THIEVES FORCE THE SAFE

Burglars Do a Quiet Bit of Work on Saturday Night.

VOGELER & SON'S STRONG BOX IS RIFLED

Small Amount of Money Secured, but No Goods Taken—Minor Robberies Numerous for the Night.

Thieves broke into the harness store of Vogeler & Son at 137 South Main street Saturday night and forced the safe. The strong box contained about $25 in cash and a number of valuable papers was taken from the safe. Among the papers stolen were mortgages, notes, leases and valuable private documents. The thieves secured an entrance to the store through a cellar window in the rear. Some of the goods in the store were disturbed. The safe was pried open. The door of the compartment containing the strong box was also pried open. The thieves must have worked in the dark, as the patrolman on the South Main street beat says there was no light in the store at any time during the night. Footprints indicate that there were two in the job. Thieves broke into a new house in course of construction at the corner of Twelfth street and Fourth avenue Saturday night and stole a quantity of carpentering tools belonging to J. W. Johnson, 2009 Fourth avenue, the owner of the house. They also stole a number of mortice locks and hinges belonging to Contractor Ward. The barn of Elder Dodson at 216 Harrison street was also broken into Saturday night, the thieves getting away with two colts and half of a new double set of harness. The family of M. Goodwin, living at the corner of Harrison street and Washington avenue, left a line full of clothes out in the yard Saturday night. Thieves took the clothes and even the line, the latter presumably to tie up the clothes with.

General Dodge and the Bank. General G. M. Dodge denies that his visit here had any connection with the closing of Officer & Pusey's bank. He says that as far as he knows there is no foundation for the report that the bank was to resume business with Pusey in charge. There is no truth in the report, he says, that he intended to finance the bank in case that he was partner with his son-in-law, Frank Pusey, as partner with his father, W. H. M. Pusey.

W. H. M. Pusey is now in Chicago, where he is recovering from an illness which he contracted while in the city. He is expected to return here in a few days. It is reported that he is already feeling better.

Beet Wise Revisited. Bert Wise, driver of a mail wagon, was severely bruised in a runaway accident yesterday afternoon and had to be removed to his home at Eleventh street and Fourth avenue in the patrol wagon. The horse took fright at a train near the Rock Island depot and dashed north on Main street. Near the Burlington depot it collided with a telegraph pole, checking its career and throwing Wise heavily out on the pavement. He was knocked senseless for a few minutes. The wagon was broken into splinters, but the horse escaped injury.

Domestic soap sells on its merits. Careless Shooting. An unknown person fired a shot through the window of the house occupied by Henry Miley at 1319 Avenue J shortly after midnight Friday. Several dishes on the window sill were broken, but no other damage was done. Early in the evening while only the women of the household were at home, a stranger called at the house and demanded money. On being refused he tried to force an entrance, but was frightened away.

Twelve Candidates Line Up for the One Congressional Nomination.

JUDGE CONNOR SEEMS TO BE IN LEAD

Crawford County Man Has Inside Track at the Start, but Some Are Certain of Winning the Prize Yet.

DES MOINES, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The contest for the republican nomination for congress in the Tenth congressional district of Iowa will come to a close on Tuesday, when the district convention will be held in Port Dodge. The list of candidates is as follows: Judge J. B. Connor, Crawford county; Harvey Ingham, Kosciusko county; B. I. Sallinger, Carroll county; Senator Warren Garst, Carroll county; J. L. Kanarr, Hamilton county; J. Chase Hamilton county; M. E. De Wolf, Pocahontas county; M. L. Brown, Palo Alto county; U. W. Crim, Emmet county; Eugene Seeger, Winnebago county; John E. Wickham, Hancock county; John Stevens, Boone county. Judge Connor, who lives at Denison and was for years a partner of Governor Shaw before the latter was elected, seems to be in the lead now, with Harvey Ingham, the editor of the Algonia, Upper Des Moines, a close second. Sallinger and Garst are well up to the front and, in fact, there is not a telling word during the contest. The state is much interested, as the man who is to be named is to fill Dolliver's shoes and no small man can do that. A significant feature of the big Roosevelt meeting to be held in Waterloo on October 10 will be the election of three delegates to the national convention. The citizens of Iowa who voted for John C. Fremont in 1856, the men who might be called the fathers of the republican party, have already enrolled 125 Fremonters. General R. G. S. Perry secretary. Additional members are sending in their names every day from all sections of the state. Dolliver's Campaign Tour. Senator Dolliver was in the city last night on his way home to spend a day or two in rest. After a few more speeches in Iowa he goes west during the latter part of the campaign to join Roosevelt and party, remaining with the vice presidential candidate during his trip through Nebraska and Iowa. Senator Dolliver said that wherever he had been he had been greeted by large crowds and at every place where he spoke there had been from 2,000 to 3,000 present. He says that as far as he can see the conditions in Iowa are excellent and the people are waking up to the campaign in a manner that bodes well for the republican party. The inaugural convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was to have adjourned Saturday, but some little business had to be passed over and left until Monday. The grand lodge officers have ordered their special train for Tuesday morning. All the delegates remaining in Iowa will go to the convention on the special. The question of moving the headquarters of the brotherhood from Peoria to Des Moines was one thing left over till Monday, but the prospects of the move being made seem very gloomy. The delegates to the convention will go to the city on the move, but the grand lodge officers are against it. The location of the next convention will also be settled tomorrow, as will some twenty-five beneficiary claims.

Court Work at Onawa. ONAWA, Ia., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—District court adjourned today after a three weeks' session. A special session will be held in October to clean up the docket. The time of the court was largely taken up with divorce cases. In the Mapleton divorce case, Mrs. Stodden was granted a divorce and allowed $1,000 alimony, $50 of which goes to pay lawyers and costs. In the case of Handel against Handel, Mr. Handel was refused a divorce, the charges alleged not being sustained. Ellen Fuller was granted a divorce from Thurston Fuller and $1,000 alimony allowed. In the Heitman and O'Connor saloon cases a permanent injunction was granted against the buildings and they are likely to remain closed. In the Ute saloon injunction case a temporary injunction was granted against Reiter. The judge gave no decision in the noted Dutch case of M. Van der Vliet against Attorney Ellis, but took it under advisement and is expected to announce his decision in the course of ten days.

PORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 23.—(Special Telegram.)—In the presence of a large congregation and many visitors from north and central Iowa, the new Swedish Mission Episcopal church was dedicated today. Hill, graduate of Hanover (Ind.) college, who takes the principality of the normal department. The chair of Greek will be filled by Prof. Henry L. Gage, late of Wooster (O.) university. From the same institution comes Miss Elizabeth Reid, who will give the course of English and will also give some attention to instruction in German.
