeded by a long torchlight procession and an elaborate display of fireworks. The meeting was held in the open air and the governor was listened to by a large and enthusiastic audience. Governor Roosevelt confined his address to the questions of labor and the trusts. He made frequent references to Richard Croker and Augustus Van Wyck as heavy stockholders in the alleged New York ice trust. He closed with the following words:

with the following words: The American who tries to incite one man against another, whether he he west-erner or easterner, whether he he a wage-worker or a capitalist, or whatever form it takes, the man that does that is doing a thing that is calculated to inflet an ir-reparable wrong on the country. We need not the goopel of the knave in our affalts, but we need the gospel of brotherhood and honesty. We need honesty to protect the rights of every man and we should en-deavor to wrong no mant. In 1822 when the wageworker set out to down the cap-italist he did down him. They got him down, but they were under him when he was down. Now this year we ask you to judge the future by the past. You have had four years of the presidency of Mo-Kinley and you are going to have four years more. I will say no more. General Curtis Guid, Jr., of Boston closed the speaking. He read a copy of Aguinaldo's order for the massacre of the white in Manila and made an appeal for the American soldier.

Hazleton Collieries at Work

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 13 -Some of the collieries here were short-handed today, but all were in operation. A number of memhers of the union had remained at home today, believing that the strike order was to take effect at once. No one is in posttion to say just how many will quit when the time comes. The members of the United Mine Workers' organization will strike to a man, but there are many miners who have refrained from joining the union and their action on the strike question is problematical. Undoubtedly, many of them will strike. Organizers are working among them day and night, with more or less success

The strike will seriously affect business campaign against the operators but owing themselves.
